

Runners, Soccermen at Home

Harriers Face Jaspers; Close Dual Meet Season

By DAVE LEONARD

Penn State's once beaten harriers face Manhattan at 1 p.m. on the golf course today in a meet that could give Lion coach Chick Werner a pretty good idea how his team will fare in the upcoming IC4A and NCAA meets.

Last year State copped the IC4A title, but finished a disappointing ninth in the NCAA meet.

Manhattan's Jaspers, coached by John Eastman, will carry a 4-1 log into the meet. State is 3-1.

The Jaspers hold one-sided 15-50 victories over both Iona and Fairleigh Dickinson. They beat St. Johns, 22-39, and last week recorded a 21-40 win over Dartmouth.

Their only loss came at the hands of Army. The Cadets drubbed the Jaspers 17-42, but Lion coach Chick Werner rates Army as one of the top Eastern powers this year.

"Army has a very good team this year and they will be a top contender for the IC4A title," Werner said.

Tom Siggins, a junior, is the leading runner for the Jaspers along with captain Don Korry.

"I think that Penn State will be too rough for us," Eastman said in an interview yesterday. "It's really a shame that Gerry Norman had to get hurt, he's a fine runner and I hope his injury clears up."

Norman has been working out all week and his leg, injured about a month ago, is slowly returning to normal. Norman ran on the injured leg in the last three Lion meets but he just wasn't up to par.

GERRY NORMAN

... hampered by leg injury

Howie Deardorff, who seems to have come into his own of late, will lead the Lions into the battle fresh from a record breaking performance against Navy last week.

Werner will be seeking a fifth man to complete the Lion squad that will run in the championships later this month.

Norman, Deardorff, Steve Moorhead, and Mike Miller seem to have the first four spots sewed-up, but the last position is wide open with Lionell Bassett, Ernie Noll, Joe Nichols and Fred Larson being the leading contenders.

Lion Frosh Face W. Va. In Final Tilt

Penn State's freshman football squad will close out its short 3-game schedule this morning when it battles West Virginia at Mountaineer Field in Morgantown.

Since the resumption of the series between the two schools in 1958, neither team has been able to post a victory on foreign grounds. State has won, 21-6, and 21-2, while the Mountie Cubs have won, 14-6, at Morgantown in 1959.

Last year, State roared from 14 points behind in the second half to score the one-point victory. The big guns for the Mounties that day were a highly rated quarterback named Fred Colvard and a fullback named Glen Holton. Both have become top stars for the varsity.

The frosh's winning score came when Ron Coates hit Gary Wydman with an 18-yard TD aerial. Don Caum booted the conversion.

This year Coach Ed Shockey's squad has beaten Fairmont Street, Ohio University, and Virginia Tech. Their only loss came at the hands of the Pitt frosh, 29-14.

State must win today's game in order to post a winning record. Earl Bruce's squad lost its opener to Navy, 26-0, but last Saturday rose up to defeat Pitt, 15-14.

With one exception, Bruce is expected to start the same team that nipped the Panthers. Fullback Tom Bleehash suffered a leg injury in the Panther victory and will not see action. His place in the lineup will be filled by Bob Kane.

Just as the frosh stopped Pitt's top threat, Fred Mazurek last week, they must stop Milt Cleeg today. The bruising 200-pound fullback has scored six touchdowns this season, including three against Ohio U. last week.

Mitinger's Family Athletic

Bob Mitinger, All-American candidate at end for the Nittany Lions, hails from a famed athletic family.

His uncle is Charlie Berry, former star pro griddier with the New York Giants and current NFL head linesman. In addition, Berry serves as an umpire with the American League. Mitinger's father, Bob Sr., played guard for Jock Sutherland at Lafayette in the early 1920's and his brother, Joe, captained the Yale eleven in 1952.

Pa. Boys Possess Threat

Maryland's Gary Collins, senior end from Williamstown, Pa., should be the favorite target of quarterback Dick Novak of Uniontown, Pa., in Saturday's Penn State-Terrapin game.

