Thinclads Smash Four Records, Pound Panthers for First Win

By DENNIS KNECHT

Records fell right and left on Beaver Field Saturday, as the Penn State track team pounded Pitt, 931/2-371/2, to win its first meet of the season.

Jerry Wettstone and Ciro Risoldi set new Penn State records in the high jump and pole vault, and Howie Deardorff and Gerry Norman set new meet records in the 880-yard run and two-mile to highlight the meet.

Wettstone jumped 6'6'4", topping Dick Campbell's two-year-old record by one-quarter of an inch, and the meet record of 6'5 5/8"; set in 1938.

Deardorff's time was 1,50.6, erasing the meet record of 1:53.2, standing since 1924.

Norman, who was shooting for Dick Engelbrink's Penn State record of 8:58.9 for the two-mile, just missed, recording a 9:00.5. Morman's time, however, easily smashed Horace Ashenfelter's 1949 meet record of 9:18.

STEVE MOORHEAD, who paced the event for the first mile, before yielding to Norman's greater endurance, finished second in 9:22.9. Dick Tuft also ran a fine race. finishing third in 9:50.2 to complete the clean sweep.

The amazing thing about Saturday's meet was that 12 out of the 25 Penn State athletes who competed made better showings than they ever had before. This figure does not include Wettstone who, although he set a new record Saturday, jumped higher during
