FIVE CENTS

18 Coeds Win Primaries

Eighteen women moved from primary to final balloting in yesterday's Association of Women Students and Women's Recreation Association elections.

Sophomores virtually swept the primaries for AWS second vice president, secretary and treasurer yesterday.

Six positions on the ballot for tomorrow's final elections were filled by five sophomores and one freshman.

JUDY DUQUETTE, freshman in education from Alexandria, Va., and Lynn McTavish, sophomore in home economics from West Chester, captured the top spots in balloting for second vice president with 366 and 346 votes respectively.

Trailing them were Barbara Brown, 232, and Sandra Whiteley, 188.

In the contest for secretary, Shannon Klug, sophomore in medical technology, from Pittsburgh, 328, and Vicki Caplan, sophomore in rehabilitation education from Pittsburgh, 265, will appear on the first ballot. Also running were Marjorie Moran, 175, Emily Workman, 150, Jean Ruhl, 129, and Margaret Raney, 122.

Carole Kersh, sophomore in elementary and kindergarten education from Short Hills, N.J., 324, will oppose Joan Adams, sophomore in liberal arts from Pittsburgh, 297, for treasurer. Other candidates in the primary were Dorothy Ryan, 213, Carolyn Sodini, 117, Sherry Zwayer, 101, and Marjorie Porter, 98.

No primary was held for president or first vice president because there were only two candidates for each office.

Tomorrow will be the sole test of voter strength for AWS presidential candidates Judy Allen, sophomore in chemistry from Pittsburgh, and Janis Somerville, junior in arts and letters from Muncy.

BARBARA FEIT, junior in business administration from Great Neck, N.Y., and Merle Stens, junior in arts and letters from Philadelphia, are running for first vice president.

Twelve candidates for five WRA offices were selected in primary balloting yesterday.

Final elections will be held tomorrow.

Melanie Smith, sophomore in arts and letters from Oakmont, will oppose Carol Wetzel, junior in elementary and kindergarten education from Wilkes-Barre, for WRA vice president. Also running in the primaries were Janis Beachler and Rosalyn Ewan.

SUE BRUCE AND Carol Deaterly will appear on the final ballot for secretary. Carol Haver also ran in the primary. Susie Stough and Jean Mellin defeated Barbara Erwin and Gail McKelvey in the primary for treasurer.

Cynthia Cohen, Linda Ewing, Sue Fisch and Joyce Woolever defeated Jennie Buchanan and Peggy Kammerman in the preliminary election for freshman representative. Two will be elected.

Jane Adams and Bonnie Helmig will run for sophomore representative in the final election. Delores Gomez, Sheila Holt and Carolyn Mower also ran in the primary.

West Plans Reply to 'K'

WASHINGTON (AP) — America and Britain, working yesterday on a response to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's call for an 18-nation summit conference on disarmament next month, had a double goal in mind:

●Leave the way open for a summit conference later;

●Yet not impair the chances of successful disarmament talks or the West's standing in world opinion.

Authorities said they expect to send to Moscow before the end of this week the Western reply to Khrushchev's proposal that the general disarmament conference scheduled to open in Geneva March 14 start off with government chiefs of state attending.

BRITAIN'S PRIME Minister Harold Macmillan followed Secretary of State Dean Rusk's turn-down of the idea. He told the House of Commons yesterday that an 18-nation summit would be a great time-waster. Each head of state would want to make his opening speech on a different day, U.S. authorities figured, and the procedure would lend itself to propaganda rather than serious disarmament negotiating.

The United States and Britain have proposed that the Geneva gathering get under way at the foreign ministers level, while not barring a summit later. The Geneva conference is scheduled to report back to the United Nations by June 1.

MACMILLAN declared he welcomed "the broad spirit" of Khrushchev's proposal. The prime minister said the problem now was to find a way of linking the U.S.-British bid with "the more general ideas which the chairman of the Soviet Union has in mind."

In Moscow diplomatic informants expressed the belief that Khrushchev may go to Geneva even if President Kennedy and Macmillan stayed home.

MACMILLAN indicated under questioning from Laborite opponents that possible U.S. atmospheric atomic testing at British-held Christmas Island would not begin before June 1. He said that because of the time required for preparations, the testing certainly could not start before March 14. The prime minister indicated that the preparation time would be at least three months.

Governor's Budget Passed in Committee

By ANN PALMER

The Senate Appropriations Committee yesterday approved Gov. David L. Lawrence's $1 billion general fund budget recommendations for 1962-63 with only minor changes.

