

State-Cal Lineups

STARTING LINEUP

No.	PENN STATE	Wt.	Pos.	Wt.	CALIF.	No.
88	Schwab	208	LE	204	Vaughn	88
79	Monaghan	227	LT	215	Segale	78
62	Blasenstein	200	RG	190	Erby	65
51	Huffman	205	C	200	Burke	62
67	Rosdahl	230	RG	210	Stull	61
76	Farkas	220	RT	213	Lowell	73
86	Mitinger	215	RE	185	Wills	81
25	Hall	190	QB	197	Gold	2
46	Kochman	200	LH	195	Scattini	21
40	Powell	170	RH	175	Burruss	44
34	Hayes	205	FB	215	Pierovich	35

ALTERNATING UNITS

No.	PENN STATE	Wt.	Pos.	Wt.	CALIF.	No.
68	Baker	200	LE	210	Muga	84
77	Sieminski	240	LT	212	Bock	77
58	Galardi	202	LG	195	Stassi	66
52	Saul	220	C	198	Parkinson	55
61	Hart	216	RG	195	Graham	64
74	Smith	230	RT	220	McLean	78
85	Anderson	205	RE	205	Turner	86
23	Caum	166	QB	175	Balliett	3
43	Gursky	205	LH	192	Nelson	24
42	Kline	182	RH	175	Carvajal	22
32	Torris	193	FB	214	Anderson	60

TIME: 1:30 p.m.

PLACE: Beaver Stadium.

EXPECTED HOMECOMING CROWD: 32,000

RECORDS: Penn State, 3-2. California, 1-3-1.

SERIES: First meeting between the two schools.

NEXT WEEK: Penn State at Maryland; California at UCLA.

COACHES: Engle (100-53-8); Levy (17-16-2).

OFFENSES: Penn State (Multiple T); California (Winged T with unbalanced line).

STARTING LINE AVERAGES: Penn State (215); California (204).

STARTING BACKS AVERAGE: Penn State (191); California (196).

CAPTAINS: Penn State (Smith); California (Burruss).

J. T. White's

Scouting Report

Gold Makes Cal Dangerous

Lion end coach J. T. White watched California's Golden Bears upset Washington 21-14 two weeks ago and lose to Southern Cal 28-14 last week.

RECORD: California lost to Texas (23-3), Iowa (28-7) and Southern Cal (28-14); tied Missouri (14-14) and defeated Washington (21-14).

COACH: Marv Levy, one of football's youngest head coaches, is in his second year as top man at California. He came to the Golden Bears from New Mexico where he had a 14-6 record over a two-year span. In his first year at the Skyline Conference school he was named the conference's Coach-of-the-Year. Last year he was 2-1-7 at California.

OFFENSE: Cal's offense is very similar to Syracuse's. They run what is called a "Delaware offense"—a lot of power sweeps and counters. In the two games I've watched they've been behind and have had to throw a lot.

BACKS: Randy Gold is their sparkplug. He missed the first two games because of an injury and last week he had a bad day against Southern Cal, but he's a good one. He's a dangerous runner as well as a very good passer and he fakes well. Second team quarterback Larry Balliett gets the job done very well also. The halfbacks, especially Alan Nelson, have good speed. They run hard and get that extra two yards. And I haven't seen a better fullback this year than George Pierovich. Pierovich and Nelson are both excellent blockers.

LINE: Their line is just as big if not bigger than ours. They don't have a player on the program listed over 215 but don't let that fool you. The entire line has good speed and does a lot of pulling. John Erby, the shortside guard, is their best man up front in my estimation.

EVALUATION: California has played five of the top teams in the country and they have scored in all five games, despite the fact that Gold missed both the Texas and Iowa contests. They beat Washington, last year's Rose Bowl champ, and tied Missouri, the Orange Bowl champ. They had Missouri 14-6 in the last quarter before the Tigers came back for a score. Last week against Southern Cal they finished strong, scoring two last period touchdowns. They also had some great goal line stands in that game. They have a tough defensive secondary which has intercepted eight passes in five games.

If our kids show any kind of a letdown after the Syracuse win, we'll be in trouble.

J. T. White

Crippled Nittanies Meet Bears Today

By JIM KARL

Collegian Sports Editor

Penn State, which hasn't been able to put two wins together all season, hopes to abandon its roller coaster tactics this afternoon at 1:30 when the Lions engage in an inter-sectional battle with California at Beaver Stadium.

Rip Engle will try to break up the alternating win-lose pattern against the Golden Bears despite the fact that injuries have riddled his first two teams.

The Ripper will be without the services of right halfbacks Don Jonas and Gary Wydman, guard Dick Wilson and end Dave Robinson.

Jonas, a do-everything halfback who ranks near the top in every Penn State offensive category, is out for at least four weeks with a shoulder separation.

However, Engle indicated he will still use Jonas for extra-point and field goal kicking duties.

Wydman was expected to fill the gap in the Reddie Unit backfield when Junior Powell moved up to the starting team to replace Jonas, but yesterday team physician Alfred H. Griess said that a bruised chest will keep the Lion sophomore from seeing any action.

Both Wilson and Bob Hart injured their knees in mid-week field goal drills, but Hart recovered quickly and will start on the Reddie Unit.

Wilson wasn't as fortunate. Dr. Griess said that the sprained ligaments in his left knee would keep him out of the game.

Robinson, lost to the team since the season lidlifter against Navy, is still a week away from trying a comeback.

Robinson's shoulder separation is healing rapidly and he worked out in full equipment the past week.

A combination of injuries plus some disappointing performances from key Lion operatives has kept State from fulfilling its potential so far this year.

But last week State rumbled and roared and Engle is hoping that a sleeping giant is awakening.

The Lions beat Navy 20-10, lost to Miami 25-8, upended (Continued on page thirteen)

***

TERRY MONAGHAN
... starting left tackle

***

Daily Collegian Sports

'We're Out For Blood,' Player Says

Penn State may be meeting California at the wrong time of the season at Beaver Stadium this afternoon.

The Golden Bears were drubbed by Southern Cal, 28-14, last week and according to at least one player, they'll have fire in their eyes this afternoon when they try to prove that they're not as bad as their 1-3 record indicates.

"We're out for blood," California's hard-hitting left guard John Erby said yesterday after the Bears ran through a light workout in Beaver Stadium. "We played a bad game last week against Southern Cal, and tomorrow we're going to make up for it."

"The spirit in practice this week was really high, and I for one can hardly wait until tomorrow," Erby said. "Our whole team wants to win this one badly and we're going to be hitting for keeps."

"I know Penn State has a good team, but I feel we can beat them," the 190-pound junior said. "As a matter of fact, I'm sure we're going to win."

The Bears' brilliant quarterback, Randy Gold, agreed with his teammate. "I think we're ready for a victory," Gold said. "We've been playing a pretty (Continued on page thirteen)

***

High-Stepping Golden Bears—

RUDY CARVAJAL
... fleet sophomore

JIM BURRUSS
... Cal captain