

Pittsburgh Coach Seeks 100th Mat Win Tonight

By DEAN BILLICK
Assistant Sports Editor

Pittsburgh wrestling fans have a celebration cake baked for their coach Rex Peery, but the veteran Panther mentor isn't "counting his chickens before they're hatched."

Peery goes after his 100th collegiate coaching victory tonight against Penn State's 5-2-1 grapplers, and he isn't taking the meet as lightly as some of the fans.

It's no wonder. The Panthers and State have met 19 times in dual meets with the Lions winning 14 of them. In fact, State is one of only two schools to hold a series edge over the Panthers.

THE LION JINX is even more amazing when you consider Peery's 99-32-4 record at Pitt.

Time and again State has gone into the Pitt match as the underdog and time and again the Lions have managed to win. Pitt will be a decided favorite tonight.

The Panthers are 6-1-1, their only loss coming last week against second-ranked Lehigh, 17-14. They boast three unbeaten wrestlers and two others that have lost just once. But still Peery isn't confident.

"STATE WILL BE coming here with a fairly poor record, but don't let that fool you," Peery told a luncheon group earlier this week in Pittsburgh. "They have the personnel to switch around and could give us trouble."

Last week against Syracuse Lion coach Charlie Speidel juggled his lineup so fast he looked like a man handling hot potatoes. It all went for naught though, as the Orange held State to a 15-15 tie.

Tonight Speidel again expects

DARYL KELVINGTON
... EIWA runner-up to juggle the lineup, but indications point to a different strategy than last time.

"Pitt has to place its man on the mat first so we'll have the advantage this time," Speidel said before leaving for Pittsburgh.

STATE COULD use Denny Slattery at 123, Bob Haney at 130, Dick Campbell at 137, George Edwards at 147, Ron Pifer at 157, John Barone at 167, Bill Polacek at 177, Phil Myer at 191 and Ed Pohland at heavyweight.

Pitt will probably counter with Dick Martin (8-0) at 123, Sherm Moyer (2-4-2) at 130, John Zolnikoff (7-0) at 137, Daryl Kelvington (6-1-1) at 147, August Arrigone (4-3-1) at 157, Jim Harrison (7-0-1) at 167, Ken Barr (6-1) at 177, Tom Jefferies (5-2-1) at 191 and Jeff Ware (1-4) at heavyweight.

Fencers Need Upset For Winning Season

By IRA MILLER

Penn State's fencers close out their abbreviated dual-meet campaign against Cornell at 3 p.m. today in Rec Hall. Coach Dick Klima's Nittany swordmen, who re-entered competition this year after an 11-year lapse, need a victory for a winning season. State has had two meets this season, beating Johns Hopkins, 15-12, and bowing to Syracuse, 14-13.

The Lions face an arduous task, however. The Big Red come into this meet with impressive credentials—including a 6-1 record this season.

IN THEIR MOST recent outing Thursday coach Raoul Sudre's New Yorkers routed MIT, 21-6. They also have defeated Buffalo, 19-8; Penn, 20-7; Harvard, 15-12; Syracuse, 17-10 and Yale, 15-12. Columbia handed Cornell its only defeat of the season last Saturday, 18-9.

The Big Red will present a strong, well-balanced lineup. It is this balance, combined with greater experience, which rates them an edge over the Lions.

Alan Woolf, fifth in last year's ECAC epee competition and one of the favorites for this year's title, will lead Cornell in his specialty. He'll be joined by Dave Jordan and either Chuck Shields or Andy Hospider.

State will counter with Dave Lewis, Bob Oliver and either Barry Smith or Steve Serepca.

In the foil competition, Cornell will start Mike Sanders. John Stotsenburg and Laszlo Szerenyi Sanders is one of the favorites for this year's ECAC foil crown.

Cornell is expected to dominate the foil competition against State's undefeated Art Fuller, Joe Bubinak and Nainuchit Chaturachinta. Ron Buszko is an outside possibility to break into the starting lineup, however.

Closest competition of the day is expected in the sabre dueling where State's powerful trio of Larry Chamberlain, Chick Poole and Earl Lakier will run up against an equally imposing unit of Don Mason, Mark Richman and Dave Feigenbaum.

Over the years State has defeated Cornell in fencing just once. That lone triumph came in the first meeting between the schools in 1934, 9-8. The Big Red have emerged triumphant 11 times since, then, usually by lopsided scores.

In their most recent meeting Cornell won 16-11 in 1951.

The Big Red's most lopsided win in the series was by a 20-7 count in 1950. The only shutout in the series was Cornell's 9-0 win in 1939.

TKE, Balsam Gain IM Swim Wins

By KEN DENLINGER

Tau Kappa Epsilon may be a dry house, but it proved to be no stranger to water last night, sweeping to a 37-3 victory over Zeta Beta Tau in IM swimming at Glennland Pool.

Minus ace freestyler Jack Borgerding, Teke copped first and second places in all events to establish itself as a definite contender for the fraternity championship.

Leading the onslaught was Bob Turring, with wins in the freestyle and breaststroke, Bob Dimock, clocked in 41.6 seconds for the backstroke, and Fred Good, who edged teammate Vic Brandenburg, 18.8 to 18.6, in diving. Teke's relay team of Dimock, Brandenburg, Ralph Colaizza, and Cliff Wise were timed in 1:04.5.

"I don't expect TKE to score too many more runaway wins like this one," IM director Dutch Sykes said, "however they're certainly a team to watch in the meets to come."

In almost the same sort of mismatch, Balsam house overwhelmed Linden 32-9.

Tom Ferguson's opening 35.0 freestyle win gave Balsam a quick seven-point lead, and it was no contest from there on. Other victors for Balsam were Bill Crucelius with a 44.6 breaststroke, and Jerry Grossman, who took the diving with a 13.5 score.

Balsam's relay team, composed of Eric Vander, Walt Miller, Nat Carter and Ferguson won the relay in 1:10.1. Lyons 3 won the other meet on a forfeit by Northampton.

Moon Signs LA Pact

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Wally Moon became the highest paid Dodger player yesterday when he signed a 1962 contract that reportedly will pay him $40,000.

Moon, 31, was the club's leading hitter in 1961 with an average of .328.
