

TODAY ON CAMPUS

Caucus

The University party will hold a caucus for any interested USG Congressmen at 7 p.m. in the Hetzel Union Building.

Lectures

Dr. Carroll E. Heist, associate professor of bacteriology, will speak on "Blood Typing" at the Rod and Coccus Meeting at 7 p.m. in 205 Patterson.

Dr. Carlfred B. Broderick, associate professor of family relationships, will speak at 7:30 p.m. in 210 Eisenhower Chapel, on "The Book of Mormon as Literature and Scripture."

"Sound Absorption in Insulating Crystals and in Super-fluid Helium below 5 degrees Kelvin." will be the topic of the speech by Dr. Truman O. Woodruff at the Physics Colloquium at 4:15 p.m. in 117 Osmond.

Martin Stiles, professor of chemistry, University of Michigan, will be the guest speaker at the Chemistry Colloquium at 12:40 p.m. in 302 Whitmore.

Entertainment

Five O'Clock Theater will present "Snakes and Nails," a parody of a British murder-melodrama at 5:15 p.m. in the Little Theatre in Old Main.

The play was written by Steve Monheimer, sophomore in liberal arts from Philadelphia, and is being directed by Bert Berdis, senior in business administration from Gary, Indiana.

Other Meetings

- AWS, 7 p.m., 214-215 HUB
- AWS Elections, 11:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., ground floor HUB
- Chess Team, 8 p.m., 218 HUB
- Faculty Bridge, 7:30 p.m., 212 HUB
- International Film "La Strada" (The Stallion), 3, 7, and 9 p.m., HUB assembly
- Mil Ball Committee, 7 p.m., 213 HUB
- USG, 7 p.m., 203 HUB

Frosh Chairmen Named for Dance

Two freshmen, Dick Stover and Grace Ganter, were appointed co-chairmen of the Freshman-Sophomore Dance at the Freshman Class Advisory Board meeting Sunday night.

The dance will be held from 8 to 12 Friday night, March 2, in the Hetzel Union ballroom.

In other business, Thomas Miller, class president, announced plans to divide the board into four standing committees. They are social, service, publications and publicity.

Monday evening Miller appointed as chairmen of these committees: Dick Stover and Grace Ganter, social; Jane Smith and Bruce Trotman, service; Michael Stoll and Barbara Kip, publications; and Diane Hower and Martin Munitz, publicity.

Let Collegian Classifieds WORK FOR YOU

HOW SAFE IS OUR INVESTMENT IN

ARAB OIL

U.S. oil companies have sunk millions into a huge Mideast combine. But now this combine is under fire from a powerful Arab sheik. In this week's Post, you'll learn how the threat of Arab nationalization is affecting American interests. And how Red price cutting will influence U.S.-Arab relations.

The Saturday Evening POST FEBRUARY 17 HAVE NOW ON SALE

Tickets Remain for Sevareid Lecture

Approximately 600 student tickets remain for the University Lecture Series presentation of news analyst Eric Sevareid, speaking on "The Shape of Things to Come," at 8:30 p.m. Saturday in Schwab.

The tickets will be available from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. and from 1 to 5 p.m. today and tomorrow at the Hetzel Union desk. General admission tickets at $1.25 are also available.

SEVAREID, CBS news correspondent has received the Peabody Award for interpretation and reporting the news, the Freedom Medal from Norway and the Alfred I. DuPont Award. In March, 1960 he was awarded an Overseas Press Club Citation for the best interpretation of foreign affairs on radio or television. Sevareid has been a CBS roving reporter based in London since 1959. Before that he was the network's chief Washington correspondent for several years. Before joining the CBS staff 20 years ago, Sevareid worked on the Paris edition of the Herald Tribune and with the United Press.

Sevareid expressed his views on the position the United States occupies in the Cold War in an article titled "The Facts of Life" appearing in the July 6, 1961 issue of "The Reporter," magazine.

"THE SHOWDOWN with Communist conspiracy is on," he said. "We have entered the final stage of the long struggle to determine if we can hold our world position short of a great war." Sevareid wrote of the advances made by the Communists in North Africa, Central Africa, Southeast Asia and Latin-America. He added that Khrushchev's "great game of isolating the United States, impoverishing it and breaking it's will" will soon be all over.

In the article, Sevareid quoted a remark by Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara to the effect that the Communists are gaining in South Vietnam not because of economic or political problems in the country but with guns, grenades and guerrilla warfare.

"We must face the fact that we will lose in places we cannot afford to lose unless we are willing to fight," Sevareid wrote. He added that the U.S. must disregard world opinion against aggression.

