

Panhel Accused of Violation

By JOANNE MARK and JOAN MEHAN

Mrs. Arthur K. Anderson, adviser for Alpha Omicron Pi sorority, yesterday charged the local Panhellenic Judicial Board of violating a section of the 1957 College Panhellenic Conference Agreement in penalizing Kappa Delta and Alpha Omicron Pi for rushing code infractions.

The section of the agreement which she said was violated, as set forth in the National Panhellenic Conference Manual of 1958, outlines a very definite procedure for handling disputes of this kind, she said.

Mrs. Joseph D. Grigsby, NPC chairman, when contacted last night by The Daily Collegian, at the biennial NPC now in session in Chandler, Ariz., said, "An agreement ratified by all member sororities of the NPC is binding on the local panhellenic councils."

Dorothy J. Lipp, dean of women, said last night that the statements of policy put out by the NPC are not enforceable in terms of government. "The local panhellenic councils are chartered by the University," she said, "not by the NPC."

"There is no way the NPC may revoke a college panhellenic charter," Dean Lipp said. "The University reserves the right to handle its own sorority affairs."

The agreement that Mrs. Anderson said was violated concerns the handling of disputes. It states:

•The Panhellenic president shall call a meeting of all parties concerned in the misunderstanding. These representatives shall discuss the difficulty and try to reach a solution.

•If this fails, the accuser in the dispute must submit the charges in writing to the local panhellenic president.

•The president shall then call for a meeting of the entire panhellenic council to discuss the case, allowing sufficient time so that the accused may prepare a statement. The delegates of all accused groups may be present at the meeting to present their side of the case.

•The case goes to the local Panhellenic judiciary body only if the council fails to reach a decision or the penalized group refuses to accept the verdict.

"These procedures must be included in the rushing procedures of all college panhellenics, according to the NPC manual," Mrs. Anderson said.

These procedures are not included in the local panhellenic rush code which states:

"The Panhellenic Executive Council shall have the right to investigate rumors and punish according to the information found."

Nancy M. Vanderpool, assistant to the dean of women and adviser to panhellenic council, said "As far as I know, the NPC agreement is not binding, only a recommendation."

Mrs. Vanderpool said her interpretation is based on the preamble to the NPC agreement which states: "National Panhellenic Conference recognizes that in unusual cases where established administrative policy differs from that set forth, the College panhellenic shall concur with such established policies of the college or university."

Student Calls Prexy Immature

In a prepared statement presented at the Town Independent Men's Council meeting last night, Gomer Williams, chairman of the TIM Thanksgiving Recess Investigation Committee, charged that the actions of President Eric A. Walker concerning the Thanksgiving recess issue were "irresponsible, immature and detrimental to the welfare of the University."

In an impassioned half-hour appeal for what he called "improvements in student-administration relations," Williams gave a report on his actions as chairman of the Thanksgiving committee.

A motion to accept the report was tabled by TIM council.

Williams said that Walker told him during an interview that there was a big problem in the area of student-administration relations, but that it didn't worry him. Williams said that Walker also said during this interview that he would expel any students who participated in a demonstration for a recess at the Penn State-Syracuse football game.

Williams said he called Wilmer E. Kenworthy, executive assistant to the president, several days after this interview. He said that Kenworthy said Walker was only joking when he threatened to expel demonstrators and that Williams had personally threatened to lead a riot at the game if a recess were not granted.

Williams denied these charges and said that subsequently Walker has repeated them to other people and refused to give him a chance to defend himself. Williams added that he has tried to see Walker five times.

Williams charged that the reasons given him by Walker for not granting a recess were "sharply contradicted by other members of the administration."

Williams further charged that administration-student relations had reached an all-time low as witnessed at half time during the Army game when the students spontaneously booed the four-term system and drowned out the Blue Band with cries of, "We want a vacation."

Williams said that "irresponsible remarks and actions" by Walker had helped lead to this situation. He suggested that Walker no longer be called Prexy.

"I realize what I am saying may be used against me," he said. However, he added, "I have checked, double checked, and checked some more to make sure that I was right. I firmly believe I am right."

Williams cited his research into the Thanksgiving issue, his letter to Walker on behalf of TIM council requesting a recess, and his personal opposition to demonstrations and riots as evidence that he acted in a "responsible manner."

"I've been acting responsibly and Dr. Walker has not," he said.

Walker is now attending a convention of the American Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities in Kansas City and could not be reached for comment last night.

