

Architects Prepare HUB Addition Plans

By SANDY YAGGI

Plans of the proposed extension to the Hetzel Union building are currently in the hands of an architect for final drawing, Stanley H. Campbell, vice president for business, said yesterday.

However, he added, this does not mean that any immediate action is expected on the project.

Original plans for the extension project were made about two years ago, after authorization by the Board of Trustees, Campbell said. Plans proposed at that time were not acceptable and are now being reworked.

CAMPBELL SAID it will be his job to present the completed architect's plans to the trustees for approval.

Recently, Robert G. Bernreuter, special assistant to the president for student affairs, said when the first plans were submitted to the trustees it did seem like a good time to make the necessary capital outlay to complete them.

Commenting on the project, Bernreuter cited plans made for a Recreation Hall extension. He said that although these plans were made a year before those for the HUB, they have not yet been implemented.

"IT TAKES A long time to complete plans that are agreeable to everyone involved in the project," he said.

After general plans are approved by the trustees, he said, the detailed plans must also be presented for approval. Construction bids are then accepted. Only after the bid is let can construction begin.

It is not unusual for such a process to take two or three years, Bernreuter said. If the board feels it is a good time for such spending, it can hurry the architect's planning. This does not seem to be the case, he said.

George L. Donovan, coordinator of student activities, said that he feels there is definitely a need for more facilities in the HUB.

ALTHOUGH DETAILS about the additions are not yet available, Donovan said that the HUB needs more meeting rooms, a larger ballroom and facilities for quite a few organizations which have no space allotted to them at present.

"If any extension is going to be added to the HUB," Donovan said, "it is the students who are going to make it possible."

The money for the HUB comes from fees paid by the students every term, he said, and the students are going to have to take an interest in this project if it is going to be developed further.

10 Classrooms Open for Study On Evenings

Ten classrooms are now available for use as study rooms on week nights and two rooms are available for use Saturday and Sunday afternoons, Barbara Johnson, Inter-College Council Board secretary, said yesterday.

The rooms were opened to alleviate the crowded conditions at Pattee Library, she said. ICCB received permission for students to use two rooms in Boucke last term during finals, she explained, but these rooms have proved to be inadequate accommodations for all the students.

THE FOLLOWING ROOMS will be open from 7 to 11 p.m.: 309 and 310 Tyson, Sunday through Friday; 107 and 211 Boucke, Monday through Friday; 113 Osmond, Sunday through Friday; 229 Mineral Industries, Monday through Friday; White Hall, general game room, Sunday through Friday; 313 Willard, Monday through Friday; 109 Temporary, Monday through Friday; and second floor Hammond, Sunday through Friday.

Rooms 107 and 211 Boucke will be open from 1 to 11 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Judges Pick Queen Semi-Finalists

Ten co-eds have been selected in arts and letters from Berea, Ohio, from 53 applicants in the Mil Ball Queen semi-finals. Twelve non-commissioned officers representing Army, Navy and Air ROTC acted as judges.

Those selected are Robin Brooks, senior in elementary education from Erie; Joan Dercole, sophomore in arts and letters from Aliquippa; Kathryn Dodge, junior in arts and letters from Framingham, Mass.; Janet Geiger, sophomore in arts and letters from Verona, N.J.; Penny Gray, senior in arts and letters from Berea, Ohio. Diana Leedy, junior in arts and letters from Lebanon; Marilyn Mango, sophomore in secondary education from Erie; Mariesta Patterson, freshman in art education from Oakdale; Margaret Ann Thompson, sophomore in counseling from Pittsburgh; and Carole Wenner, junior in medical technology from Emmaus. Five finalists will be chosen after each of the semi-finalists is interviewed by three, as of yet unnamed, judges at 6:30 tonight in 213 Hetzel Union Building.

HOW TO BE A BWOC

Ladies, let me be frank. The days of the college year dwindle down to a precious few. And some of you—let's face it—have not yet become BWOC's. Yes, I know, you've been busy what with going to class and walking your cheetah, but really, ladies, becoming a BWOC is so easy if you'll only follow a few simple rules.

The first and most basic step on the road to being a BWOC is to attract attention. Get yourself noticed. But be very, very careful not to do it the wrong way. I mean, any old girl is bound to be noticed if she goes around with a placard that says, "HEY! LOOKIT ME!" Don't you make such a horrid gaffe. On your placard put: "ZUT! REGARDEZ MOI!" This, as you can see, lends a whole new dimension of tone and dignity.

Once you have been noticed, it is no longer necessary to carry the placard. It will suffice if, from time to time, you make distinctive noises. If, for instance, every three or four minutes you cry, "Whippoorwill!" you cannot but stay fresh in the minds of onlookers.

We come now to clothes, a vital accessory to the BWOC—indeed, to any girl who wishes to remain out of jail. But to the BWOC clothes are more than just a decent cover; they are, it is not too much to say, a way of life.

This spring the "little boy look" is all the rage on campus. Every coed, in a mad effort to look like a little boy, is wearing short pants, knee sox, and boyshirts. But the BWOC is doing more. She has gone the whole hog in achieving little boyhood. She has frogs in her pockets, scabs on her knees, down on her upper lip, and is followed everywhere by a dog named Spot. All this, of course, is only by day. When evening falls and her date comes calling, the BWOC is the very picture of chic femininity. She dresses in severe, simple basic black, relieved only by a fourteen pound charm bracelet. Her hair is exquisitely coiffed, with a fresh rubber band around the pony tail. Her daytime sneakers have been replaced by fashionable high heeled pumps, and she does not remove them until she gets to the movies.

After the movies, at the campus cafe, the BWOC undergoes her severest test. The true BWOC will never, never, never, order the entire menu. This is gluttony and can only cause one's date to blanch. The true BWOC will pick six or seven good entrees and then have nothing more till dessert. This is class and is the hallmark of the true BWOC.

Finally, the BWOC, upon being asked by the cigarette vendor which is the brand of her choice, will always reply, "Marlboro, of course!" For any girl knows that a Marlboro in one's hand stamps one instantly as a person of taste and discernment, as the possessor of an educated palate, as a connoisseur of the finer, loftier pleasures. This Marlboro, this badge of savoir-faire, comes to you in flip-top boxes that flip or in soft packs that are soft, with a filter that filters and a flavor that is flavorful, in all fifty states of the Union and Duluth.

BWOC: Buy Marlboro On Campus. Buy them downtown, too. Either place, you get a lot to like.

Singers Concert Set for Tomorrow

The Penn State Singers will present their first concert of the year at 8 p.m., tomorrow in the Hetzel Union assembly.

Dorothy Muller, contralto, and Dale Livingston, baritone, will be the featured soloists. Miss Muller will sing Bach's "Schlage doch, gewünschte Stunde" and will be accompanied by a string ensemble. Livingston will sing "At Her Faire Hands" by Martin Peerson.

A brass quartet with Henry Yeager and Fred Swope on trumpet; Maynard Burley and David Fluck on trombone will be featured in the choral number "Ein Feste Burg ist unser Gott" by Bach. Leonard Raver, chapel organist, will play in "The Carman's Whistle" by William Byrd on the harpsicord.

Prudence della-Cioppa, soprano, and Miss Muller will sing a duet, "Sing, love is blind" by Peerson. A trio with Roger Clisby, tenor; David Watkins, tenor; and Dale Livingston, baritone, will sing "Amo, Amas I Love a Lass."

You'll never be popular if you spend all your time taking advantage of your right of free speech.
