Tarman to Serve On Publicity Staff

Penn State sports publicity director Jim Tarman has been named District 2 representative to the National Collegiate Athletic Association committee on public relations.

The announcement was made by the NCAA council, which voted on the appointments at its recent meeting in Chicago. Nine others were also named.

Two representatives are Penn State graduates — Fred Stabley of Michigan State, who is chairman of the group, and Baaron Pittenger of Harvard.

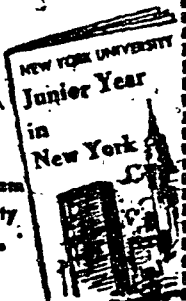

Tarman, whose duties will include the eastern part of the country excluding the New England area, succeeds John Cox of the U.S. Naval Academy. His appointment is for two years.

Ellis Island in New York Bay was America's immigration station from 1892 to 1943 and is named for Samuel Ellis. It is now the chief immigration and deportee center.

Scots to Give $1,000 Grant

St. Andrew's Society, an organization for men of Scottish descent, will award a $1,000 scholarship for a year's study abroad at St. Andrew's University, St. Andrew's, Scotland.

In order to be eligible, a candidate must be a male of Scotch descent in his sophomore year from the Philadelphia area. He must be in the top quarter of his class and be active in extracurricular activities.

The scholarship will cover all expenses at St. Andrew's University and the cost of the trans-Atlantic passage.

During the five years that the scholarship has been awarded, two University students have received it. The current scholarship is held by Craig Bartholomew, junior in Liberal Arts from Philadelphia, who was a student here last year.

All interested applicants should contact Ralph N. Krecker, director of Student Aid, 218 Willard, "as soon as possible."

Of the 10 colleges at the University, the College of Education has the highest number of students enrolled for the winter term.

A total of 2,864 students is enrolled in the various curricula of the education school.

Adding the 294 students enrolled in the College of Physical Education and Athletics, there is a total of 3,158 students enrolled in educational and recreational curricula.

RANKING SECOND in the number of students enrolled for a single college, is the College of the Liberal Arts with 2,596 students.

The College of Engineering and Architecture has 2,582 students enrolled in the various curricula, such as electrical engineering, chemical engineering, mechanical engineering, and aeronautical and space engineering.

A total of 1,581 are enrolled in the various curricula of the College of Business Administration, making it the fourth ranking college in enrollment for the winter term.

The College of Agriculture ranks fifth in enrollment with 1,172 students.

THE COLLEGE OF Chemistry and Physics totals an enrollment of 1,011. The remaining three colleges of Home Economics, (681), Mineral Industries, (489), and Division of Counseling, (909), each have enrollments of less than 1,000 students.

Comparing the enrollments of the four classes for the winter term, the freshman class has 4,130 students; the sophomore class, 3,609 students; the junior class, 3,358 students and the senior class, 2,882 students.

Total University Park enrollment for the winter term is 16,458 students, including undergraduate and graduate students, both part-time and full time. This marks the largest enrollment for the equivalent of a spring semester period, according to Robert G. Bernreuter, registrar.

The enrollment for the 14 Commonwealth campuses is 3,332, bringing the total University enrollment to 21,848 students.

3,000 Tickets Left For Jazz Concert

Over 3,000 student tickets still remain for the University Artists Series presentation of the Modern Jazz Quartet at 8 p.m. Sunday in Recreation Hall.

Ticket distribution will continue from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. and 1 to 5 p.m. today and tomorrow at the Hetzel Union desk. About 800 non-student tickets are still available for $1.25 each.

The Modern Jazz Quartet dates from 1951 when four ex-members of the Dizzy Gillespie band assembled in a New York studio for a recording session. They have since played together frequently and have become established as one of the most popular small ensembles in jazz.

SINCE ITS inception, the MJQ has had only one change in personnel, when Connie Kay replaced drummer Kenny Clark. Other members of the group are John Lewis, pianist and music director; Percy Heath, bass player and Milt Jackson, vibraharp player.

The group has been called the "first pure concert ensemble in jazz" and practices what Raymond H. Brown, associate professor of music, calls "a sophisticated, intellectual approach" to jazz.

The members have attempted to lose their individual personalities in the unit by practicing close rules of stage arrangement and dress. Another innovation they have made is simultaneous improvisation by all members while performing.

It is this practice which Jules Heller, director of the School of the Arts, calls "true improvisation." He said that the group is one of the few that does not present improvisations which are actually rehearsed but sound real.

HELLER COMPARED the Modern Jazz Quartet to West Coast jazz groups in that they are experimenters in structuring a new kind of music.

The MJQ has made four European tours in the last five years and has recently completed a Far Eastern tour of Japan, Australia and New Zealand. In the United States, the group has played on the concert stage as well as in such nightclubs as the Blackhawk in San Francisco and the Village Vanguard in New York.

Freshman Fined For Buying Beer

Henry Muellers, freshman in engineering from Garden City, N.Y., was assessed $36.50 in fines and cost this week by William P. Bell, justice of the peace, after he pleaded guilty to purchasing alcoholic beverages although he is a minor.

Muellers was arrested by State College police last Saturday night. Bell said the police testified that they had stopped Muellers after they saw him walking on Humes Alley with a package under his arm.

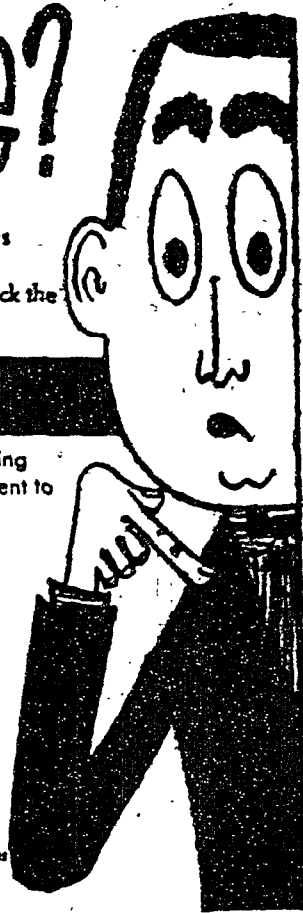

Bell said that Muellers said he had purchased beer at a local sandwich shop and he had not been asked for any identification or proof of age.
