

UPSET OF THE NIGHT

STEVE SCHRADER of Beta Theta Pi scores a last-period take-down to take an upset 5-2 victory over Phi Kappa Sigma's Bob Peace in intramural wrestling action at Rec Hall last night. Peace was the fraternity 167-pound champion last year.

3 Former Champs Advance in IM Mat

By FRANK QUIGLEY

Three champions from past years were successful in their drive toward a new crown while one returning champion went down to defeat in IM wrestling action last night at Rec Hall.

In the 176-pound class, Phi Kappa Sigma's Bob Peace, last year's champ at 167, was defeated by Steve Schrader of Beta Theta Pi, 5-2, in a very close match. Schrader used a last period take-down to lock away the victory.

In the heavyweight class, Beta's Dave Grubbs, last year's champion at 176, flattened Joe Zink of Phi Kappa Theta at the 4:55 mark.

At 158, Bob Sommons of Delta Upsilon, 150-pound champion two years ago, had an easy time with his opponent, Jon Walker of Alpha Zeta. Sommons needed only 2:32 to pin his man.

NEAL NEWHOUSE of Alpha Chi Rho, champion at 135 two years ago, had an equally easy time with his opponent in the 142-pound class. Newhouse pinned Jack Udell of Phi Epsilon Pi at 2:25 of their match.

In one of the closest matches of the evening Ernie Webster of Beta Theta Pi established himself as one of the top contenders for the 142-pound crown by scoring a 5-3 victory over-rugged Larry Geary of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Their match was a seesaw battle

Lions Need Mound Help For Big Schedule Ahead

By JOHN MORRIS

The six-day break the Penn State baseball team is enjoying between Wednesday's 7-6 win at Penn and Tuesday's contest with Bucknell is a welcome one for the Lion pitching staff.

Pitching coach Chuck Medlar has only two proven hurlers right now — Bob Fenton and Marlin Biesecker — and even Biesecker has been having his troubles of late.

"We have to get some pitching help," Medlar said yesterday. "We have a heavy schedule coming up, and we are going to need all the help we can get."

THE NITTANIES have a week break after the Bucknell game, but then they have seven games in two weeks, including a double-header with Syracuse.

"Our number one project right now is getting Dave Bergey in shape," Medlar said. "He looked sharp one day last week and will really help us when he comes around. He has a good fast ball and curve."

Bergey, a right-handed senior, was a spot starter for the Lions last season, but he has yet to pitch an inning this year.

He is suffering from sugar diabetes and was late reporting for training. He is rounding into shape and should be ready to pitch by the time the heavy schedule starts.

Lefthander Fenton has been the ace of the staff thus far. The stocky junior boasts a 3-0 record and has surrendered only three earned runs in 21 innings on the mound. He is averaging a strike-out an inning with 21 so far this year.

BIESECKER HAS a 1-0 log, but the veteran righty has been hit hard in recent appearances. Medlar is at a loss to explain Biesecker's problem.

"He had good stuff early in the game at Penn," Medlar said, "but he lost it all of a sudden in the fourth inning."

Biesecker held the Quakers scoreless for the first three frames of the Lions' victory, but surrendered a single, double and triple in the fourth before Fenton came on to retire the side.

Sophomore Jeff Spanier is another question mark on the Nittany mound staff. The lanky right-hander has a good fast ball and curve, but he couldn't find the plate in his only start of the season against Ithaca. He was charged with the loss after giving up four runs in two-thirds of an inning.

Medlar has high hopes for another right-hander, Dick Stellman. Stellman pitched 6 1/2 innings against Ithaca and gave up only one earned run.

"Stellman looked good against Ithaca," Medlar said, "I think he'll definitely help up this year."

NFL to Activate Pension Fund

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The National Football League player pension plan with $1 million already in the till and another $500,000 annual plum expected starting this year, is expected to be activated in 1962, it was disclosed here yesterday.

Pete Retzlaff, president of the NFL's Players Association, said the plan—known in the league as the benefit program—has gone so far as to be submitted for an Internal Revenue Service opinion.

Retzlaff, a star end with the Philadelphia Eagles, said he spent 3 1/2 hours last Saturday with NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle discussing the pension plan and other player problems.

1. Assurance by Rozelle that arrangements have been made so players participating in the annual golf tournament at Miami don't have to pick up early and report to the pro bowl game in Los Angeles. They now can finish the tourney.

2. Agreement of the commissioner to present to the owners an association proposal that players get $50 a week during pre-season training instead of $50 a game. Retzlaff pointed out that under the per game payment, a player who works for a month in which only one game is played, ends up with only $50 and a ticket home.

3. The commissioner promised Retzlaff an opportunity to address the owners at their spring meeting in New York next month.
