Crippled Cagers Invade Hall, Jonas Tangle Panthers' Lair Tonight In New U.S. Bowl

By JIM KARL

With Bobby Donato and Earl Hoffman still not completely recovered from ankle mental in leading the Lions to a 8-3 record including a Gator sprains, John Egli faces a repeat performance of the last-five games when his Lion cagers Bowl win in 1961, will be pitted against each other in tomortackle Pitt in the Panthers' home lair tonight.

After getting off to one of the fastest starts in Lion basketball history (4-0), Egli's - Hall, the Nittanies' All-East quarterback, will direct the cagers were beset by a series of staggering mishaps and have lost six of their last seven West team against the East and games, including the last five in a row.

First Egli lost sophomore sensation Wayne Lundy, who dropped out of school hours scored this year. The sneedy halfbefore the West Virginia game after being pressured by his father. Then Donato (Ohio back also scored two touchdowns State), and Hoffman (lowa) were lost due to injuries and neither has played since.

Egli got the go-ahead to use both players tonight, but said he may hold them out until Tuesday against Bucknell rather than take a chance on a resprain.

"I might be able to use Donato a little but if its a knock 'em down game like it usually is down there, I'll keep him out.

"Hoffman can play if we need him but we won't take a chance on him either."

Egli had visions of a great year even before his cagers spuried to their four straight wins at the beginning of the year. But he's not letting the unfortunate turn of events get him down. "We still have a schedule to westerday. It's the play," he said yesterday. It's the kids I fell sorry for. Look at John Phillips sitting over there. He's completely beat.
