

Greek Games Postponed

Greek Games have been postponed because of difficulties in building chariots and lining the field, Janet Abele, chairman, said last night.

However, the Powder Puff Bowl football game between Kappa Kappa Gamma and Chi Omega sororities will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the IM fields as scheduled, Miss Abele said.

The chariot races had been scheduled for the same night. Miss Abele said a new date for the races would be announced either today or tomorrow.

Teams for each chariot race in the sorority-fraternity division are: Zeta Tau Alpha, Phi Kappa Sigma; Alpha Phi, Delta Upsilon; Kappa Delta, Phi Epsilon Phi; Sigma Sigma Sigma, Kappa Sigma; Beta Colony, Sigma Alpha Mu; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pi Kappa Phi. Delta Gamma, Phi Delta Theta; Chi Omega, Delta Chi; Pi Beta Phi, Lambda Chi Alpha; Phi Mu, Pi Kappa Alpha; Sigma Delta Tau, Beta Sigma Rho; Alpha Chi Omega, Phi Kappa Tau; Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Epsilon Pi; Phi Sigma Sigma, Alpha Gamma Rho. Beta Sigma Omicron, Phi Sigma Kappa; Kappa Alpha Theta, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Alpha Gamma Delta, Delta Tau Delta.

Alpha Tau Omega, Chi Phi, Theta Chi, Phi Kappa Psi and Phi Sigma Delta will not compete in the sorority-fraternity division, but will be matched in the all-fraternity meets.

Miss Abele announced that judges for the contest will be Mrs. Richard C. Vanderpool, assistant dean of women, and her husband; Ben Amato, coordinator of the races; and Wilmer E. Wise, assistant dean of men.

The winners in each of the two categories will receive trophies, Miss Abele said. This is the first year Greek Games are being held, but it is hoped that the tradition will continue, she said.

YAF Organizes

The principles of the Young Americans for Freedom as stated at the organization's first meeting last night are the promotion of political and economic freedom and the stamping out of communism.

About sixty students attended the meeting which was chaired by Frank Hurley, senior in aero-engineering.

A committee was to be selected to draw up a constitution before application for affiliation with the national YAF.

The constitution will be voted on at the next meeting and securing a faculty advisor will be discussed, Hurley said.

The date of the next meeting, to be held before Christmas, will be posted, he said.

Why weren't students allowed to demonstrate for a Thanksgiving vacation at the Penn State-Syracuse game?

squabble before a national audience. They had no right to use a national media such as TV for a private purpose. It certainly didn't make us look good as a University. We think it was just plain being discourteous."

300 Apply For Holiday Job Openings

Student response to the University's Christmas job placement service has been "very good", Ralph N. Kreckler, director of the Office of Student Aid, said recently.

The service, arranged in cooperation with the state employment agency, allows students to apply for jobs in their home towns over Christmas directly from the University.

Kreckler estimated that approximately 300 students have taken advantage of the plan. It is an experimental venture this year, he said, but it will be established as a regular service if it is successful.

To make use of the service, he said, the student must fill out and return an information card available at the Office of Student Aid, 218 Willard.

He said that the card is then routed through the State Employment Service to the local office in the student's home town.

The student will then be notified here on campus by the state agency when employment has been arranged, he said. There is no charge for the service, he added.

Most of the jobs available, he said, will be in post offices and with retail merchants.

Guests Welcome For Dorm Turkey

Relatives and friends of students may eat Thanksgiving dinner with students in the dining halls, Stanley H. Campbell, director of Housing and Food Service, said yesterday.

"This is nothing special, as students are always welcome to have guests in the dining hall," Campbell said. "However, we wanted to remind the students that it is permissible."

Guest meal tickets for Thanksgiving dinner may be purchased from the dining hall supervisors for $1.50.

On Thanksgiving Day, breakfast will be served according to Sunday's schedule. However, lunch and dinner will be served at regular weekday times.

A short food service questionnaire will be distributed at dinner tonight to determine the number of persons planning to be present at the Thanksgiving meal.
