Gator Bowl Official Sees Lions Win

by the loss of five regulars and two reserves who missed the game because of injuries, could mount a serious scoring threat only once during the entire game.

It came midway in the first half when Junior Powell fumbled a punt on the Syracuse 47 and Bob Stem recovered for the Orange.

Sophomore quarterback Walt Sofsian brought Syracuse to State's six-yard line in six plays, but after three cracks at the Lion line, two by Ernie Davis and one by John Charette, the ball was still one-yard short.

Davis tried the right side of the line on fourth down but a great defensive play by Bill Saul and Al Gursky stopped him inches short.

The victory was State's first over Syracuse in four years and marked Rip Engle's 100th coaching victory.

"This win really felt great," Rip said after the game. "After all, for a man who wanted to be a bridge builder, 100 wins is an awful lot to wish for."

When asked about his next 100, he said, "Right now I'll be happy if it's only 105." State has five games remaining on the schedule.

Olsen said that both State and Syracuse will be watched by the Gator Bowl in the coming weeks.

"I thought Penn State moved the ball very well and I was also impressed with your defense, especially your defensive ends," he said.

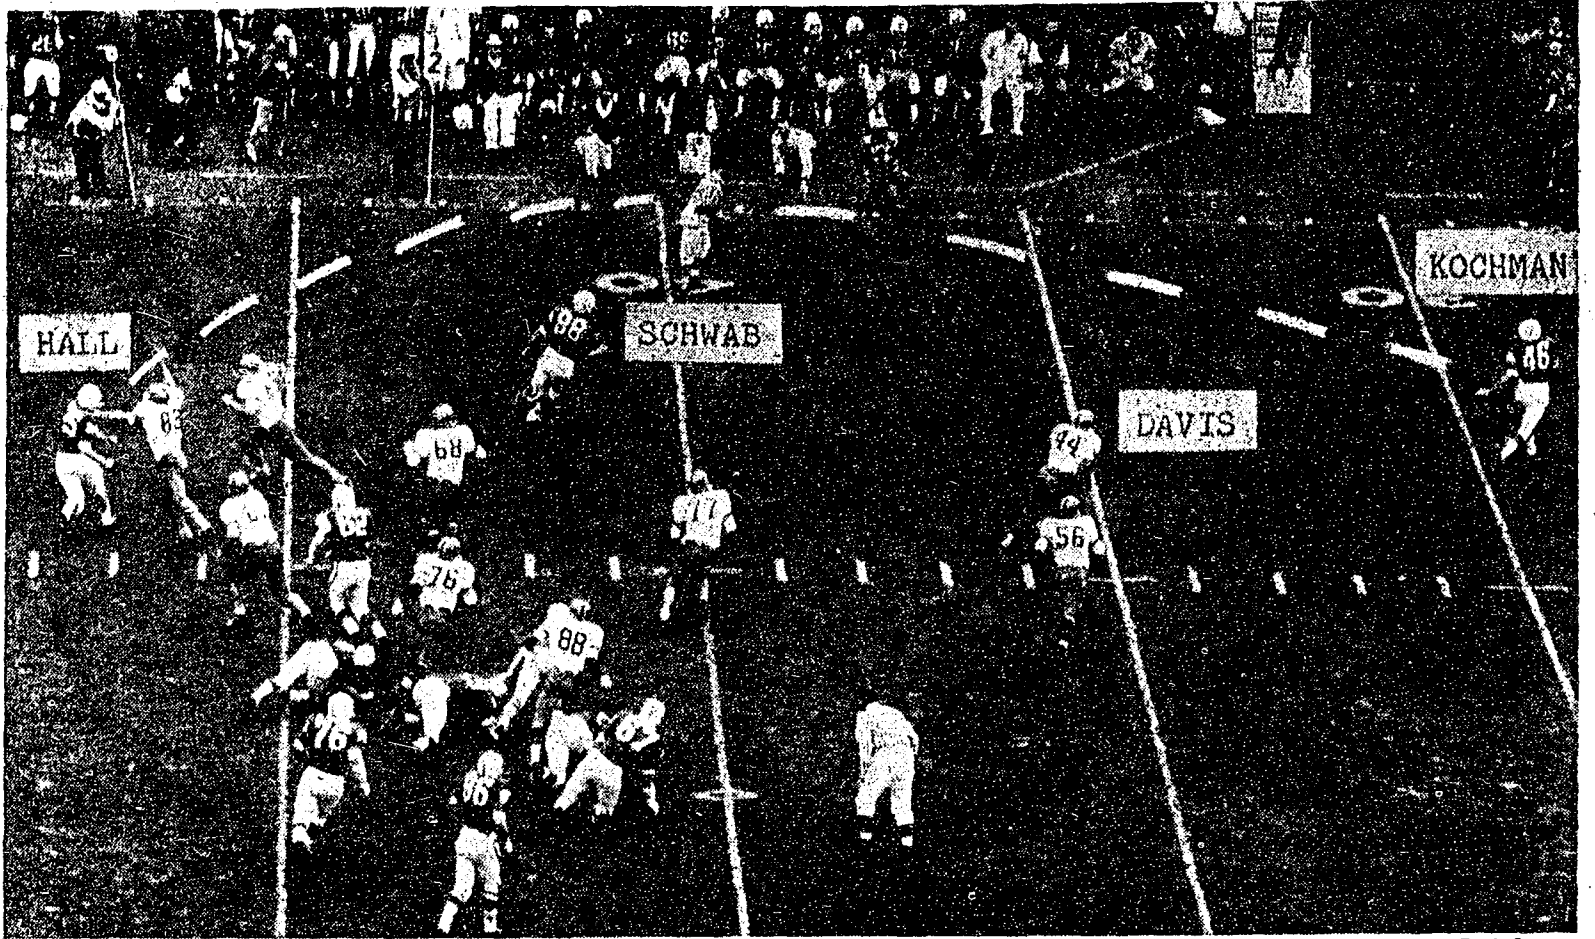

Olsen said that he will scout the Lions at Maryland Nov. 4.

State may have to play that game and possibly the rest of their schedule without the services of Don Jonas, their do-everything right halfback.

Jonas dislocated his right collarbone in the first quarter when he was tackled and forced out of bounds and a Syracuse defender landed on him as he was about to get up.