The Pennsylvania products will probably pose a real threat to the PSU secondary. Coach Tom Nugent calls Collins Maryland's all-time greatest end. Novak is the key to the Maryland offense with his pinpoint passing.

Booters Host Owls; Try to Even Record

By CRAIG YERKES

A Penn State soccer team weakened by injuries will host Temple's high flying Owls this morning at 11 on the Lions home turf.

Temple, 4-1-1 this year, will pose a serious hurdle to Ken Hosterman's booters. The reason for this is the absence of Howie Farrer and the limited availability of Tom Flanagan and Ken Link.

Farrer and Flanagan have supplied most of the scoring punch for the Lions thus far, and Link has been Hosterman's center-forward in the last three games.

Farrer is definitely out for the year due to a chipped bone in his foot. Flanagan was believed to have pulled ligaments in his knee, but yesterday the sophomore participated in shooting drills and appeared ready to see limited action against the Owls.

DIETER HEINZE

... steady Lion booter

State-Temple Soccer Roundup Records: State, 2-3; Temple, 4-1-1

Time: 11:00 a.m.

Place: Lions' soccer field opposite the ice rink

Last year's result: State 2 - Temple 1 at Philadelphia (overtime)

Starting State Lineup:

left wing: Ted Jones
inside left: Ed Hinojosa center-forward: Dick Kuplen
inside right: Val Djurdjevic right wing: Glenn Ream left halfback: Jay Stormer center halfback: Dieter Heinze right halfback: Lou Paulin left fullback: John Miller
right fullback: Bill Manke
goalie: Dave Grubbs

Link fell on his ankle and was believed out of today's encounter; however, yesterday he also dressed for practice and Hosterman believes he will be ready for action today.

Jay Stormer will return to his left halfback slot, after a two week absence caused by a shoulder separation against Maryland.

The Lions are 2-3 on the year, losing and winning alternate games. State has lost its first, third, and fifth games, while winning the second and fourth contests. By this standard the Lions are due for a win against the Owls.

However, just as this system is on the Lions' side, there is one jinx against State. In seven games played on the two-year-old soccer field, State has managed but one win, that coming over hapless Syracuse, which has dropped the sport this year after many poor seasons.

Temple is sparked by sophomores and barely lost to powerful West Chester, 1-0. The Owls could have at least tied the Rams if sophomore Roy Viehweger had not blown an easy five yard shot.

SOCCERSHOTS

West Chester, 4-1 conqueror of the Lions in the season's opener, is now 8-0 on the year. The Rams have dealt Temple and Navy their only losses and it seems that coach Mel Lorbac is pushing to better last year's 3rd place NCAA finish.

President Eric Walker offered the following suggestion to solve the mystery of the booters' poor first half performances: "We should get our freshman team down at the field around an hour early to scrimmage the" (Continued on page twelve)

LION TOES—Don Jonas, left, and Chuck Ricevuto, State's two kicking specialists, line up a football on the kicking tee during practice. Jonas had been doing all the Lion kicking until he suffered a shoulder injury against Syracuse two weeks ago. Ricevuto took over the kick-off duties and has been bombing the ball into the endzone. Jonas boots the Lions' extra points and field goals.

Newman Club Presents . . .

What Do You Know About Christ? —a Historical Myth

Featuring Rev. Phillip Saylor

Tuesday Nov. 7
7 P.M.

HUB Assembly
Room

2nd in Fall Forum Series

Sigma Phi Epsilon

invites all sophomore rushees to its rushing smoker

Monday nite . . . 6:30

Pick up at:

Waring

Pollock A

East A

Nittany 20

Warnock

DRESS — FORMAL

IBM

Invites Ph.D. Degree Candidates

in chemistry, electrical engineering, mathematics, physics, physical chemistry, and statistics

to meet

Messrs. M. W. SHAFER and G. E. SIMAITIS
Representatives of IBM Research and Development Laboratories

NOVEMBER 6 and 7

For appointment, please contact
The Placement Office