

Cronin Sees Communism As Dual Threat to U.S.

Communism poses a threat to the United States both militarily and economically, The Rev. John F. Cronin, assistant director of the social action department of the National Catholic Welfare Conference in Washington, D.C., said last night. Cronin spoke at the concluding lecture of the "You and the Communist Challenge" program.

The Communists' new military strategy, Cronin said, is to provide support to guerilla forces in a country engaged in a "war of liberation." Because of the support of the Communists, the guerilla forces usually win and the Communists thus gain control of the country.

In the economic sphere, the Rev. John F. Cronin said, Communists can often sway underdeveloped countries eager to improve their society by pointing to their own rapid economic gains, Cronin said.

KHRUSHCHEV OFTEN says that Russia has improved its standard of living greatly in 16 years, while the American plan of financial aid and technical assistance may take 150 years to show improvement, he said.

To combat these threats, the United States must strengthen its alliance with Western Europe, Cronin said, but this country's present anti-colonialism policy alienates these allies. The U.S. must examine its present foreign policy, then, and eliminate the policies which antagonize our allies.

OUR APPEAL for the spread of democracy is not so convincing, he said, because, although we stress the equality of man under democracy, many people still practice racial discrimination. Therefore, discrimination must be eliminated in the United States before democracy will be fully accepted by foreign countries, Cronin said.

A forum on "Anti-Communism in America" was also held yesterday afternoon in the Hetzel auditorium.

40 Per Cent Of Students Hold Jobs

With 40 per cent of the student body holding part-time jobs, the University stands slightly above the national average for student employment.

In a survey made by the Kiplinger Washington Editors, 68 college and university administrators in the United States were questioned as to hours, pay and types of jobs held by students. The survey indicated that at most colleges, almost a third of the students hold jobs.

EARNINGS of male students during the school year range from an average of $140 to $750 while women student earning average $120 to $500. No average was included for this university.

Nearly all the colleges polled suggested 20 hours a week or less as the maximum number of hours a student should work. On this campus the average is 19 hours a week and the suggested maximum 20 hours.

The highest paying jobs were tutor, stenographer, factory worker, laboratory assistant, draftsman and gas station attendant. At about a quarter of the colleges, most jobs pay $1 or more per hour.

THE SURVEY noted that student employment officers think obtaining a job will become increasingly difficult because more students are going to want employment. Costs are increasing and enrollments are rising, more students come from low-income families and more are married while in school, the survey noted. Some colleges do report that job openings are increasing but not nearly enough to meet student demand, according to the survey.

Class of 1912 Memorial Loan Fund Announced by Office of Student Aid

The Class of 1912, commemorating the 50th anniversary of the class' graduation, has established a memorial loan fund to aid needy students. Ralph N. Krecker, director of student aid, announced recently.

Krecker said that most loan funds establish a qualification of scholarship, and therefore funds are exhausted before students with lower averages can be accommodated.

The 1912 Memorial Fund seeks to provide funds for these students, many of whom have passing, but low averages because they find it necessary to work to meet college expenses, he said.

THE LOANS will be granted on the basis of need and character. Applicants may not be on academic probation, and their scholastic records must indicate that they have the ability to complete work for the baccalaureate degree in the normal number of terms for the curriculum in which they are enrolled. Applicants must also be U.S. citizens.

Applications for the loans are available now in the Office of Student Aid, 218 Willard, for the fall, winter and spring terms of next year. All applications must be returned by June 1.