"We can afford to lose everything except respect for our strength and determination," he concluded.

Morehouse President Endorses Segregation Picketing, Boycotts

Boycotting and picketing are breaking down the barriers of racial prejudice in the South, Dr. Benjamin Mays, president of Morehouse College in Atlanta, Ga., said Monday.

Mays spoke at the ninth annual Brotherhood Banquet sponsored by the University Inter-Religious Affairs Committee.

Boycotting and picketing stimulate people to reflect upon their Christian, democratic and ethical values, Mays said. He added that he doesn't approve of violence in these demonstrations.

In both the North and the South, discrimination against Negroes exists in housing and employment, he said. In both areas of the country, he explained, many white residents move away when a Negro moves into a neighborhood.

Although public transportation, auditoriums in Atlanta are now open to Negroes, white church congregations still do not admit Negroes, he explained.

However, the relationship in Atlanta between Whites and Negroes is better today since some integration has been achieved, but friction between the two groups remains, Mays said.

He recalled he "had no friends across racial lines in South Carolina," and added that he made no white friends until he studied at the University of Chicago.

Interfaith brotherhood is restricted by barriers between Judaism and Christianity, he said. Also on the banquet program Cantor Judah Smith, of the Brith Emeth Congregation in Cleveland, Ohio, led several group songs and sang "No Man's Island."

The LaMachol Dance Group of the Hillel Foundation also entertained at the banquet. The group danced to "Hanokdin" (The Shepherds) and "Ken Yovdu" (Thou Shalt Perish in the Desert).

More Snow Expected Tonight--

(Continued from page one) as the storm continues eastward toward the Commonwealth.

The snow may become mixed with sleet or rain late tonight or tomorrow morning, but two to possibly five inches of new snow is expected to accumulate by tomorrow.

Temperatures went above freezing for a brief period yesterday allowing some of the snow to melt on well-traveled roads and highways. However, the mercury dipped below 32 degrees again during the late afternoon and all roads in the state are expected to be treacherous this morning.

Some sunshine and above freezing temperatures this afternoon should help clear all well-traveled roads of residual snow and ice.

As was the case with last Friday's storm, yesterday's snowstorm struck hardest at central and southeastern Pennsylvania.

Snow began in the Philadelphia area shortly before 2 a.m., and by dawn four inches of snow had accumulated.

Today should be mostly cloudy and cold with increasing and thickening cloudiness toward evening. A high of 35 is expected.

Snow should begin late this evening and continue through the night. A low of 24 is indicated for tonight.

Sleet, snow or rain is likely tomorrow morning, and snow flurries, windy and colder weather are expected during the afternoon.

New College Diner

Downtown University Park

THURSDAY STUDENT SPECIALS

VEAL CUTLET with Tomato Sauce Choice of One Vegetable Bread and Butter 85c

O'BOY SANDWICH with French Fries 65c

DUTCH PANTRY
FAMILY RESTAURANTS
230 E. College Ave.
State College, Pa.
AD 7-7035

Prof Receives Grant

Dr. Byron C. Bloomfield, associate professor of architectural engineering, has received a $3,500 grant from the National Institute of Health to abstract proceedings of a series of conferences held by the National Institute of Mental Health within the past five years.

Junior Year in New York

An unusual one-year college program.

Write for brochure to

Junior Year Program
New York University
New York 3, N. Y.

BIKE
REPAIRS
PARTS
ACCESSORIES

Western Auto
Satisfaction Guaranteed
200 W. College Ave.
AD 7-7992

Valentine Candlelight Dinner
HUB Terrace Room
Thursday, Feb. 15
5:00 - 8:45 P.M.

CHEMICAL GRADUATES

Atlas, a medium-sized, diversified chemical organization offers opportunity and responsibility to qualified men at all degree levels in Chemistry and Chemical Engineering.

Training through orientation and on-the-job assignments assist new members of our technical staff to adjust rapidly to the stimulating world of industrial chemistry.

Listing our major products—polyols, polyester resins, surfactants, activated carbons, pharmaceuticals, explosives—only partially indicates the variety of our interests. Employment is available in product development, process development, product research, production supervision, quality control, and other areas.

Advancement on merit, interesting projects, tuition aid, modern facilities, and planned programs of personal development all suit the man interested in his future.

See your placement officer now. Make an appointment to discuss your career opportunities with our representative who will visit your campus on—

March 8, 1962

ATLAS
ATLAS CHEMICAL INDUSTRIES, INC.
An equal opportunity employer. WILMINGTON 99, DELAWARE