 junior in psychology from Philadelphia, presented the final report on the standardized keys and certificates for the SGA at the Commonwealth Campuses. The new awards will be given this year.

Dean Wharton, University Park sophomore class president, reported on procedure for donating to class gifts at the Commonwealth Campuses. George Lovette, assistant controller for the Campuses, discussed standardizing SGA fiscal forms.

PHILADELPHIA — Coleman Herpel, director of the Ogontz Campus, has been named by President Eric A. Walker to a committee to consider Commonwealth Campus program in student affairs.

The committee, which is to be chaired by Kenneth L. Holderman, coordinator of campuses, will investigate conditions in recreation, health services, inter-collegiate athletics, and other extra-curricular activities.

Ankon service society has inducted three new members. The addition of Robert Cohen, editor of the "Montage" yearbook, and SGA representatives Marion Feenan and Judyann Feldman brings the society's total membership to nine.

Evening courses, leading to a master's degree in industrial engineering will be offered at Ogontz in the spring. The courses will be given at the result of requests from officials of the General Electric Missiles and Space plant here.

Benjamin W. Niebel, head of the University's Industrial Engineering Department, said that a program of 30 credits in technical graduate work will be established by spring.

Project Joey Will Entertain Children in Cresson Homes

About 40 students will participate in the Independent Students Association's Project Joey from 1 to 5 p.m. today at the St. Mary's and St. John's Children's Homes in Cresson.

Don Fies, Project Joey chairman, said that the group will entertain about 26 children at the homes. They will direct games and distribute favors.

The favors will be mostly gifts of toys and books, Fies said.

Project Joey was started several years ago to entertain children living in institutions during the Christmas season. Since the Christmas recess will start early this year, ISA voted to hold the project in November.

Fies said that there will be about 26 children at the homes today for the party. The children are between the ages of 2 and 18 years, he added.

All students who signed up to participate in the Project Joey program should meet at the Hertz Union desk at 12:45 p.m. today, Fies said. He added that the bus will leave at 1 p.m. for Cresson.

Chisman to Give Talk permitted until announced by the Election Commission.

SGA President Dennis Foianini said he was disappointed to hear that the Elections Commission feels that it is not feasible to hold elections this term, but that he trusts that they are doing "all they possibly can."

The referendum concerning the fate of political parties will be held at the same time as the SGA elections, Foianini said.

Walker--

 trend in the United States is away from compulsory ROTC.

Kenworthy would not say whether Walker agrees with the points outlined in the report. He would make no comment on whether Walker has any additional ideas for such a program.

Corps to Attend Artists' Series

The 59 Peace Corps volunteers training here for the Philippines will get a first hand sampling of that country's folk dances when they attend the Artists' Series performance of the Philippine Banyuhan Dance Company tomorrow evening.

The volunteers have not yet learned any of the folk dances of the Philippines where they will be headed for their Peace Corps teaching assignments.

Dr. George M. Guthrie, associate director of the training program, said they will learn some of the native dances when they arrive in the rural villages of the islands for their assignments.

Guthrie said the native citizens "could teach them the dances easier than we could here."

He added that asking natives to teach them the dances will aid in integrating the volunteers in community life.

Cosmopolitan Club Hike

A hike tomorrow along the Alan Seeger Trail, located 12 miles south of Whipples Dam, will be sponsored by the Cosmopolitan Club, an organization for both international and regular students. Hikers will meet at 9 a.m. in parking lot No. 11 for transportation to the starting point of the hike.

Hikers are asked to bring a box lunch.

African Project to Hold Foreign Affairs Program

Operation Crossroads Africa will sponsor a student conference on foreign affairs Saturday, Nov. 18 at the Howard University campus in Washington D.C.

The conference will focus attention on the needs of the emerging African nations with the aid of guest speakers and students who served in Africa this summer.

Further information may be obtained in the office of the dean of women, 105 Old Main.