When asked to comment on the situation in the absence of the president, Kenworthy said, "I have nothing to say at this time."

SGA Extends Petition Deadline

The SGA Assembly last night extended the petition deadline for candidates for the Assembly election from tonight to the week of Nov. 27 to Dec. 1, the specific date to be decided by the elections commission.

"Since the Assembly voted to change the deadline, the elections commission has no choice other than to follow its recommendation. Therefore petitions will be accepted until Tuesday, Nov. 28," Nancy Williams, elections commission chairman, said last night.

Dates for the Assembly elections were announced as Jan. 23, 24 and 25 with campaigning beginning Jan. 15 and continuing through Jan. 25 by Miss Williams.

These dates are dependent upon the approval of an SGA constitution before this time but both Dr. Laurence Lattman, chairman of the University Senate committee on Student Affairs, and Dennis Foianini, SGA president, have given indications that there would be a constitution by then, Miss Williams said.

The Assembly decided to change the deadline for petitions because it felt the scheduled one week allotment was not sufficient for some areas such as men off-campus.

"If the deadline is not extended, I think we might be defeating our system of representation before it gets started by creating the possibility that some areas will not be fully represented," John Witmer, U-Sr., said last night.

In other business, the Assembly discussed the future of its constitution recently withdrawn from consideration by the joint committee on student affairs and organizational control.

Dean Wharton, last year's sophomore class president, suggested that someone from the Assembly work with David McKinley, associate dean of business administration, to write a new constitution to present to the Assembly.

Foianini assumed this responsibility and has made plans to meet with McKinley this week-end.

Snow Due Tonight 2,000 Congo Troops Mutiny

Rain is expected today and most of tonight, and colder weather with rain changing to snow is indicated for late tonight.

Snow flurries, windy and much colder weather is forecast for tomorrow.

Today and tonight should be mild, and a high of 52 is expected today. The temperature will remain near 50 degrees until late tonight, when the mercury should begin a rapid descent.

The rain should change to snow late tonight, and a light accumulation is possible early tomorrow.

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—A mutiny of more than 2,000 Congo government troops has broken out in the eastern Congo, the United Nations announced yesterday, and diplomats said the defiance was under the personal command of leftist leader Antoine Gizenga.

The United Nations said the rebellion will be put down by force if necessary.

Diplomatic informants said Gizenga, heir of former Premier Patrice Lumumba, was directing the revolt against central government authority in Kindu, the Kivu Province town north of the secessionist Katanga Province.

Gizenga's open defiance of the United Nations and the Congo's central government of which he nominally is a vice premier, was reported three days before a scheduled Nov. 18 conference to which Gizenga has invited all "true nationalists of the Congo."

He has summoned all left-wing leaders to set up a new Lumumbist national party—called the "Panalu" movement.

Rush Chairmen Disagree On Code Interpretation

By JOAN MEHAN

When contacted by The Daily Collegian last night, sorority rush chairmen differed as to whether or not they had been informed of a particular clarification of the term "planned entertainment" as cited in an official Panhel letter.

The letter containing this specific interpretation was sent by the Panhellenic Judicial Board to Kappa Delta and Alpha Omicron Pi sororities. It stated the sororities "had participated in organized pre-rush meetings; for example, three or more rushees and sisters met in the suite at one time."

In yesterday's Collegian Janet Carlisle, Panhellenic rush chairman, interpreted planned entertainment to mean that "there may not be a group of rushees being entertained by sorority women at any time in the suite."

At this time she did not define group to mean a specific number.

Liselotte Weihe, president of Alpha Omicron Pi, said last night "I have never heard that three or more rushees in a suite meant planned entertainment."

"After consulting our rush chairman, I found that the interpretation of planned entertainment given by Miss Carlisle in yesterday's Collegian was never mentioned at either a Panhellenic Council meeting or a rush committee meeting."

Nancy Williams, president of Kappa Delta sorority, said that "our rush chairman has attended every scheduled meeting and was totally unaware of any definition of planned entertainment pertaining to three rushees in a group."

"I'm sure that she wouldn't miss such an important point," Miss Williams added.

"It seems to me that this rule (Continued on page two)

FRED LEWIS PATTEE LIBRARY appeared ready to hand out the standing room only sign last night when this photo was taken. Library officials have reported that the existing facilities are filled to near capacity on most evenings and all day Tuesdays and Thursdays. In previous years the library was overcrowded only around the beginning and the end of the semester, but this year, officials have said, the library has been crowded almost all term.
