

Indiana Aids 4 Schools

By ANN PALMER

(This is the last of a series of articles examining various systems of state-supported colleges and universities in the United States.)

Coordination among the state-aided schools of Indiana is currently carried on by a voluntary organization which was created with an initial push from the state legislature.

The state of Indiana has four state-supported institutions: two universities, Purdue and Indiana University; and two state teachers colleges: Ball State Teachers College and Indiana State Teachers College.

BETWEEN 1925 AND 1950, the state appropriations to the Indiana University and Purdue were equal. This proved unsatisfactory, however, when the two schools began to specialize in different fields and adopted different enrollment policies.

In 1949, the state legislature, realizing the insufficiency of its appropriation policy, asked the four institutions to cooperate in compiling a formula to compare the needs of each school.

THE COOPERATIVE study which ensued was carried on by representatives of the four schools forming an Inter-Institutional Study Committee.

The results of the study compared the four schools in six areas: 1) physical facilities; 2) student-faculty statistics; 3) unit costs; 4) financial operation; 5) ability and effort of the state to support higher education; 6) present and future educational programs.

The Inter-Institutional Committee reports these findings periodically to the legislature and authorities claim it has furthered good relations between government and schools by providing a common ground on which to determine appropriations of funds.

BOTH PURDUE and Indiana University are governed by individual boards of trustees. Neither is constitutionally independent, however, and both are subject to administration by the fiscal officials.

The two teachers' colleges fall under the jurisdiction of a single State Teachers College Board.

Indiana has no provision for community colleges based on local tax districts. However, each of the universities maintains extension centers throughout the state.

Herman B. Wells, president of Indiana University, has attributed the success of the voluntary Inter-Institutional Committee to its practice of submitting general educational needs to the legislature rather than "listing all of the required purchases of services, supplies, tape and sealing wax." Wells feels a general picture of educational plans is more appealing to the layman, and to the legislators, than a detailed analysis.

10 LA Seniors Receive Awards

Ten liberal arts seniors were given awards Thursday at the annual Liberal Arts Council banquet.

Recipients of the awards must have at least a 2.8 All-University average and "have shown outstanding leadership and made contributions to the College of Liberal Arts and the University," Morris Baker, president, said yesterday.

Seniors who received the awards are Roberta Beatty from Towanda; Virginia Brooks, Philadelphia; Patricia Dyer, Shippensburg; Marianne Ellis, Washington, D.C.; Majorie Ganter, Bethel Park.

FRANCINE GARFINKEL, Newark, N.J.; Barbara Hackman, Landisville; Diane Lipner, Bellefonte; Virginia Walker, Arlington, Va.; and Barbara Yunk, Pittsburgh.

Benjamin Euwema, dean of the College of Liberal Arts, presented the awards to the seniors.

Next term the council is planning to continue publishing its newsletter, the Leviathan, for liberal arts students, Baker said.

Several members of the council will attend some of the faculty and committee meetings in the college next term, he said.

ALTHOUGH THE council's request for permission to attend any committee meetings in the college was denied recently, Warren S. Smith, secretary of the Liberal Arts Planning Committee, said that council members may attend committee meetings to which they are invited.

Smith said that all the committees in the college would be urged to invite members of the council to their meetings whenever it was felt this action would be mutually beneficial.

Senior Fined $61.50

George Bakale, senior in chemistry from Sidman, was assessed $61.50 in fines and costs Tuesday by Justice of the Peace Guy G. Mills. Mills said Bakale was found guilty of a disorderly conduct charge that stemmed from a disturbance he created in Woolworth's.

Golding Set as First Speaker In 'Book of the Term' Series

William Golding, author of "The Lord of the Flies," will deliver a lecture open to the public at 8 p.m., Tuesday in the Hetzel Union assembly.

Golding's talk is being sponsored by Cwens, sophomore women's hat society. He will be the first "Book of the Term" program.

This series is aimed toward promoting the responsibility of college students towards reading and establishing a better intellectual common ground between students and faculty, Suzann Andrews, program chairman, said.

One author will be featured by the program, each term. The speech will be followed by discussions and panels on the different aspects of the book. These programs will be held throughout the term on an All-University level, Miss Andrews said.

Golding, a native of Great Britain, is now a visiting professor at Hollins College in Virginia.