Team physician Alfred H. Griess said that Jonas will probably be out for the season, with a slim possibility that he may play against Pitt, Nov. 25.

Powell and Gary Wydman filled in capably for Jonas with Powell catching four passes for 34 yards

TOUCHDOWN BOUND: Galen Hall (25) flips a first quarter pass to Roger Kochman, who gets behind John Snider (not in the picture) and races into the end zone for State's first score in the 14-0 victory over Syracuse. The play covered 44 yards. The ball is obscured in the picture by the referee.

and Wydman getting one reception for 33 yards.

State proved that it meant business from the start of the game.

The first time they got the ball the Lions drove all the way from their 11 to score in six plays. The big gainers were a 24-yard pass from Hall to Jonas and the 44-yard TD pass to Kochman.

Jonas' kick was good and State led, 7-0, with a little over five minutes gone in the contest.

Syracuse couldn't move the ball after the ensuing kick-off and John Snider kicked from the 13, but Powell fumbled the punt and Stem recovered on the Syracuse 47.

Sofsian hit Pete Brokaw with a 17-yard pass and Davis carried for gains of 6 and 12 yards to put the ball on the State 6 with a first and goal.

But Saul led the goal line stand that gave up just two yards to Davis in three carries.

Neither team could get rolling throughout the rest of the half until State got the ball with time running out in the second period.

With a first and 10 on their 26, Powell ran for 6, Kochman picked up 2 and the Hall passed 9 yards to Powell for a first down.

Hall hit Powell again for five yards and after the little halfback was stopped for a 4-yard loss, Hall hit Jim Schwab for a 9-yard gain and another first down.

