

Finn Elections Called for Feb.

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — President Urho Kekkonen dissolved Parliament yesterday and announced new parliamentary elections in February.

The action came after Foreign Minister Ahti Kajjalainen informed the government that the Soviet Union has asked Finland to provide prompt assurances of continued friendly relations with the Soviet Union or enter into joint defense talks.

Kekkonen said the present international tension demanded decisions that cannot wait until after the regular parliamentary elections due next summer.

He added: "As it is possible to create conditions for fruitful national cooperation only by turning directly to the people of Finland, I ask that the Parliament be dissolved and new elections be held on Feb. 4-5, 1962."

Foreign Minister Karjalainen returned Monday night from Moscow where he had sought more information on a Soviet note of Oct. 30 asking for joint defense consultations.

After he reported to the government, the Finnish Foreign Ministry put out a communique summing up his talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Yesterday's communique—issued after details were reported to Parliament—quoted Gromyko as saying the Soviet Union had "not the slightest intention of intervening in Finland's domestic affairs."

But he also said the Soviet Union could not fail to take note "that the political situation in Finland had become uncertain" and that "certain political circles had emerged which aimed at attempting to prevent the continuity of the present foreign policy."

Economist Suggests Pay for Students

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—A University of Chicago economist suggested yesterday that students should be paid to go to college.

Prof. H. W. Schultz said that such a practice would be one way

A group of 18 faculty members and administrators are representing the University at the meeting. Wilmer E. Kenworthy, executive assistant to the president said.

President Eric A. Walker, who is a member of the group attending the meeting, is also a member of the executive committee, Kenworthy said.

The other representatives are from the colleges of engineering and architecture, home economics, mineral industries, agriculture, the liberal arts and the graduate school.

of ending the waste of students' time and bringing about basic reforms in higher education.

Schultz told the American Association of Land Grant Colleges and State Universities that colleges and universities seriously underestimate the value of the time students spend at college.

"How else," he asked, "can one explain the wastage of the time of the students?"

In 1956, Schultz said, the total school cost of higher education in the United States was $3.5 billion. The total earnings foregone by college and university students that year were $5.8 billion.

"But colleges go merrily on," he said, "treating the time of students as if they were a free resource. What is the remedy?"

"Instead of rationing admissions and not economizing on the time of students, one way would be to recruit and pay each student the earnings he will forego while attending college."

"I venture such a procedure, impractical as it may appear, would bring about basic reforms in the use of school facilities—libraries, laboratories and classrooms—in the use of faculty time, and above all a reform in curricula."

Lawrence D. Haskew, vice-chancellor of the University of Texas, asked the association for "just 10 institutions in this country which will invest in the search for better education one-half the money and energy they invest in the search for better pigs and cows."

Haskew said, "One of the things America needs most is a demonstration of what would happen if one public university of high caliber really committed itself to teach education for one decade."

Monday, a group of noted educators said that the more than 500,000 foreign students now studying in this country are in danger of becoming anti-American.

Their report, five months in preparation, was presented by Dean John McConnell of Cornell University, chairman of the 11-man study group.

The selection of the students, their preparation and their programs must be drastically overhauled if the United States is to meet "the greatest educational challenge of the age," the report stated.

Lumumba's Death Termed Murder by U.N. Group

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—A U.N. investigating commission expressed belief yesterday that Patrice Lumumba, the fiery Congo leader, was murdered last January in the presence of high Katanga officials and his fate kept secret for almost a month.

The commission declared leaders of the central Congo government must share responsibility, since they turned Lumumba and two associates over to the Katanga authorities "knowing full well that in doing so they were throwing them into the hands of their bitterest political enemies."

There is a "great deal of suspicion," the commission added, that the actual perpetrator of Lumumba's murder, in accord with a prearranged plan, was a Belgian colonel who served as a mercenary in the Katanga armed forces.

Eyewitnesses to the deaths were probably Katanga Premier Moïse Tshombe and two chief aides, Godefroid Munongo and Jean-Baptiste Kibwe, the commission said. Munongo, the Katanga interior minister, was described as playing a leading role in the plot leading to the deaths.

The report was released in advance of today's meeting of the U.N. Security Council to consider African demands for strong U.N. action to end the secession of Katanga Province.
