

3 Events Will Highlight Annual Women's Week

A fashion show, tea and a banquet for all members of the Association of Women Students will highlight Women's Week which will be held Monday through Sunday.

The program sponsored by AWS is designed to help each woman student to explore the relevance of her life on campus today to her future," Margaret Mitchell, chairman of Women's Week said yesterday.

WOMEN'S WEEK activities will begin Thursday with speakers in each residence hall area, Miss Mitchell said. Their topics will pertain to the general topic of the relation of education to a woman's future, she said.

"Fashions Men Love," a fashion show under the auspices of Mademoiselle magazine will be presented at 2:30 p.m. Saturday in the Hetzel Union main lounge. Tea will be served at the fashion show, Miss Mitchell said.

Miss Dorese Bell, official hostess and White House correspondent for the Mutual Radio Network will be the guest speaker for a banquet honoring all members of AWS Community Councils and judicials at 6 p.m. Saturday in the HUB ballroom. The topic for her talk has not yet been announced, Miss Mitchell said.

The community councils will sponsor Mother's Day teas and open houses Sunday in each women's residence hall area, Miss Mitchell said.

DURING THE WEEK, art displays of work done by coeds in each area will be set up in the residence halls and in the HUB, Miss Mitchell said.

Rotating displays pertaining to the coed's future have also been set up in each residence hall area.

3 Eng Students Get Scholarships

Three sophomores in the College of Engineering and Architecture were recently awarded full-tuition scholarships by the college's student council.

The scholarships, which are for one term, were awarded on the basis of scholarship, activities and need.

Recipients of the scholarships were: James Hnat, engineering major from West Hazlewood; Edward Muka, mechanical engineering major from Greensburg; and James Harrington, mechanical engineering major from Stewartstown.

The council also appropriated $25 to the University Christian Association and the Newman Club to help meet the expenses in presenting the "You and the Communist Challenge" program.

University Chess Team Wins Match With Bloomsburg

The University chess team swept all eight games in a match with an undergraduate team from Bloomsburg State College Thursday night in the Hetzel Union lounge.

The undefeated University team, coached by Donald Byrne, will play their last match of the year on Saturday, against the cadets of West Point.

Those team members who won on Thursday night include: Velimir Djurdjevic, senior in electrical engineering from Aliquippa; Anthony Poulos, junior in physics from Harrisburg; Harry Winter, senior in agricultural and biological chemistry from State College; James Rooney, senior in electrical engineering from University Park; and Henry Huffman, sophomore in engineering science from Lancaster.

Also on the squad are Herbert Evans, junior in agricultural and biological chemistry from Oil City; Ronald Fischer, freshman in business administration from Scarsdale, N.Y.; and John Reber, senior in arts and letters from West Lawn.

perpetual motion?

Not But scientists and engineers at Ford's research and scientific labs do deal in perpetual notions—and they have more than a few about what might be commonplace in the future, some of them just as startling.

Studies at Ford involving new energy sources and improved materials may help bring jet-propelled cars with gyro stabilizers... automatic driving controls... flying automobiles and wheel-less vehicles that glide on a cushion of air... vehicles propelled by atomic energy... plastics with the strength of conventional metals... adhesives that replace welding... radar and other electronic controls to assist or replace the driver in many situations.

Basic studies in these and other fields are just part of a continuing program of progress aimed at reinforcing Ford's leadership through scientific research and engineering.
