

Registration Proceeds

The new system of winter term registration is proceeding successfully so far with over 16,000 students fully scheduled in all courses they requested, Warren R. Haffner, assistant registrar, said yesterday.

However, he said that there are still approximately 2,800 students who are not scheduled in one or more of the courses they registered for at fall registration, in spite of the various means used to fit more student into courses.

The whole operation is taking place in a "miniature Rec Hall" in the basement of Carnegie where 12 women are employed pulling Number 6 cards for the winter term, Haffner said.

"We tried to give every student all the courses he chose, giving preference to seniors, and working down according to term standing," he said.

Haffner explained that all rooms scheduled for courses were filled to capacity first, except in the case of speech or laboratory courses when the number of students in each section is limited by other considerations.

When no vacancies were left, department heads were contacted, informed of the situation and asked to get a larger room or add another section at that time if possible, he said.

"We received wonderful cooperation from all department heads, making our job easier," Haffner said.

If contacting the department head did not solve the problem for the student, the registration workers tried to schedule him in the same course at another time, he said.

Work is still being done with the department heads to try to fit the 2,800 remaining students into course sections, Haffner added. However, he said that there will still be those who are not completely scheduled by winter registration.

He said that these students will be informed of this when they see their advisors before they register. At this time, they will revise their schedules and fill out a new Number 2 card, he said.

Those who are completely scheduled will go through an abbreviated registration process in Recreation Hall and will not be required to visit department stations, Haffner said.

Complete instructions on registration for students and faculty members will be published later so that the procedure will be clarified, he said.

Haffner said he thought that this registration process will be continued in the spring term.

Hatmen Plan Discussion Groups

The Hat Society Council voted Sunday to form discussion groups to help student-faculty relations.

Commenting upon the decision, Phil Steinhauer, president, said, "Through having discussion groups with the administration and the students, ideas that wouldn't ordinarily be vented, could be discussed."

Steinhauer also said that he has talked to Frank J. Simes, dean of men, and Simes is in received from Gomer Williams, junior in business administration from Harrisburg. In his letter, Williams urged the Council to have as its goal the improvement of student - administration relations.

Simes would be willing to talk with such a group if it were conducted in an orderly fashion, Steinhauer said.

IT'S LATER THAN YOU THINK!

All year long you've been promising yourself to go there. Now the semester is nearly over and you still haven't set foot in the place. Shame on you!

But it's not too late. Right now, this very minute, before you weaken, lift up your head and forward march to the place you have been avoiding ever since school began. I refer, of course, to the library.

Now here you are at the library. That wasn't so bad, was it? Of course not! Go inside. What do you see? A sign that says "NO SMOKING." Go outside. Light a Marlboro. Smoke. Go back inside.

Because now you are ready. Now your trembling resolution is rigid. Now your pulsing psyche is serene. You have been calmed by mild Marlboro. You have been soothed by that fine selectate filter, by that fine full flavor that dotes and pampers and caresses, that lifts the fallen, repairs the shattered, straightens the bent, unravels the knotted, rights the askew, and fastens the unbuttoned.

In the center of the library you see the main circulation desk. Look in the card catalogue for the number of the book you want, write the number on a slip, and hand it to the efficient and obliging young lady at the desk. The efficient and obliging young lady then gives the slip to an efficient and obliging page boy who trots briskly back into the stacks, curls up on a limp leather encyclopedia, and sleeps for an hour or two. Then, puffy but refreshed, he returns your slip to the efficient and obliging young lady at the desk, who tells you one of three things: a) "Your book is out." b) "Your book is at the bindery." c) "Your book is on reserve."

Having learned that the circulation desk hasn't the least intention of ever parting with a book, let us now go into the periodical room. Here we spend hours sifting through an imposing array of magazines—magazines from all the far corners of the earth, magazines of every nature and description—but though we search diligently and well, we cannot find Mad or Playboy.

"You pinned or anything?"

Next let us venture into the reference room. Here in this hushed, vaulted chamber, we find the true scholars of the university—earnest, dedicated young men and women who care for only one thing in the world: the pursuit of knowledge.

