

Guido Appoints 8-Man Cabinet

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—President Jose Maria Guido overcame some military opposition to his choice for economics minister and completed the selection of an eight-man Cabinet yesterday.

Deposed President Arturo Frondizi was disclosed to have sent word from his isle of banishment to his political followers to calm down and make no more trouble for the new government.

FEDERICO PINEDO, 67, reported to be a member of the liberal school of economics who favors free trade, was chosen by Guido for the important Economics Ministry.

But the president, sworn in a week ago to succeed Frondizi, ran into difficulty when some of the military chiefs, who have set themselves up as watchdogs over his appointments, objected to Pinedo's condition that he be allowed a free hand to select his staff.

ARMY SECRETARY Gen. Marino Bartolome Carrera, Navy Secretary Adm. Gaston C. Clement and Air Secretary Brig. Jorge Rojas Silveyra wrangled among themselves over the appointment.

Guido called in a group of the nation's top economists for consultation.

A presidential spokesman said they backed Pinedo to a man and in view of this favorable opinion the military leaders decided to accept the appointment for the time being.

The new president Thursday swore in two strong anti-Peronists as foreign minister and as defense minister. Both were members of the government of Gen. Pedro Aramburu which followed the overthrow of former dictator Juan Peron.

7 Skindivers Arrested in Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—Seven U.S. skindivers arrested in Cuba were described by Secretary of State Dean Rusk last night as innocent treasure-hunters, seeking the sunken riches of the Spanish Main.

Rusk said the State Department expects to get them released.

BUT A HAVANA television commentator said the seven may be treated as invaders by Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime.

The State Department said it was asking Switzerland to check on the seven men and arrange for their return to the United States.

The Swiss have handled U.S. relations with Cuba since this country severed diplomatic ties with the Castro regime.

Rusk told a news conference in Baton Rouge, La., that the department is moving promptly to obtain release of the seven, and does not expect any difficulty.

He said the captured men were on a sports voyage to Jamaica to explore for treasure. Rush was in Baton Rouge for the inauguration of Dr. John A. Hunter Jr. as president of Louisiana State University.

He went straight from the airport to the news conference and identified the seven as innocent adventurers.

HAVANA RADIO announced arrest of the seven men off the north coast of Oriente Province Thursday morning. But they were not identified in broadcasts monitored at Key West, Fla.

Speculation had mounted that the seven were missing American treasure hunters sought by the Coast Guard. They were cruising the Caribbean on an undersea hunt for sunken treasure ships. Relatives of the missing men speculated they might have drifted into Cuban waters if their boat broke down.

Soviets Set 'Cosmos II' in Orbit

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union announced last night that it has put another Sputnik into space—the second in three weeks—and that it is orbiting the earth close to its calculated path.

An announcement by the official news agency Tass listed the tasks of instruments aboard, but said nothing about a cosmonaut, indicating the new satellite was unmanned.

THE VEHICLE, named Cosmos II, followed Cosmos I, launched March 16, and apparently was in a similar plane. The two launches followed a long period of Soviet inactivity in space, so far as is known.

Tass said Cosmos II passed over New York at 9:15 a.m. Eastern Standard Time, and over Los Angeles at 10:27 a.m., and was making an orbit every 102.5 minutes.

IT IS CIRCLING the earth at a distance of 975 miles at its apogee, or greatest distance, and 133 miles at its perigee, or nearest distance, and is in a plane 49 degrees from the earth's equator.

Its short-wave transmitter, the announcement said, is operating on 20.005 and 90.0225 megacycles.

26th U.S. Nuclear Test

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 26th announced nuclear test in this country's current series was set off underground yesterday at the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada test site.

Like the 25th shot announced Thursday, yesterday's blast was described as a low yield—meaning it had a blast equivalent of not more than 20,000 tons of TNT.

Educational Problems Discussed At Newspaper Editors Seminar

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania newspaper editors probing some of the urgent problems of education, were told at their spring seminar yesterday that costs might soar in 1970 to almost twice their present levels.

John W. Ingram, director of the Pennsylvania Economy League, suggested that total state and local outlays for education might well be at the annual rate of $1.65 billion by 1970 compared to $834 million in 1960.

"Even the most ardent and enthusiastic supporter of a better education program is apt to be sobered by the tactical reality of finding the tax wherewithal to finance the increased cost," Ingram said.

He appeared as one of the panelists on the subject on school finance, one of the several "Issues of Education" explored at the spring seminar of the Pennsylvania Society of Newspaper Editors.

The two-day seminar also is being sponsored by the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association and the Pennsylvania State University.

Foreign Tourists Jam Rio

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Carnival time brought 10,000 foreign tourists to Rio this year, mostly from Argentina and the United States, tourist agencies estimate. The influx was a 40 percent increase over last year.
