

"IT'S NOT TRUE." To a young man-on-the-street, interviewed yesterday by a distinguished bearded seasonal reporter for The Daily Collegian, persistently denied reports that there is no Santa Claus. Disturbed at the rumor, the reporter is conducting a survey to discover if the statement is true.

Town Parking Rules Changed

No parking will be allowed on the south side of East College Ave., east of Garner St., State College police said recently.

They said the new parking regulation has been in effect only for home football game days but now has been changed to a permanent ruling.

The new regulation is expected to improve the flow of traffic along that section of the avenue.

Petitions Due

Nominating petitions for SGA Assemblymen and freshman, sophomore and junior class presidents must be submitted to the elections commission today, Nancy Williams, chairman of the commission, said last night.

Miss Williams said that she would be in the SGA office in 203 Hetzel Union Building tonight from 6:30 to 11 to receive the petitions.

Several petitions already have been turned in to the commission but have not been checked for the correct number of signatures yet, she said.

Through the Looking Glass

with Gabbi

It's that time again. What time? Time for finals, although it's a wee bit earlier than usual. Time for burning the midnight oil, biting nails (down to your knuckles), smoking many many cigs (maybe even down to the filter), and many other habits that are prevalent during finals.

But let's talk about something much more pleasant—Christmas. If you are unable to sit down and write your Christmas "Shopping list", here is one made out especially for you.

FOR THE WOMAN IN YOUR LIFE

whether she be your mother, sister or girlfriend. In the leather department, Ethel has a new selection of matching wallets and cigarette cases. Some sets even come with an eye glass case and key case.

Ethel's jewelry department is as good as ever. Scarab pins, earrings, bracelets. Or maybe you want to buy "her" the ever popular circle pin in gold or sterling silver.

How about perfume?

FOR THE MAN IN YOUR LIFE

whether he be your dad, brother or beau. A scarf would be the perfect gift for these cold wintry days — in wool or mohair.

FOR YOUR FRIENDS

(if you don't plan to give gifts) a card is the perfect thing to spread this holiday spirit. Buy them separately or in boxes.

For those of you who have already made out your Christmas shopping list, come into Ethel Meserve's this week and take care of all your shopping. You'll find many household gifts for your home (remember, there's no place like it!) and many other wonderful gift suggestions. Don't forget Ethel's "lay-away Plan".

Here's wishing you GOOD LUCK on finals and a MERRY CHRISTMAS and a very HAPPY NEW YEAR.

So long,
Gabbi

2-Car Crash Kills ME Grad

Harutoshi Kakimoto, a research associate in mechanical engineering, was killed and his wife, Shiko, was injured in an automobile accident Saturday night on Rt. 219 about two miles north of Johnsonburg.

The Kakimoto car was struck on the left side by a car driven, apparently at high speed, by James Sample of Wilcox, State Police said. Sample had been traveling north when he suddenly crossed into the path of the Kakimoto car.

Mrs. Kakimoto suffered shock and internal injuries and Sample received a broken jaw plus head and internal injuries. Both Mrs. Kakimoto and Sample were in Elk County General Hospital yesterday.

The Kakimotos were returning to State College from Niagara Falls, N.Y., when the crash occurred. State Police at Ridgeway said both cars were demolished.

The Kakimotos were married in 1960 in Japan and came to the United States the same year so that Mr. Kakimoto could do research at the University.

Kakimoto had a 2-year appointment for research on diesel engines, the subject of his doctoral dissertation.

He studied at Kyoto University in Japan, where he earned his doctor of Philosophy degree in mechanical engineering.

Kakimoto was a member of the Japan Society of Automotive

Engineering, Japan Combustion Research Institute and the International Research Institute. He has co-authored six papers in addition to his thesis, "Swirl and Combustion in Divided Combustion Chamber-Type Diesel Engines."