Kochman ran for nine yards and then Hall spotted Wyman in the clear. Wyman took the ball over his shoulder and for a minute it looked as if he'd go all the way, but John Humphreys hit him from behind on the five.

An interference call on the next play moved the ball to the 2½, but Dave Hayes' plunge was stopped a foot short as the gun ended the first half.

Engle said after the game that he thought the interference occurred in the end zone, which would have placed the ball on the one.

When he saw that the ball was on the 2½, he tried to send in Jonas for a field goal but it was too late.

State opened the second half by moving to the Syracuse 33 but a fumble by Hayes halted that drive.

The Lions threatened again the next time they got the ball when Kochman fumbled a pitchout from Hall, picked it up on the bounce, and raced 44 yards to the Syracuse 34.

But Kochman fumbled the ball after being slammed to the ground by Davis and it was recovered by Snider.

Four plays later Syracuse returned the favor, with Ralph Baker bouncing on Bill Meyers' fumble on the Syracuse 16.

On the third down Hall hit Anderson with a buttonhook over the middle and the sophomore end bulled his way into the end zone. Jonas came in with his arm tucked under his shirt to boot the extra point and State led, 14-0.

State got close enough for Jonas to try field goals from the 20 and the 30 in the final period, but he was hampered by his injury and missed on both tries.

Meyers, a fourth string end until two weeks ago, broke up the middle for 60 yards on three carries in the waning moments of the game to put the ball on the State 16 but time ran out.

Kochman ended up with 107 yards in 14 carries to lead all the ground gainers. Hayes was second for State with 34 yards in 11 tries. Meyers picked up 101 yards in 10 carries for Syracuse. Davis was held to 36 yards in 14 rushes.

Syracuse, Army Invited To Play in Gotham Bowl

NEW YORK (AP)—Army and Syracuse have been invited to play in the first Gotham Bowl at New York's Polo Grounds, Dec. 9.

Bob Curran, director of the new bowl, said yesterday he has sent letters to both schools, hoping to set up a game in time to make arrangements for a television sponsor.

There was no official comment from Army representatives, present at the Football Writers Luncheon to which Curran made the announcement. However, it was pointed out that Army plays Navy Dec. 2 and never has been to a bowl game.

ONE-ARMED KICKER: Penn State halfback Don Jonas, his arm in a sling, leaves the field after successfully converting the point after the Lions' second touchdown. He suffered a dislocated collarbone after grabbing a Galen Hall aerial in the first quarter. Team physician Alfred H. Griess said that Jonas may be lost for the season, although there is a slim chance he may be ready for Pitt on Nov. 25. Dr. Griess said that if Jonas can protect himself sufficiently (he won't be wearing pads) he will do the Lions' place-kicking.

Lion Opponents Win 5 Games Over Weekend

Penn State's homecoming opponent, California, went down to defeat Saturday, but five other Lion opponents picked up wins. Boston U., Maryland, Holy Cross, Navy and Army were victorious while West Virginia, Pitt, and California lost. Miami was idle.

California was upset 28-14 by rival Southern Cal. The loss dropped the Golden Bear's record to 1-3-1.

Pitt went down to its fourth loss in a row, this one a 20-6 blasting by UCLA. The winners turned two intercepted passes into touchdowns and dominated action. The Panthers only score came on a 27-yard pass from Fred Cox to Ed Clark.

UCLA led at halftime 13-0 and forced the Panthers to go to the air. Pitt threw 27 passes, and the two intercepted ones cost them the game.

Maryland, State's opponent a week from Saturday, blanked the Air Force Academy, 21-0, while Holy Cross used a last minute touchdown pass to squeak over previously unbeaten Dartmouth, 17-13.

The academy schools, Army and Navy, enjoyed easy victories. Army, held to a 7-7 tie in the first quarter, roared back to rout Idaho, 51-7, and Navy romped over Detroit 37-19.
