

Housing List to Remain Unchanged

The State College Chamber of Commerce plans no change in the procedure of collecting data from property owners on available housing in this area, a group spokesman said yesterday.

He said the group is abiding within and in fact obeying the recently passed state Fair Housing Law in not soliciting information on whether landlords practice discrimination in renting housing facilities.

THE CHAMBER of Commerce recently established a housing list for prospective residents containing only information on the type of room or rooms available, location, rental price and the date of occupancy.

Property owners may have their names placed on the list by calling the Chamber of Commerce office at AD 7-7844. Students may obtain copies of the housing list which was mimeographed yesterday. About 150 housing facilities are now listed.

The chamber does not and will not ask for information on occupant preference because a section of the housing law passed last September makes it illegal to practice discrimination in renting dwelling facilities.

THIS SECTION which was passed by the Pennsylvania Human Relations Commission states "no person shall make an inquiry, solicit information, make or keep any record or use any form of application containing questions or entries concerning race, color, religious creed, ancestry or national origin in the connection with the sale or lease (rent) of any commercial housing facility."

The Chamber of Commerce, therefore, only lists information about the housing facility itself, an informed source said last night. The Undergraduate Student Government housing list includes the same information but lists only those housing facilities which are specifically designated as non-discriminatory.

LEGALLY EACH group can organize their housing list in the way they wish and follow what seems to them to be an acceptable method, the source said.

HEc Weekend Will Feature Panel, Talks

Twelve University students from other countries will participate in panel discussion on "Life in My Country — Teenagers Around the World," as a special feature of the annual Home Economics Spring Weekend to be held April 13-14.

The panel, along with lectures, exhibits and movies will contribute to this year's theme, "Families Around the World — Technical and Human Development."

Undergraduates, masters and doctoral degree candidates from different areas of the world will attempt to acquaint professional people, students, parents and high school students visiting campus with glimpses of family life in their homeland.

Hazel M. Hatcher, professor of home economics education, will moderate the panel discussions scheduled for 12:45, April 13, and 11:10, April 14, in Home Economics South.

Keynote speaker Lawrence E. Dennis, associate director of the Peace Corps and former University administrator, will open the weekend's activities with an address scheduled for 7:30 p.m., April 13, in Schwab. Dennis' address will be open to the public.

Cold Weather Expected to Continue

The unseasonably cold arctic air that invaded the Commonwealth Saturday and caused snow flurries Saturday night and Sunday evening should continue to dominate the local weather pattern today.

Temperatures were forecast to skid to near record minimums early today. Mercury readings were expected to range from the teens in northern counties to the low 30's in the Philadelphia area.

Partially sunny skies should take some of the bite out of the low temperatures and brisk winds today but a high of only 46 degrees is predicted for the afternoon.

As the center of the cold air passes across the state tonight temperatures are again expected to fall well below the freezing mark. A low of 25 is indicated for the local area.

Some modification of the arctic air is expected tomorrow and a high of 52 is likely.

A new surge of cold air could sweep out of Canada Thursday causing the winter-like temperatures to persist into the weekend.

Frosh Gets New Post With Advisory Board

Martin Munitz, in education from Jamaica, N.Y., replaced Bruce Parker, in business administration from Scranton, as chairman of the Freshman Class Advisory Board Sunday night.

Burton Neil, in business administration from Pittsburgh, was elected to replace Munitz as president pro tempore.

In other business the board passed a motion to sponsor a car wash April 14 in the Hetzel Union parking lot. The proceeds will go toward the class gift fund.

Returning to reality after a vacation must be done slowly and gracefully lest we get the bends. The transition from skiing in the snow laden mountains of Vermont to the clannish hills of Centre County requires a certain degree of decompression.

By the way, anyone interested in a pair of skis used one season? (HEAD VECTORS, 7 feet, with Marker safety release).

Mil Ball party pix are now in our display case. We still have 2 extra copies of each picture (also of parties not on display) available to first come, first serve.

Outstanding at this past weekend's parties as observed by our wandering eye was A G Delta's Miss Constantine gowned in a magnificent Tunic bubble of turquoise organza.

A D Pi's party at AGR was beautifully enhanced by a sweeping arrangement of stars cleverly suspended in mid-air.

Both parties, photographed in color, will be on display in a few days.

Spring has sprung The grass has ris I wonder where the birdies is! Yes! spring is here — finally! Have you noticed that it seems like there are many many more students on-campus than there were last term? As soon as the first sign of spring appears, so do all the students! Their winter hibernation has ended.

Ethel Meserve's keeps up with the seasons. There you will find new spring and summer items. Stop in this week — to buy or browse.

HATS, HATS, HATS . . . of all kinds, shapes, and colors. Ethel has straw hats for you gals for the beach, for golf, and for sunning yourselves. You may not be an expert golfer, but you sure will look good on the golf course — that is, if you wear Ethel's golf-type hat. They will protect your hair from the sun (especially bleached hair)! So, this summer, be the one on the beach and golf course with the sharpest looking hat.

HEY, FRESHMEN!! Are you set yet?? Still busy decorating your room? Don't forget about the desk! Of course you will need a nice leather desk blotter. How about a letter holder (for all your fan letters!), a letter opener, and a memo pad to match? Ethel has 'em all!

Good luck this term!! Must run! Gabbi