Miss Andrews said that "Lord of the Flies," one of Golding's first works, traces the defects of society to the defects of human nature. Its moral is that the shape of society depends on the ethical nature of the individual rather than on any political system.

STATE Last Day!

"Light in The Piazza"

SUN.-MON.-TUES.

TOMMY NOONAN - PETE MARSHALL - BARBARA EDEN

SWINGIN' ALONG

GUEST STARRING

RAY CHARLES - ROGER WILLIAMS - BOBBY VEE

20

SUNDAY 3:34, 6:40, 9:46

MONDAY 3:28, 6:34, 9:40

WALKER AVENUE

20

SUNDAY 2:00, 5:06, 8:12

MONDAY 1:54, 5:00, 8:06

Orange Blossom

CRABTREE'S

State College, Pa.

SUNDAY 2:00, 5:06, 8:12

MONDAY 1:54, 5:00, 8:06

Special LATE SHOW

MAJOR STUDIO PREVIEW

TONITE ... 11:30 P.M.

Sorry we can't tell the title, but it's a story concerning a lot of sex and not enough Love! ... come early and stay late!

CATHAUM

• NOW SHOWING •

Nominated

4 ACADEMY AWARDS!

LAURENCE HARVEY
GERALDINE PAGE

Today 1:15-3:15-5:15-7:20-9:30

Sun. 2:15-4:35-6:50-9:05 P.M.

NITTANY

"A THRILLER"

...as fascinating as it is dazzlingly beautiful!"

-N.Y. Times

"FIRST-RATE THRILLER - A DANDY!"

-Cue

"Recommended!"

-The New Yorker

purple moon

"BREATHTAKING!"

-LIFE

Technicolor

Today 1:30-3:30-5:30-7:30-9:30

Sunday 2:30-4:45-7:00-9:00

THIS WEEKEND ON CAMPUS

ENTERTAINMENT

The Penn State Artists' Series will present Pierrette Alarie, soprano, and Leopold Simoneau, tenor, at 8:30 tonight in Schwab. Tickets are still available at the Hetzel Union desk.

The Peace Corps will sponsor a dance open to all students from 8 to 11 tonight in the HUB ballroom.

The film "The Great Imposter" starring Tony Curtis and Edmond O'Brien will be shown at 7:30 and 9:30 tonight and at 6:30 tomorrow night in the Hetzel Union assembly. Tickets are available at the HUB desk for 25 cents.

RELIGION

The Roman Catholic Church will hold masses tomorrow at 9 a.m. in Schwab, and at 10:15 and 11:15 in the HUB ballroom.

OTHER MEETINGS

TODAY

Angel Flight, 2 p.m., HUB ballroom

PSEA, 1 p.m., 212 HUB

Testing for incoming freshmen, 9 a.m.-4 p.m., 214-216 HUB

TOMORROW

Church Service, 9 a.m.-1 p.m., HUB ballroom

Folklore Society, 6:30 p.m., HUB ballroom

Freshman Class Advisory Board, 7:30 p.m., 213 HUB

Junior Class Advisory Board, 1:30 p.m., 218 HUB

Swedenborgian, 10:30 a.m., 212-213 HUB

USG Appropriations Committee, 2 p.m., 212 HUB

MONDAY

Alpha Phi Omega, 7 p.m., 212-213 HUB

Bridge Club, 6:30 p.m., HUB cardroom

Counseling for incoming freshmen, 9 a.m.-2:30 p.m., HUB assembly

Dean of Women meets with incoming freshmen, 11 p.m., 214-216 HUB

P.S. Bible Fellowship, 7 p.m., 214 HUB

Testing for incoming freshmen, 9 a.m.-4 p.m., 217-218 HUB

Prof Publishes Articles

Dr. Chadwick C. Hansen, assistant professor of English, is the author of two articles published in "The American Renaissance: the History of Literature of an Era," edited by George Hendrick, of Frankfurt University.

The articles are titled, "Ralph Waldo Emerson's 'Nature'" and "Walt Whitman's 'Song of Myself'."

The Pennsylvania State University

Artists' Series

presents

Pierrette ALARIE soprano

Leopold SIMONEAU tenor

in a joint recital

8:30 P.M. TONIGHT

SCHWAB AUDITORIUM

TICKETS ARE STILL AVAILABLE

at Main Desk, Hetzel Union Bldg.

No charge to students

$1.25 to the general public.