

Weather Forecast:
Partly Cloudy,
Cool

The Daily Collegian

An Open Letter
—see page 4

FOR A BETTER PENN STATE

VOL. 62, No. 105

UNIVERSITY PARK, PA., TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 10, 1962

FIVE CENTS

University Party Holds Preliminary Nominations

By WINNIE BOYLE

In preliminary nominations Sunday night University party nominated Dean Wharton, junior in business administration from Camp Hill, and Morris Baker, junior in liberal arts from Harrisburg to run on the party slate for the respective offices of Undergraduate Student Government president and vice president. Wharton and Baker were the only two candidates nominated for the positions.

Margo Lewis, junior in elementary-kindergarten education from Philipsburg, and Kathryn Johnson, junior in applied arts from McKeesport, were nominated to run for USG secretary-treasurer.

NOMINATIONS FOR the class presidencies were: Randolph Carter, psychology major from Philadelphia, senior class; Ralph Weiss, chemistry and physics major from Southampton, junior class; and Thomas Miller, home economics major from Camp Hill, and Harold Gibber, liberal arts major from Huntington, N.Y., sophomore class.

University party is the only one of the three political parties whose constitution requires that preliminary nominations be held. Campus along with University parties will elect final slates Sunday night.

According to the Liberal party constitution, their steering committee will announce a slate which can be modified by a two-thirds party vote. Their slate will also be announced Sunday night.

FINAL REGISTRATION figures were announced yesterday by Allen Feingold, elections commission chairman. University had the highest number registering, 638, while Campus and Liberal had 89 and 66 respectively.

Liberal party passed out mimeographed copies of their party aims and platforms to their registered party members following registration.

The Campus party meeting was (Continued on page twelve)

U.S., Britain Justify Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan have agreed on a public statement justifying anew U.S. resumption of nuclear tests in the air, informed sources said last night.

It is anticipated that the joint declaration will be issued today and will offer Soviet Premier Khrushchev a last chance to halt the tests by reversing his stand against a cheat-proof nuclear test-ban treaty.

OFFICIALS HERE saw virtually no hope that Khrushchev would alter his position but felt the statement would impress the world anew that the West is sincerely anxious to avoid the new tests, if it could be done on a basis compatible with national security.

The tests are scheduled to start late this month and will be carried out in two mid-Pacific test areas.

THE ASSISTANT White House press secretary, Andrew Hatcher, said "reports originating in London to the effect that such a message is under consideration and being weighed by Prime Minister Macmillan and President Kennedy are true."

The London reports spoke of a Kennedy-Macmillan appeal to Khrushchev to help stave off resumption of atmospheric tests.

WASHINGTON SOURCES said, however, that the Western statement would not be a message personally to Khrushchev but would outline in detail the reasons for going ahead with the weapons tests.

Kennedy and Macmillan have taken the position that, in view of the Soviet breaking of the nuclear test moratorium last fall, the West must resume atmospheric shots too, unless the Reds agree to an effective test ban.

PROSPECTS THAT the U.S. would go ahead with its planned explosions in the Pacific starting the latter part of April grew more positive yesterday as the East-West deadlock over an atomic test accord remained unshaken at the Geneva disarmament conference.

The top U.S. negotiator at Geneva, Arthur H. Dean, firmly told the Soviets that the American tests would be held unless the Russians sign a cheat-proof test-ban treaty.

The Soviet delegate, Semyon K. Tsarapkin, refused to budge. He restated the long-standing Soviet objection to the international controls the West says are necessary.

IFC Elects Sos, Wells

EMIL SOS
New IFC President

Emil Sos, president of Delta Chi fraternity, was elected president of the Interfraternity Council for 1962-63 at the IFC meeting last night.

Joseph Wells, president of Theta Chi, was elected vice president, and James Burke, president of Sigma Nu, ran unopposed for secretary-treasurer.

SOS DEFEATED Robert Banks of Phi Gamma Delta, past Greek Week chairman, and Gene Sterner, president of Theta Xi. Wells defeated Edgar Snyder, president of Beta Sigma Rho.

Installation of the new officers will be held April 23 at Theta Chi fraternity.

In other business, the Council unanimously approved the amended rushing program for 1962-63.

A motion that there be no rushing of freshmen until the winter term, 1963 was passed by a vote of 26 to 22.

The previous proposal stated that freshmen entering in the spring (Continued on page twelve)

Closed Circuit TV To Carry LBJ's Talk

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson will deliver the keynote address for the Business Administration Career Day at 4:15 p.m. today in Schwab auditorium; Robert Barraclough, career day chairman said last night.

