(Continued from page three) her best culinary efforts. "A Smorgasbord (buffet) is made for Christmas Eve and is usually carried on throughout the holidays," she said. Among the Italians, boiled capon, with a stuffing of pork, white wine and pistachio nuts, is traditionally served with Tortellini (like ravioli but smaller), she said.

Europeans who settled in Pennsylvania are the Moravians, whose descendants now live around the city of Bethlehem in the eastern part of the state. "The prepare holiday confections many days in advance for their love feast, which is a deeply felt testimony of fellowship," she said. Delicacies served include crisp, paper-thin cookies and soft buns, she said.

IFC Announces Winter Term Rush Schedule

Registration for winter term fraternity rush will take place Jan. 3 and 4 in the Hetzel Union ballroom. Steve Zitmar, Inter-Fraternity Council rush chairman, announced at the IFC meeting Monday night.

Any freshman wishing to take part in the rushing program may register during these two days. Rush will take place during the first six weeks of the winter term.

Bids may be accepted any time but pledging will not start until after this deadline.

Fraternity houses will be open to freshmen any time after 8 a.m. Jan. 8. There is to be no personal contact between rushees and fraternity men before that date.

In other business, it was announced that Jose Ramon Dela Torre, sophomore in aeronautical engineering from Havana, Cuba, received the IFC-sponsored Kent Forester scholarship. This $100 scholarship is awarded each term to an undergraduate foreign student.

Dick Moyer, vice president of IFC, also announced that the Greek games have been postponed until the spring term because of the weather.
