

U.S. Insincerity Charged By Zorin at Conference

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union charged yesterday that the U.S. government's final decision to resume atmospheric explosions was proof that the United States and Britain never wanted an agreement to ban nuclear weapons tests.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin told the 17-nation disarmament conference the two Western powers were insincere in insisting on effective international test ban controls.

THE STATEMENT was made before Washington disclosed that the United States had fired its first shot of the new nuclear test series in the atmosphere over the central Pacific.

Soviet refusal to accept the Western inspection demand has forced President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to go ahead with the test explosions in order to protect Western military security.

"Everyone can now see that the United States and the United Kingdom were attempting to wash their hands before the peoples of the world and shrug off the responsibility for the tests," Zorin declared.

THE SOVIET DELEGATE last week threatened to lead a Communist walkout as soon as the tests begin. He did not repeat that threat.

Last fall when the Russians were triggering their own explosions, the Western powers stayed at the conference table. Subsequent negotiations, while the Soviet tests continued, resulted in the East-West agreement producing the Geneva conference now under way.

Zorin expressed support for Indian Prime Minister Nehru's recent appeal to the nuclear powers to refrain from all tests while the talks continue. India's appeal was formally submitted to the conference by delegate Arthur Lall.

BEFORE U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean had a chance to reply to the Indian move, Zorin went on to accuse the United States of ignoring all appeals and of setting a course to further the arms race.

Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko told the Supreme Soviet in Moscow Tuesday that the Soviet Union would reply to Western testing with tests of its own.

CONFERENCE SOURCES said British Minister of State Joseph B. Godber rejected the Soviet delegate's outburst as "somewhat rude, to say the least."

Dean later assured the meeting the U.S. government will continue its effort to reach a test ban agreement. But he said he was forced "with the greatest regret to respond that the United States cannot undertake another unpoliced moratorium" such as the one the Soviet Union abruptly broke last fall.

Conference sources said the eight middle group nations refrained from denouncing the mid-Pacific tests.

Saturn Success Scored

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla (AP) — Saturn, giant of the international rocket clan, flew a perfect flight yesterday in a development program preparing it to take Americans to the moon. It was the second successful shot.

As a basic research sideline, it produced what missileman Dr. Werner von Braun called probably the first synthetic thunderstorm ever generated in space.

The soaring Saturn was blown up intentionally about 2 1/2 minutes after liftoff at an altitude of 65 miles, and then dumped of 95 tons of water into the upper atmosphere. The experiment, which produced a massive ice cloud and lightning-like effects, was called "Project Highwater."

HIGHWATER DID NOT interfere with the major goal of the flight, which was achieved when the Saturn first-stage engine burned out 115 seconds after launching.

Dr. Kurt Debus, director of launch operations for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said Saturn's performance was very close to the nominal — which translates into lay terms as "darn near perfect."

LATER YESTERDAY, the crew of the nuclear submarine Sam Houston successfully launched a Polaris from 90 feet beneath the surface of the Atlantic, 50 miles offshore.

The launching was the first for the Sam Houston, the seventh submarine to successfully test the missile. The other six are on station, each with 18 nuclear-armed missiles.

"I THINK I NEED NOT point out that we're very grateful that the second Saturn scored a hit," commented Von Braun, director of NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center, at a news conference.

He said two more test flights of Saturn's first stage will be made. Saturn 5 will carry a model of the three-man Apollo space ship that will be used in manned lunar flights.

Sky-Chutist Disappears After 4,200 Foot Plunge

WARREN, Pa. (AP) — A sky diver parachuted into the Allegheny River near here last night and disappeared.

Firemen immediately began dragging the river for the parachutist, identified as Tom Nobbs, 20, of Sugar Grove, Pa., a member of the Chautauqua Sky Divers Club of Jamestown, N.Y.

HE LANDED IN the swift river near Warren Airport.

An airport spokesman said Nobbs and another parachutist bailed out at about 4,200 feet. The other jumper, not immediately identified, landed safely.

Nobbs, according to the airport spokesman, made a delayed jump, falling hundreds of feet before opening his chute.

Nobbs, after landing in the water, could be seen swimming a few strokes before disappearing.

Servicemen's Families to Reunite; McNamara Suspends Travel Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara gave out the good news yesterday—thousands of servicemen in Europe will be reunited with their families after months of separation.

McNAMARA ORDERED an immediate end to an almost seven-month ban on government-paid travel of military wives and children to Europe.

The Army and Air Force said it will take about a month to restart the flow of dependents across the Atlantic.

Both services ruled men who have been overseas longest will be the first to have families join them. Government housing will be allotted on the same basis.

THE BAN WAS put into effect last Oct. 9 to free ships and planes for movement of 40,000 Army reinforcements and supplies at a time when the Western position in Berlin was threatened.

After that movement was completed, the restriction was retained to hold down the flow of U.S. gold and dollars abroad.

McNamara said the Pentagon's policy is that officers and men serving overseas should not be separated from their families except during emergencies or for short tours.

SUCH SEPARATION, he said, has adverse effects on the morale and career incentives of military personnel.

The defense secretary said the Army will try short-tour rotations of units without dependents to curb dollar spending outside the country.

McNamara stressed there are no plans to reduce U.S. combat strength in Europe.

THE OUTFLOW of gold is still serious, McNamara said.

The goal is to reduce dollar spending per dependent by $80 a year, he added.

McNamara estimated about 6,000 dependents a month will go abroad in the future. Before the ban, the monthly average was more than 9,000.

Harvey Sank Bluebelle To Collect Insurance

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Capt Julian A. Harvey, down on his luck and holding a $20,000 double indemnity insurance policy on his wife, sent her and three members of a Wisconsin family with the yacht Bluebelle to the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean, the Coast Guard ruled yesterday.

HARVEY COMMITTED suicide after a courageous 11-year-old girl, Terry Jo Duperrault, who survived three sun-scorched days and lonesome nights on a liferaft, told a grim story which pointed to him as the killer.

Reds to Alter Constitution

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev has called for a new constitution to write into the Soviet Union's basic law the fundamental principles of its foreign relations, including peaceful coexistence. He also asked for the inclusion of more freedoms for the people.

THE SUPREME SOVIET without dissent then adjourned yesterday a three-day meeting by designating him to continue running the country at the head of a 71-man Cabinet and to head a commission to write a replacement for the 1936 Stalinist constitution.

The Cabinet which Khrushchev presented, following the routine resignation of the old one, kept the same faces in the same slots with few exceptions.

THE CHIEF CHANGE was to give the comparatively unknown Konstantin Pysin the job of agriculture minister. He replaces Mikhail Olshansky, who had tried for two years to whip the nation's stubborn low-yield agricultural problem.

In a 10-minute speech to the Supreme Soviet, Khrushchev said almost nothing about foreign affairs, and did not even mention nuclear tests. Instead he outlined the need for a new basic law.

The old constitution, in outlining the conduct of foreign relations, he said, "speaks only of the procedure for proclaiming war and concluding peace."

BUT, HE SAID, the Soviet Union had "emerged from capitalist encirclement" and, "Now there exists a world socialist system. A new type of relations has developed between friendly Socialist states. Problems of relations with countries which have freed themselves from the yoke of colonialism have appeared in a new light. Problems of peaceful coexistence of states with different social systems and of the struggle for peace have acquired tremendous importance."

KHRUSHCHEV ASSERTED a new constitution also is needed because the Soviet Union has changed from a proletarian dictatorship to a proletarian democracy.

He called for a new charter accentuating the ideological heritage of Lenin and providing "sounder guarantees for the democratic rights and freedoms of the working people."
