

AWS Will Conduct Final Election Today

By KAY MILLS

Judy Allen, sophomore in chemistry from Pittsburgh, and Janis Somerville, junior in arts and letters from Muncy, go before the voters today in their bids for the Association of Women Students presidency.

Balloting for AWS president, first and second vice presidents, secretary and treasurer will take place from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and 4:30 to 7 p.m. at polls located in each residence area. Commuters and town women may vote in the Hetzel Union Building from 11:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. today.

THE HUB POLL will also be open to any women students presenting their matriculation cards and meal tickets.

Candidates for first vice president are Barbara Feit, junior in business administration from Great Neck, N.Y., and Merle Stens, junior in arts and letters from Philadelphia.

The first vice president has two responsibilities, according to the AWS constitution. She presides at meetings in the president's absence and coordinates community council activities by chairing the Community Councils Board.

TWO CANDIDATES each for the offices of second vice president, secretary and treasurer were selected in primaries on Tuesday.

Running for second vice president are Judy Duquette, freshman in education from Alexandria, Va., and Lynn McTavish, sophomore in home economics from West Chester.

Vicki Caplan, sophomore in rehabilitation education from Pittsburgh, will oppose Shannon Klug, sophomore in medical technology from Pittsburgh, in the contest for secretary.

Nominees for treasurer are Joan Adams, sophomore in liberal arts from Pittsburgh, and Carole Kersh, sophomore in elementary and kindergarten education from Short Hills, N.J.

There was a 28 per cent voter turnout in Tuesday's primary. Carol Tomlinson and Linda Uram, elections commission co-chairmen, anticipate a higher percentage today because candidates for president and first vice president will appear on the ballot.

THESE POSITIONS were not included in the primary election because there were only two candidates for each office.

Constitutionally, the AWS president presides over all meetings of the AWS Senate and executive council. She also has the power to call special meetings and acts as official liaison between AWS and the dean of women's office. Marla Stevens, present AWS president, said.

ICCB Hears First Draft Of Survey

The preliminary questionnaire for student evaluation of the four term system was presented to the Inter-College Council Board recently by Warren Long, Chem-Phys Council representative.

Long said the questionnaire is still in a rough form. A copy of it was distributed to each of the council presidents to take back to their councils for suggestions for change and approval.

THE QUESTIONNAIRE is designed to determine student opinion of the relative merits of the term system as compared to the semester system, Long said. ICCB also hopes to get student views on the length of time between classes, possibility of extra time for final exams, holidays, vacations and type of examinations best suited to the term system, he added.

The completed questionnaire will be distributed to approximately 1,700 students by mail during the second week of the spring term, Ervin Hill, ICCB chairman, said.

In other business the board discussed the possibility of a constitutional change to increase its membership to 20, to provide for two representatives from each college council on the board. The questionnaire will again be considered at the next ICCB meeting after the presidents have had an opportunity to discuss it with their individual councils.

HILL ALSO said that 28 acceptances from business firms have been received for the board's Career Day exposition to be held May 1 and 2 on the first and ground floors of the Hetzel Union building. ICCB has invited representatives from all areas of industry to answer questions from students in any college, Hill said.

Council Plans Continued Picketing

The Centre County Building and Construction Trades Council expects to continue picketing at the Garfield Thomas Water Tunnel "until we can sit down with Mr. Bush and discuss the problem with him," Sidney G. Willar, secretary-treasurer of the council, said yesterday.

W. Floyd Bush, a Martinsburg electrical and general contractor, is doing modernization and improvement work at the water tunnel, located near N. Atherton St. and Pollock Rd.

The council has charged that Bush is "breaking down" working conditions in the Centre County area.

Yesterday was the third day the council has assigned pickets to the tunnel. Willar also said the situation might never have arisen if Bush had attended a meeting last month which the council had scheduled with him.

Charlie B. or Snoopy

You've seen them many times, and now you can vote for your favorite Peanuts comic strip character in a contest to raise money for the World University Service.

Students may cast their ballots — a penny a vote — in Waring dining hall. There will be a jar labeled for each character. The contest is being sponsored by the Religious Affairs Committee in West Halls.

BILLY GRAHAM SPEAKS

A controversial movement is picking up steam. If it succeeds, the Bible will be removed from classrooms. Public-school prayers will be banned. And IN GOD WE TRUST will be taken off our coins. In this week's Post, Billy Graham speaks out against this trend — and tells why he thinks atheists play into Communist hands.
