

Term System Surveys Scheduled for Next Week

Two separate surveys polling student attitudes on the term system will be taken next week by the Inter-College Council Board and the Office of Student Affairs Research.

THE ICCB questionnaire will be distributed and the results tabulated by members of the college councils. The questionnaire will deal primarily with student attitudes concerning the four-term plan, Warren Long, chairman of the ICCB four-term evaluation committee, said last night.

The ICCB and individual councils drafted and revised the questionnaire last term, Long said. It will be ready for distribution early next week, he added.

LONG EXPLAINED that the ICCB and the Student Affairs Research questionnaires will each be distributed to 1,500 students, but he said that care had been taken to see that no student will be asked to answer both questionnaires.

The ICCB mailing list which comprises a random cross sampling of the student body has also been drawn up by the Student Affairs Research office, Long said.

The list, however, has been slightly modified to include graduate students and exclude first and second term freshmen since they have never attended the University under the semester system and have no basis for any comparison, he explained.

The ICCB questionnaire will be distributed by mail along with a letter giving exact instructions for returning it when completed, Long added.

LONG ALSO SAID that the ICCB questionnaire will be geared to determine student opinion comparing the term and semester systems.

The other survey will be conducted by the Office of Student Affairs Research Monday through Friday and will attempt to determine student attitudes on courses, faculty members and the four-term system, Mrs. Gloria Bernheim, graduate assistant in charge of the survey, said recently.

LETTERS HAVE been sent to another 1,500 randomly chosen students this week, Mrs. Bernheim said. The letters ask the students to report at 7 p.m. to 119 Osmond on a specified day next week to complete the questionnaire.

The written questionnaire will take approximately 30 minutes to complete, she added.

Wilbur to Read At Workshop

Richard Wilbur, Pulitzer Prize winner in poetry and poet in residence at Wesleyan University, will read his poetry at a workshop at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Hetzel Union assembly room.

"Wilbur is one of the most important poets of the middle generation," Joseph L. Grucci, associate professor of English and director of the poetry workshop, said yesterday.

"HE HAS received many awards because of the lyrical quality of his work, his clarity and his depth."

In addition to winning the Pulitzer Prize in 1957 for his volume of poems, "Things of This World," he has won the Prix de Roma Fellowship award, the Edna St. Vincent Millay Memorial Award and the National Book Award, Grucci said. Wilbur has also been a Guggenheim and Ford Foundation fellow, Grucci added.

All past and present members of the workshop and the Pivot staff, the workshop's annual publication, are invited to the reading. A coffee hour will be held following the reading.

Ewing to House Men

To promote the community living plan in South Halls area, Ewing residence hall will house men students in the fall term, Otto E. Mueller, director of the Department of Housing, said last night.

Ewing was selected to be used as a men's residence hall because its location is the most suitable in South Halls, and because it will also lend itself to the coed dining hall plan, he said.

AT THE PRESENT time there is a sufficient number of rooms to house women students, and since the University is planning to accept only 850 women next year as compared with 1,500 accepted this year, there is no need for continuing Ewing as a women's residence hall, Mueller said.

Moreover, the change this year in Nittany Halls from double to single rooms has created a need for more men's residence halls, he added.

The plan of having both men's and women's halls in the South Halls area was initiated during the winter term when Lyons became a men's living unit. Women students were moved from Lyons to other residence halls in order to fill the many vacant rooms and reduce maintenance for the housing department, Mueller said.

THE CONVERSION of Lyons to a men's residence hall has worked out very well this term, he said.

Mueller said that there were no future plans to change other women's residence halls to men's for the fall term.

Bike Registration Slated To Continue Saturday

Inspection and registration of bicycles owned by students and faculty or staff members of the University will be repeated from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday in area 46, north of the South Halls or in the Ice Pavilion in case of rain.

Rain last weekend prevented many bicycle owners from taking advantage of the free inspection, William C. Pelton, director of the Division of Security, said.