"The 72 bills included in the Governor's budget were all reported out of the committee this afternoon and received their first reading in the Senate today," Sen. Jo Hays, D-Centre, said last night.

The budget bills must be read three times in the Senate before final action may be taken.

HAYS SAID HE didn't offer any amendment to increase the University's state appropriation in committee because "I knew I couldn't get the votes to pass it."

Sen. Harold E. Flack and Sen. Arthur E. Kromer, Republicans, announced last Thursday that they would introduce an amendment in the Senate to increase the University's appropriation by $2½ million.

"I didn't introduce the amendment yesterday," Flack said last night, "because there wasn't time due to the first reading of the budget bills and Lincoln's birthday observances."

Flack said he is still planning to introduce his amendment as soon as possible.

HAYS SAID HE felt that final action on the budget bills and Flack's amendment will not come until Monday.

The Senate will adjourn until Monday after a brief session today.

When asked if any action was taken by the Republican party to amend the University's appropriation in the committee, Flack, not a member of the committee, said: "My amendment will be introduced on the floor of the Senate because we (the Republican party) can better control its fate there. The Appropriations Committee is controlled by Democrats and I don't know if they would have let it go through."

Hays said last Thursday, after the announcement of Flack's intention to amend the appropriation, that he would support the amendment regardless of its Republican sponsorship "if, when the time comes, I feel it is the best way to get more money for the University."

"I SHALL MAKE every effort to see that the University gets as much money as possible," he said.

A similar attempt to increase the University's allocation was made by Rep. Eugene R. Fulmer, R-Centre, on January 30. Fulmer's amendment was defeated in the House Appropriations Committee.

Glenn Readies For Blast-off

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., his scheduled round-the-world orbit flight threatened by Atlantic storms, last night went through final hours of preparation for the scheduled blast-off time at 7:30 a.m. EST today.

A decision was made at 1 this morning after a weather briefing whether to pick up the second half of the split countdown, the first half of which was completed yesterday.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced last night that weather conditions were "marginal" in the Atlantic recovery area east of Bermuda, where Glenn's capsule would land if the mission were terminated after one orbit instead of the intended three.

Earlier, a spokesman said this boiled down to 50-50 odds.

Snow, Sleet Coat Roads; Rain, Milder Weather Due

A dangerous combination of frozen precipitation coated roads and highways with a layer of snow and ice last night as an energetic storm moved toward Pennsylvania from the west.

Snow and sleet began during the evening and quickly became heavy.

Two or three inches of snow and sleet were likely during the night before warmer air moving in aloft changed the precipitation to freezing rain and then to rain.

THE STORM which should be moving through the eastern Great Lakes this morning, has prompted a strong flow of warmer air between 5,000 and 10,000 feet.

Although Pennsylvania will not feel the full effects of that air, which has brought 80-degree temperatures to Missouri and 70-degree reading to Kentucky during the past few days, somewhat milder air should reach the surface today.

Temperatures are expected to climb above freezing today causing some of the snow to melt. Occasional rain should help clear the highways of snow and ice.

A high of 39 degrees is expected this afternoon. Tonight and tomorrow should be partly cloudy and cool. A low of 27 is indicated for tonight and a high of 42 is expected tomorrow.

USG Congress Passes Constitutional By-Laws

By JOAN MEHAN

The USG Congress passed their proposed constitutional by-laws with only minor clarification and addition at a special session last night.

The most significant change was the setting of a quorum at two-thirds of the Congress. The original by-laws proposal set the quorum in accordance with "Robert's Rules of Order Revised" which calls for 51 per cent attendance.

The Congress defeated motions to allow a majority vote to bring legislation to the floor and to institute an alternate attendance system.

THE PRESENT by-laws call for a two-thirds vote of present and voting members of Congress to bring any legislation not on the agenda to the floor.

Speaking against an alternate attendance system, Bruce Harrison, TIM representative, said, "It is a representative's smallest responsibility to attend a meeting. We should be here to represent our constituents," he said.

Ellen Messick, Atherton representative, said that an alternate system would bring more people into student government and would also be good public relations.

The by-laws do not permit a Congressman to send an alternate to a meeting.

THE GALLERY by-laws was extended to allow a member of the gallery to express his opinion for three minutes when recognized by the chairman or when yielded to by a Congressman. The original proposal had only permitted the chairman to recognize a member of the gallery.

PICKETING CONTINUED yesterday at the Garfield Thomas Water Tunnel in a protest by the Centre County Building and Construction Trades Council against work there by Martinsburg contractor W. Floyd Bush. The