Let us eavesdrop for a moment on this erudite couple poring over heavy tomes at the corner table. Hush! She speaks:

SHE: Whatcha readin', hey?
 HE: The Origin of Species. You ever read it?
 SHE: No, but I seen the movie.
 HE: Oh.
 SHE: You like readin'?
 HE: Naah.
 SHE: What do you like?
 HE: Hockey, licorice, girls, stuff like that.
 SHE: Me too, hey.
 HE: You pinned or anything?
 SHE: Well, sort of. I'm wearin a fellow's motorcycle emblem... But it's only platonic.
 HE: Wanna go out for a smoke?
 SHE: Marlboro?
 HE: What else?

And as our learned friends take their leave, let us too wend our way homeward—a trifle weary, perhaps, but enlightened and renewed and better citizens for having spent these happy hours in the library, Aloha, library, aloha!

The makers of Marlboro, who sponsor this column, could write volumes about another one of their fine products—the unfiltered king-size Philip Morris Commander—but we'll only tell you this: Take a leaf from our book. Enjoy a Commander today.

Paine Named to Head Liberals

By DAVE RUNKEL

Liberal party moved into a new phase of its existence as a campus political party Sunday night with the election of an entire new slate of officers and the rejection of a proposal to merge the party with University party.

Whiton Paine, sophomore in psychology from Merion Station, was elected chairman of the party. In commenting on his election Paine said, "I represent the majority will in the party."

"I will continue the original principles of Liberal party and attempt to make it a greater force on campus," he said.

Marc Apter, sophomore in engineering from Union, N.J., was elected vice chairman and Karen Fay, freshman in chemistry and physics from Narberth, was named recording secretary. Sarah Ross, sophomore in meteorology from Altadena, Calif., was elected executive secretary.

Party members also voted not to merge with any other campus political organization. The party had considered uniting with University party earlier this term.

Albert Sharp, predecessor to Paine as party chairman, said in commenting on Paine's election, "I am pessimistic, to say the least, with what the new party chairman can do to preserve political parties on campus. But, I will say, he is representative of the new type of student the party has drawn this year."

"Of the original party members at its founding no one except myself remains and I shall cease to actively work with the party as it now stands," Sharp said.

Sharp was not a candidate for the chairmanship.

Campus party chairman, Dennis Eisman said last night when informed of Liberal party's action, "The people in Liberal party who wanted to sell out their own principles have been defeated. It remains to be seen if the new leadership will alter the direction of the party."

Elliot Newman, University party chairman, said that he was surprised that Liberal party has decided to withdraw their offer to merge with University party.

"But," he added, "I will respect their wishes to remain independent."

Faulkner to Talk for Hillel

Dr. Joseph Faulkner, instructor in sociology, will speak on "The Market Monster" at 7:15 p.m. tomorrow in 119 Osmond for the Hillel on-campus lecture series.

FREE
MEAL TICKETS DAILY
 Except Friday & Saturday
LISTEN TO WMAJ
 10:10
 nightly
 For Details
 Your Student Directory is the key to the
 New College Diner Lucky Number.
New College Diner
 Downtown Between the Movies

"I'm no superman,"
 says Chuck Bednarik
 Rough, tough Chuck Bednarik of the Philadelphia Eagles is a rare bird. He has played both offensive and defensive football. And he says most pros could do the same—if they had the guts. Read his story in this week's Post.
 The Saturday Evening
POST

Exams?

Here's the easy and safe way to keep mentally alert:

It's the safe stay awake tablet—NoDoz®. And it's especially helpful when you must be sharp under pressure. NoDoz helps restore mental alertness in minutes.

NoDoz keeps you alert with the safe awakener found in coffee and tea. Yet NoDoz is faster, handier, more reliable.

Absolutely not habit-forming, NoDoz is so safe it is sold everywhere without prescription. Take it while driving, studying, working, or entertaining.

ANOTHER FINE PRODUCT OF GROVE LABORATORIES

Start Your Christmas Shopping Today By Ordering...

A PENN STATE CLASS RING

Christmas is just around the corner, so why not start the season by ordering a Penn State Class Ring. A visit to the store, a $5.00 deposit, and then your cherished Gift—A Gift that will mean much to you this year and in years to come.

L. G.

In The "A" Store