

Booters Meet Bucknell Today After 5-3 Loss to Maryland

By CRAIG YERKES

Kenny Hosterman's hot and cold booters scored too little and too late Saturday. As a result the Maryland Terrapins rolled to their fourth straight victory, downing the Lions, 5-3.

State attempts to even its record at 2-2 today at Bucknell.

The Lions once again could not get unracked until it was too late. By the time State had its first goal, Maryland was safely ahead, 4-0.

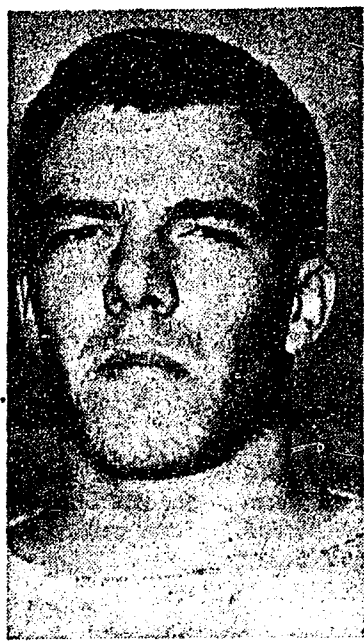

The Terps, last year's NCAA runnersup, gave indications early that they are every bit as good this year, by effectively using a polished short passing game.

It was an extremely rough contest, with each team losing a man before the final whistle had blown. All sorts of minor fights erupted during the action.

State lost one of its defensive stalwarts in the third period when Jay Stormer suffered a shoulder separation, after an extremely hard body check by Maryland halfback Bob Cummings.

Maryland drew first blood midway through the first period on a goal similar to many that have been scored against the Lions this year. Terrapin ace Carlos Martin, who was in the center of just about everything that happened in the game, was awarded an indirect kick by Referee Harry Rodgers for dangerous play on the part of the Lions.

Martin booted a low, hard shot that deflected off the leg of Lion halfback Dieter Heinze, hit goalie Jim Gottschling in the chest and rolled slowly through the State nets. This was the first of Martin's three goals, raising his seasonal output to ten goals in four games.

JIM GOTTSCHLING

... busy Saturday

The Lions had trouble with their passing game, and Maryland controlled the ball throughout the first half. "Our mid-field passing game lacked something Saturday," Lion coach Ken Hosterman said. "We weren't passing the ball, we were merely kicking it, and there were two of our men on the ball at the same time," he added.

"Our wings let us down. They were bunched up in the middle of the field and the Maryland fullbacks did not worry about them as much as they would have if they had spread wider," Hosterman explained.

Martin cashed in his second goal in the second period for a 2-0 Terp advantage. It was a tough break for State, as the ball deflected off two State men, before trickling by Gottschling's fingers.

The Terps took advantage of State's mistakes and increased their lead to 4-0 in the third period. Oylon Tertemis and Dick Roe each booted a score for the visitors within three minutes, and State found itself out of the game.

With 16 seconds remaining in the third stanza, Howie Farrer rammed a penalty kick high into the Terp nets for State's first goal. But Maryland's bread and butter man, Martin, capitalized on a glaring State error, to give the Terps a 5-1 lead with only half of a period yet to play.

Martin dribbled the last half of the field all by himself and scored easily when Lion captain and fullback John Miller and Gottschling got their signals crossed. Miller let Martin get by him, and Gottschling, removed from the goal quite a distance, was helpless.

Midway in the final period, Farrer added his second goal on a perfect setup from Tom Flanagan. Flanagan found himself trapped, so he pushed the ball to Farrer, alone 15 yards from the goal, and the Lion senior rammed it home.

Shortly afterwards left wing Ted Jones sliced one high into the Terps nets from 25 yards to complete State's scoring.

Although somewhat disturbed over certain aspects of the Lions' play, Hosterman said that Maryland "is a better team" than last year's squad, and gave the visitors credit "for capitalizing on our mistakes."

Maryland . . . 1 1 2 1-5
Penn State . . . 0 0 1 2-3
Scoring: Martin 3; Roe; Tertemis; Farrer 2; Jones.

Inches Spell Margin In Harriers' Defeat

By DAVE LEONARD

The width of four columns of this paper, eight inches, was the difference between Penn State's ninth consecutive cross country victory and a 27-28 loss to Michigan State Saturday at East Lansing.

Lionel Bassett, an unheralded Lion junior, almost pulled out a victory for the harriers.

One hundred and fifty yards from the finish line Bassett was running in ninth place but picking up steam. He streaked past Spartan Bob Fulcher and pulled even with MSU's Don Castle, and it was head to head all the way home. But Castle lunged to break the tape first and preserve the victory.

May 7, 1960, was the last time a Chick Werner-coached team lost a dual meet in track or cross country. On that date the track team lost to Quantico, 74-57.

Lion cross country and track teams (indoors and outdoor) had racked up 18 straight victories before the weekend loss.

