never informed of the meeting's change.

Liberal party nominated candidates to fill open positions on the combined Campus-Liberal party slate.

ALTHOUGH LIBERAL party held a nominating meeting Sunday night, Allen Feingold, Election Commission chairman, ruled the session invalid because the party violated a section of its constitution. The clause in question states, "No formal recommendations for specific candidates may be introduced by the executive committee or the steering committee."

Therefore, the party held another meeting yesterday afternoon and nominated George Gordon, sophomore in arts and letters from Bala Cynwyd, for USG vice president; Peter Whitten, liberal arts major from Pittsburgh, for sophomore class president; and Stephen Kleisath, junior in counseling from Smethport, for West Halls representative to USG Congress.

of 45-25 while Kiley defeated Ernest Smith, freshman in liberal arts from Waterford, 45-15.

Katherine Johnson, senior in arts and letters from Bradford, who was nominated at the previous University party meeting to oppose Miss Lewis, declined the nomination.

"Due to certain pressures by key individuals within the party, I feel it would be unwise at this time to continue association with the University party," Miss Johnson said in a written statement presented to the party.

MISS JOHNSON is now running for secretary-treasurer on the Campus-Liberal slate. Michael Dzvonik, University party chairman, said although Miss Johnson is not considered a voting member because she did not pick up her party card Sunday, she is still a member of University party.

Allen Feingold, Elections Commission chairman, ruled that even though she is a University party member, Miss Johnson is eligible to run on the Campus-Liberal slate.

ADS Hears Advertising Execs

Problems and opportunities in the advertising field were discussed by five advertising executives at the Eastern Regional Convention of Alpha Delta Sigma, men's national professional advertising fraternity held here Friday and Saturday.

"What this business needs is guts," William E. Pensyl, vice president and creative director at Ketchum, MacLeod & Grove, Inc., said.

SUCCESS IN advertising requires the courage to have ideas, face the new roles of advertising, demand facts in research and "push back the frontiers of advertising," Pensyl said.

John R. Corbett, advertising manager of the Williamsport Sun Gazette, advised future advertising employees to explore every medium, pursue more than one career and "stay loose" in selecting their academic electives.

RALPH V. BRAY, JR., advertising and promotion manager of the floor division in the Armstrong Cork Company, spoke about the intelligence, hard work and planning required in "Creative Marketing."
