KEEP OFF THE GRASS—Although these signs contain witty phrases, they all mean the same thing—KEEP OFF THE GRASS. Alpha Phi Omega, men's service fraternity, placed these words of advice around campus yesterday. A similar campaign was conducted last year by the group.

West's Warning Ignored by Russia

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union shrugged off a warning from President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to accept an enforceable test ban treaty or see new U. S. nuclear blasts in the atmosphere before the month is out.

In an appearance yesterday before the 17-nation general disarmament conference, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin carefully refrained from committing his government to any positive response.

Instead, Zorin went to the diplomatic offensive and assailed as unrealistic and unnecessary the demand for cheat-proof international control arrangements.

"THERE IS NO justification whatsoever for the United States to resume tests in the atmosphere," he declared.

Zorin repeated that the Soviet government still believes that existing national instrument systems are adequate to check on test ban violations.

The joint statement Kennedy and Macmillan issued Tuesday was read into the disarmament conference record by American Ambassador Arthur H. Dean.

In a carefully worded speech, Dean defined the differences separating the Russians from the Americans and British. He called on the Kremlin to show some reasonableness, flexibility and political sense.

DEAN ALSO sought to kill off Moscow's professed fear that the Western powers plan to pervert international control arrangements to espionage.

Proposed arrangements have been so worked out, he said, that at no time would international personnel be free to move about inside the Soviet Union except under the most rigidly defined and restricted conditions.

Dean recalled that the Soviet Union broke the old three-year moratorium on tests by setting off a series of massive explosions last autumn. He said the Russians might attempt the clandestine violation of a nuclear test ban treaty.

TIM Council Elects Pergam, Williams

Arthur Pergam, junior in pre-medicine from Abington and outgoing council vice president, was elected president of the Town Independent Men's Council at its meeting last night.

GOMER WILLIAMS, junior in business administration from Harrisburg, was elected vice president. David Wasson, sophomore in business administration from New Kensington, was re-elected secretary and Lawrence Britton, sophomore in engineering from Shamokin, treasurer.

The new officers, who all ran unopposed for their positions, will be installed at the next meeting.

THE COUNCIL also discussed Spring Week plans and urged that a campaign be started to get more town men to participate in these activities. TIM is working with the coeds in Atherton.

Volunteers for the Spring Week skit are especially needed, Robert Fry, council president, said.

Rehearsal for the skit will be held today at 1 p.m. in the HUB ballroom, Fry said. There will also be a Spring Week planning meeting at 7 p.m. Sunday in 203 HUB.

BECAUSE OF responses on the TIM recreational and social questionnaires, TIM is expanding its softball league and offering dancing lessons, Fry said. TIM mailed out 2,400 questionnaires to independent men living in town and received a high percentage of replies, he explained.

TIM expects to sponsor 24 softball teams, which will begin competition April 21. It has purchased more equipment to accommodate the increase from 14 teams, Fry said. Since the softball teams are limited to using only State College ball fields, he said, the league cannot be expanded beyond the capacity of these diamonds.

THEREFORE, team applications will be accepted on a first come, first served basis, he said. Each team will be required to pay a $4 registration fee at the dean of men's office to defray expenses, he added.

Campus, Liberal Parties Unite for Spring Election

By WINNIE BOYLE and ROCHELLE MICHAELS

In the face of strong opposition from University party, Campus and Liberal parties joined forces last night for the spring USG presidential campaign, according to a statement signed by party chairmen Dennis Eisman and Anne Morris.

IN A STATEMENT prepared for release after the USG meeting last night, the party chairmen said: "We feel that our party differences must be subordinated in the interest of a truly representative student government."

"The past and present actions of the opposition party (University party) prove again that they wish only to further their own selfish interests and not those of the students of this University." Commenting on the action, University party chairman Michael Dzvonik said, "It apparently looks as though this is not a spur of the moment deal. Obviously political conniving has been going on between these two parties."