No topic for Johnson's talk has been announced, Barraclough said.

Because of the limited number of seats available in Schwab auditorium, the talk will be broadcast over the University's closed circuit television system, Howard Needleman, Business Administration student council president, said last night.

Johnson's talk will be broadcast in all rooms on the third floor of Boucke, and in 10 Sparks, Needleman said. No tickets are required for these seats, he added.

Barraclough said the talk was not switched to Recreation Hall because the career day committee "couldn't solve the problems involved." He said that the committee felt that the program "should benefit every one possible, and the best way is to televise the speech."

Leslie P. Greenhill, associate director of academic research, explained Friday that it would be impossible to televise the speech from Recreation Hall because the University television set-up would not initiate a signal and transmit it to WFBG-TV in Altoona, which will televise the speech.

Reaching a "potential television audience of one million" was more important to the committee than allowing an "extra 3,000 students" hear the speech in Rec Hall, Barraclough said.

Seats in Schwab will be reserved for ticket-holders until 4 p.m., when the doors will be opened to the public, in order to fill vacant seats, Needleman said.

Johnson's speech will be videotaped and telecast at 11:20 tonight over WFBG-TV, Channel 10. WMAJ radio will broadcast the talk "live."

WDFM radio will make a tape recording of the speech and rebroadcast it at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Temporary traffic and parking restrictions will be in effect today to facilitate the travel of the Vice President, William C. Pelton, director of security said yesterday.

Vehicular traffic on Pollock Road will be restricted to the vice president's convoy from west of the entrances of parking area 17, located behind Home Economics, and parking area 30, behind Whitmore Laboratory, to Schwab auditorium between 3 p.m. and 5:15 p.m., Pelton said.

Parking spaces in the rear of Schwab auditorium will be reserved for the convoy from noon to 5:15 p.m., Pelton added.

The coffee hour which was originally slated for 4 p.m. has been cancelled because of the change of time for Johnson's speech, Barraclough said.

Business Heads Named

The new business staff of The Daily Collegian was named yesterday by Herbert Witmer, newly-elected business manager.

Jean Ruhl, junior in journalism from Lewisburg, will serve as local advertising manager and Jane Silverstein, junior in arts and letters from Mt. Vernon, N.Y. will be the assistant local advertising manager.

THE CIRCULATION manager will be Mason Chessler, junior in arts and letters from Philadelphia, who was reappointed to the post.

Ralph Friedman, junior in business administration from Philadelphia, was reappointed credit manager for the coming year.

Harry Rauch, junior in business administration from Forest Hills, N.Y., was named assistant credit manager.

Barbara Brown, junior in journalism from Washington, D.C., will serve as national advertising manager.

Promotion manager will be Barry Levitz, junior in business administration from Harrisburg.

CATHERINE BAUMER, sophomore in arts and letters from Allentown, will be the new classified advertising manager.

Anita Holl, junior in secondary education from River Edge, N.J., was reappointed personnel manager.

Office manager will be Lynn Murphy, sophomore in journalism from Franklin Lakes, N.Y.

Study Shows Final Exam Conflicts

A study of the feasibility of a three-day final examination period shows that approximately 30 percent of the student body would encounter either direct conflicts or three examinations on a single day, John E. Miller, scheduling officer, said yesterday.

This figure would be valid, he said, provided 25 per cent of all courses had no final exam, or had one during the regular 60-day term, and provided both Recreation Hall and White Building were available throughout the exam period.

The study was based on a random survey of about 1/30 of the student class schedules for the current term. The results, as well as the study's assumptions were reported in a letter sent to Dr. Harold J. Read, chairman of the Senate Calendar and Class Schedule Committee from Miller.

As reported in the letter, final examinations would be of 75 minutes in length.

Graduating seniors, especially those graduating at the end of a spring term, would have to have their finals during the regular term, to which the three-day exam period would be added.

Read declined comment on the study pending a meeting of his committee. He said, however, that the report would be discussed by the committee before the next meeting of the Senate.

Robert G. Bernreuter, special assistant to the President for student affairs and secretary of the Senate, also declined comment pending Senate action on the matter.

In the survey, which encompassed 590 class schedules, there (Continued on page six)

NEW COLLEGIAN BUSINESS STAFF—The new business staff of The Daily Collegian was announced yesterday by Herbert Witmer, (seated) new business manager. In the first row, from the left, are Jane Silverstein, Lynn Murphy, Jean Ruhl, Catherine Baumer, Anita Holl and Barbara Brown. In the back row, from the left, are Ralph Friedman, Harry Rauch, Barry Levitz and Mason Chessler.