

Students Disciplined By Senate Group

Four students—two men and two coeds—appeared before the Senate Sub-committee on Discipline earlier this week.

An incident in which all four were involved was discovered when a Campus Patrolman found a male student sleeping in the front seat of a parked car near the University sawmill early last Sunday morning. A coed was sleeping in the back seat, Daniel R. Leasure, assistant dean of men said.

After investigating the incident, the patrolman found that at about 10:30 Saturday night the two men had gone to the Hetzel Union, Leasure reported. At the HUB they met the two coeds and decided to go out for a ride, Leasure said.

Later they parked in the vicinity of the University sawmill. When they thought to check on the time, Leasure reported, they discovered it was too late for the women to return to their residence halls before the closing hours.

Since the women were afraid of the consequences of returning to the halls late, Leasure explained, they told the men that they did not want to return to the dorms. They asked the men to help them find a place to stay overnight so they would not get into trouble, he said.

Leasure said the group then drove around for about an hour and a half trying to decide what to do. Finally one of the coeds decided that she would spend the night in an apartment of a friend living in downtown State College. It was also decided by the group that the other coed would spend the night in the car.

Because the men felt that the latter coed should not stay alone in the car, one of them volunteered to stay in the car with her, Leasure said.

All of the students had been drinking in the car, he added.

5 Greek Groups Withdraw From IFC-Panhel Sing

Two sorority groups, two fraternity groups and one fraternity quartet have dropped out of the IFC-Panhel Sing, Sally Leight, co-chairman of the sing said last night.

Those sororities which have withdrawn from the sing are Alpha Chi Omega and Alpha Omicron Pi. Phi Delta Theta and Zeta Psi fraternities have decided not to participate in group competition and Sigma Alpha Epsilon withdrew from the quartet category.

Miss Leight said that the sing will still be held, despite the additional number of drop-outs.

The number of participants has now decreased to 17 sorority quartets, eight sorority groups, 13 fraternity quartets and 14 fraternity groups.

Preliminary judging will begin Oct. 22 and 23.

found in the car, a third term freshman in agricultural biological science, was suspended from the University, Leasure reported. This action was taken because the student was already on disciplinary probation for a similar offense, he said.

The other man, a junior also in agricultural biological science, was placed on disciplinary probation until the end of the winter term, 1962.

The dean of women's office yesterday would not release the penalties received by the coeds. Mrs. Hugh M. Davison, assistant dean of women, said that no policy has yet been formulated by the dean on the release of such information.

LA Council Endorses ICCB Library Proposal

The Liberal Arts Student Council voted last night to endorse the Inter-College Council Board proposal that Pattee Library remain open Saturday nights until 9 and open Sunday at 1 p.m.

In other business the council decided to investigate the possibilities for coordination of council projects with student interests through contact in the residence areas.

The Levanthan, the council newspaper, was published yesterday and is now available in residence halls and at the Hetzel Union desk.

Foreign Service Agent To Hold Talks Today

John Simms, a member of the United States Foreign Service, is on campus to discuss opportunities in the foreign service with students from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. today in 212 Hetzel Union.

All students who are interested in the foreign service are urged to attend, Elton Atwater, professor of political science, said yesterday.

Atwater also reminded students who are interested in the foreign service examinations to be given in December, to pick up applications either from Simms or in 129 Sparks. The applications must be returned by Oct. 23.