Michigan State's All-American, Gerry Young, won the meet in the unspectacular time of 20:34.2 over the four-mile course in weather which was described as "wet, cold, foggy, and soggy."

Lions' Steve Moorhead and Howie Deardorff finished in a tie for second about 150 yards in back of Young.

Ron Humbarger copped fourth for the Spartans ahead of the surprise finisher of the day for the Lions, Gerry Norman.

Norman wasn't expected to run but he made a good effort on a leg which was injured two weeks ago.

"We really wanted to win this one," Norman said. "I was especially sad because this was the first time we have lost a meet in either cross country or track since I have been running varsity."

LIONEL BASSETT

... almost pulls out win

Pat Stevens finished sixth for the Spartans followed by Castle, Bassett and Fulcher.

Mike Miller, who finished in a four-way tie for first in the Pitt meet, was tenth.

"We'll be laying for Michigan State in the IC4A meet," Norman said. "Saturday was the big meet of the year and we want to get even with them. I think we have a better team than they do."

The Lions were hurt by the absence of Ernie Noll who didn't make the trip because of a bad cold.

SUMMARY

1. Young, Michigan State, 20:32.4; 2. Moorhead and Deardorff (tie), Penn State, 20:58.5; 4. Humbarger, Michigan State, 21:11; 5. Norman, Penn State, 21:32; 6. Stevens, Michigan State, 21:55; 7. Castle, Michigan State, 21:58; 8. Bassett, Penn State, 21:58; 9. Fulcher, Michigan State, 22:00; 10. Miller, Penn State, 22:08.

Frosh Lose 26-0 As Plebes Score In Every Stanza

Penn State's freshmen squad opened its short 1961 season by bowing to the unbeaten Navy Plebes, 26-0, Saturday at Navy-Marine Corps Stadium, Annapolis, Md.

The Plebes opened the scoring midway through the initial stanza when they put together a drive that covered 61 yards in 15 plays. Halfback Ray Stubach bowled over from the one for the score.

Before the first half ended, the Plebes struck again. With quarterback Bob Katz connecting consistently on short hook passes, Navy moved to the State five where Jerry Donnelly ran it over for the score.

A thrilling 40-yard run by Mike Hill put the Plebes on the scoreboard in the third quarter. Despite the poor footing due to a driving rainstorm, Hill swept to the right, cut downfield and went the distance for the tally.

The final score of the game came in the fourth quarter when Katz hit Joe Grimshaw with a 7-yard scoring toss.

The inability to get a consistent scoring drive underway hurt the frosh all afternoon, and the weather did little to help.

Halfbacks Garry Klingensmith and George Brome, and fullback Tom Bleehash drew praise from Coach Earl Bruce after the game for their offensive play.

Outstanding on defense for the frosh were Bob Kane, Bill Bowes, and Jim McLean.

Saturday morning at 10 the frosh will tangle with the unbeaten Pitt freshmen on Beaver Field.

PENN STATE RIDING CLUB

Wednesday, Oct. 25
217 Willard
7 P.M.

Dr. Merritt Will Speak on Horse Management

IBM WILL INTERVIEW NOVEMBER 7-8

Candidates for Bachelor's or Master's Degrees are invited to discuss opportunities in:

Engineering and Science

This is a unique opportunity to find out about the many career opportunities at IBM. The IBM representative can discuss with you typical jobs, various training programs, chances for advanced education, financial rewards, and company benefits—all important factors that affect your future.

SOME FACTS ABOUT IBM

An Unusual Growth Story: IBM has had one of the exceptional growth rates in industry. It has been a planned growth, based on ideas and products having an almost infinite application in our modern economy.

Diverse and Important Products: IBM develops, manufactures and markets a wide range of products in the data processing field. IBM computers and allied products play a vital role in the operations of business, industry, science, and government.

Across-the-Country Operations: Laboratory and manufacturing facilities are located in Endicott, Kingston, Owego, Poughkeepsie, Vestal, Yorktown, N. Y.; Burlington, Vermont; Lexington, Ky.; San Jose, Calif.; Bethesda, Md.; and Rochester, Minn. Headquarters is located in New York City with sales and service offices in 180 major cities throughout the United States.

The Accent is on the Individual: No matter what type of work a person does at IBM, he is given all the responsibility he is able to handle, and all the support he needs to do his job. Advancement is by merit.

The areas in which IBM is engaged have an unlimited future. This is your opportunity to find out what that future has to offer you. All qualified applicants will be considered for employment without regard to race, creed, color or national origin.

Your placement officer can help you to learn more about IBM. He can give you literature describing the many career fields at IBM. He will arrange an appointment for you with the IBM representative. If you cannot attend an interview, write or call the manager of the nearest IBM office:

S. F. Davis, Branch Manager
IBM Corporation, Dept. 882
206 Main Street
Johnstown, Pa.
Phone: 7-5181

IBM

You naturally have a better chance to grow with a growth company.