OSCA to Suggest New USG Agency

After this week's All-University elections, the Organization of Social Campus Affairs will propose to the new USG president that Congress set up an agency to carry out OSCA's present projects, Barry Rein, OSCA president, said recently.

As a USG agency, OSCA would obtain the necessary financial backing to bring the big name entertainers to the campus which the Artists Series and the Jazz Club do not feature, he said. The agency would also work on Spring Week and homecoming programs, he added.

OSCA, a social, cultural and service organization, was created in place of the former Independent Students Association in order to extend membership to all students, not just independents, he explained.

Because the organization could not gain sufficient funds to carry out its plans, such as Project Joey, he said, it withdrew its constitution from the Senate Committee on Student Affairs.

Campus Prepares for Carnival

From all the indications of the hustle and bustle around campus, many groups seem to be taking advantage of the warm days in order to complete work on their carnival booths by tomorrow.

SKITS ARE being practiced secretly behind closed doors, and several actors and actresses are becoming hoarse from all their singing.

However, reports say everything will be ready for the carnival opening at 7 p.m. tomorrow at the new intramural field near Beaver Stadium.

All groups whose skits were not ready to be checked last night will have their carnival skits "double-checked" tomorrow night, Krow said.

Judges of the skits are asked to meet at 7:30 tomorrow night at the Spring Week booth, which will be situated in the center of the carnival grounds, Paul Krow, carnival chairman, said last night.

Joel Grossman, who is in charge judges their final instructions and any additional information, Krow said.

All the judges are invited to bring one guest with them, he said.

ALCOHOLIC beverages will not be allowed on the carnival grounds, Krow said. If any group violates this rule, its skit will be disqualified, he said.

"This ruling includes the smell of liquor on anyone's breath," Krow said.

Miss Penn State Photos

Miss Penn State applicants may pick up their pictures at the Hetzel Union desk today, Carol Connelly, Spring Week awards chairman, said.

VIGILANT EYES UNDER THE SEA

They help guard America's defense lines aboard the nation's atom-powered submarines. Such defense costs billions. The nation is far better able to pay for it when there is no needless government spending in other fields. One of these fields is electric light and power. There is no need to spend your tax money for more government electric power plants and lines—although some people are proposing that right now. The investor-owned electric light and power companies can supply all the additional electric power a growing America will need.