In its meeting last night, the Undergraduate Student Government Congress decided not to appropriate USG funds to political parties for expenditures in the spring elections.

THE CONGRESS DID set expenditure limits for both parties and independent candidates.

Each political party may spend $100 for the spring elections. All candidates running on a party's slate must include their expenditures in their party's limit of $100.

Independent candidates for the offices of USG president, vice president and secretary-treasurer may spend $25; each independent candidate for sophomore, junior or senior class president may spend $15 on election expenditures.

The bill, sponsored by Stuart Limer (town area) was originally presented to Congress asking for an appropriation of $100 to each of the political parties as long as all party expenditures were drawn from the appropriation.

EXPRESSING his feeling about the bill, however, John Witmer (fraternity areas) said he felt that only political parties running candidates should be allotted money. He said that if a party was allotted the proposed sum and did not

Walker Will Speak to Students On 'State of University' Tonight

President Eric A. Walker will give an informal talk on the state of the University at 7:30 tonight in 121 Sparks.

The "President's Report," sponsored by Lion's Paw, senior men's honorary society, and Mortar Board, senior women's honorary society, is expected to be similar to a report of the University's status given to alumni annually at reunion time in June, Wilmer E. Kenworthy, executive assistant to the President, said yesterday.

WALKER DELIVERED a review of University plans for the future at the first "President's Report" presentation last year.

The report was requested by Lion's Paw and Mortar Board as a means of aiding seniors in fulfilling their responsibility of keeping informed about the University, Barbara Hackman, Mortar Board president, said.

The president will emphasize the role which the seniors will play as alumni in the present and future problems of the University faces, Miss Hackman said.

When last year's report was in the planning stages, it was conceived as a report to all students. But a desire to achieve an informal atmosphere for the presentation necessitated limiting the audience to seniors and other upperclassmen on a space as available basis in Schwab.

A small turnout last year precipitated the scheduling of the speech in Sparks this year, Kenworthy said.

The speech will be open to all students.

Hat Society Tapping

All women's hat societies except Cwens will tap new members at a special program on Mother's Day afternoon in the HUB ballroom, Philip Steinhauer, hat council president, announced yesterday.

The plans for this program were made at the recent meeting of the Hat Society Council.

Cwens which has already tapped 23 freshman women, will honor their new tappees at the Mother's Day ceremony.

The men's hat societies made plans at the Council meeting to coordinate their tapping procedures and dates this spring.

The Council also decided to help publicize the Alumni Association membership drive during Senior Week in May, Steinhauer said.

BIG BAD WOLF?—The traditional story will be reversed as the "three pigs" try to catch the "wolf" in one of the numbers from the Naiads swim show tonight, tomorrow and Saturday nights. Participating in the number are from left to right, Marilyn Sauer, Penny Bedell and Jean Mellin, in the roles of the "three pigs." Priscilla Lee, front, will portray the "big bad wolf."

Occasional Rain Should Continue

A stationary front, which divides cool air in the northeastern states from warm, moist air from the southeastern states, is causing cloudy skies and intermittent precipitation in most of the eastern part of the nation.

Little change in the position of the front is expected today or tonight, so cloudy skies, cool temperatures and occasional rain are expected to continue in the local area.

Today's high should be about 50 degrees, and a low of 36 is indicated for tonight.

Tomorrow is expected to be mostly cloudy and somewhat milder with a few showers. The high temperature will be near 56 degrees.

Gradual clearing should begin Saturday.

300 Tickets Remain For Debate at Schwab

Close to 300 tickets remain for the debate between Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., and Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., to be held at 8:30 p.m. Saturday night in Schwab. Non-student tickets will go on sale today.

If there is a large overflow, the debate will be televised by closed circuit in Boucke and Sparks, Nina Brown, director of the Artists' Series, said. Otherwise, it will not be televised because of the expense, she said.

Mundt and Humphrey will debate on the topic, "Is the New Frontier Moving The Nation Ahead?"

A coffee hour will be held in the Hetzel Union main lobby immediately following the debate.
