

Panther Booters Blank Lions

Penn State's soccer team closed its season yesterday against Pitt the same way it has been playing all year—running hard, passing well but not scoring.

The fact that the Lions outshot Pitt 17-11 and completely controlled the ball had little to do with the outcome of the game, which went Pitt's way, 1-0.

The score was a fitting climax to a season of frustrations for coach Ken Hosterman and his booters. The Lions offense simply didn't score enough and as a result State finished with a dismal 3-6 record.

In their first three losses, the Lions averaged one goal per game. Overall the offense scored only 16 goals in nine games.

"It was a terrible game," Hosterman said after the defeat. "We just had no finish. We outshot them, outplayed them and outpassed them, but couldn't get the ball into the net."

Pitt got the only score of the game when forward Bob Cuthbert stole a Lion pass, broke into the clear and booted a bullet into the left corner of the Lion's net at 13:10 of the third quarter. The goal was Cuthbert's 13th of the season.

It was about the only good shot Pitt had all afternoon on the freezing soccer field, but it was good enough to win the game.

"I can't figure out this team," Hosterman said. "They've got me stumped. If no one had been keeping score, by comparison to the two team's play you would think we'd be ahead by five or six goals. But we couldn't get going and get that ball into the nets."

Hosterman said, however, that he is looking for a better team next year. "All signs point to a good club next season if we don't lose any boys by ineligibility," he said.

State's best chance for a score came late in the third quarter when Tom Flanagan drove a shot that just missed the right corner of the Pitt net. The Lions had numerous other chances but Pitt goalie Tom Staab came up with some outstanding saves.

The loss marked the first time State has been shut out this season. The Lions' other losses were to West Chester (4-1), Maryland (5-3), Navy (3-1), Gettysburg (2-1), and Army (4-2). State beat Colgate (4-3), Bucknell (3-2) and Temple (2-1).

1-2-3 KICK—Ed Hinojosa (R) seems to be doing a dance while getting set to boot the ball in yesterday's 1-0 loss to Pitt on the soccer field next to the ice rink. Pitt's Chuck Dunbar races in to check Hinojosa.

Panther Scribe Calls Cowards 'Garbage'

The Daily Collegian learned yesterday that Jim O'Brien, sports editor of the Pitt News, (the University of Pittsburgh's student newspaper), allegedly wrote in his daily column: "I understand that the Collegian Cowards are trying to rebuild their ranks this year, but how can you rebuild on garbage?"

John Black, coach of the undefeated Cowards, said that he was sure his team would take that remark lying down.

In other developments concerning Saturday's big game, Publicity Director Jim "Garbage Mouth" Bukata announced that the contest had been switched from Forbes Field to Shenley Oval. Bukata said that the sale of beer is illegal at Forbes Field.

Cardinals Sign Flood

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Center fielder Curt Flood, who finished strong last season for a .322 batting average, yesterday became the first St. Louis baseball Cardinal to sign his 1962 contract.

"BALLAD OF A SOLDIER"

FOUR Showings this week ONLY

Wed. 8 P.M. Thurs. 3, 7, 9 P.M.

BALLAD OF A SOLDIER is a contemporary (1960) Russian tragedy. Not simply an anti-war film, or a war-torn love story, this film is a lyrical ballad: a tale told with restraint, poignancy, and stunning versatility. A tale of a soldier who does not come back to his mother or to his new-found girlfriend or to Russia. Speaking of the direction by G. Chukhrai, the NEW YORK TIMES said: "Mr. Chukhrai has made his picture flow in such a swift, poetic way that the tragedy of it is concealed by a gentle lyric quality."

The photography and narration smoothly fuse together into a moving and powerful motion picture. BALLAD OF A SOLDIER is one of the finest recent examples of the Film As Art.

Note that because of the Thanksgiving "vacation" we have added one additional showing of the film, tonight at 8 P.M. Also there will be the regular three showings tomorrow, Thanksgiving Day, at 3, 7, and 9 P.M.
