Dilworth, Scranton Lead In State Primary Race

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Democrat Richardson Dilworth and Republican William Scranton built substantial early leads last night as returns trickled in from the statewide primary election.

Dilworth, the former Philadelphia mayor seeking his second nomination as Democratic candidate for governor, as expected received only token opposition from Harvey F. Johnston, 56-year-old McKees Rocks' realtor, and Charles J. Schmitt, 50, of Girard.

And Scranton, who got his political feet wet by ousting a Democratic incumbent and winning a Congressional seat in 1960, was an early 3-1 leader over J. Collins McSparran, master of the Pennsylvania Grange, who waged a spirited but apparently fruitless campaign for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

DESPITE BEAUTIFUL SUMMER WEATHER, there was a light turnout of voters. The campaigns lacked major issues and were almost devoid of real competition. Dilworth and Scranton, both backed by their party organization, merely warmed up in the primary campaign for the bitter battle ahead this fall.

Returns from 446 of the state 9,157 precincts showed Democrats: Dilworth 27,971; Schmitt 3,100; Johnston 3,035. Republicans: Scranton 39,415; McSparran 9,100.

These totals include 13 of 1,623 precincts in Philadelphia and 1 of 1,255 precincts in Allegheny County.

McSparran's early lead included a 500-26 advantage from 9 of 249 precincts in his home Lackawanna County.

DILWORTH'S LARGEST EARLY OUTPOURING was 1,200 in Lehigh county, where Scranton polled 2,383 to 547 for McSparran in returns from 35 of 121 precincts.

Dilworth, 63, tried once before—in 1950—to win the Keystone State's highest office but lost to John Fine by less than 86,000 votes.

Scranton was elected to the House of Representatives in 1960.

Both Dilworth and Scranton have recognized a need for more aid to this University.

Marines Ordered To Land at Dawn

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy ordered 1,800 U.S. Marines into Thailand at dawn tomorrow 5 p.m. EST in a 5,000-troop buildup of U.S. military strength there aimed at preventing the Communists from swallowing up neighboring Laos.

An advance contingent of Marine A4D and Air Force F100 jet attack planes was dispatched from the Philippines to Thailand yesterday.

SHORTLY AFTER Kennedy acted, with the statement that the Red threat to Thailand is of grave concern to the United States. Soviet Premier Khrushchev sent word that the Soviet Union agrees on the necessity for a cease-fire and a peaceful political settlement in Laos.

The U.S. - Soviet accord was reached at an afternoon meeting between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin.

This led some U.S. strategists to believe that the heart of the Laos crisis is on the way to solution, that the big powers will not be drawn more directly into the conflict, and that American troops will be able to leave Thailand eventually without entering Laos or firing a shot.

BUT SOME POTENTIALLY troublesome gaps in the U.S.-Soviet accord remained. Both sides were unclear as to whether a cease-fire, allowing the rival Laotian factions to negotiate for a national government, meant withdrawal of Red rebel forces to the lines they held before starting on their northwest Laos offensive last week. The United States had sought a withdrawal. Dobrynin said after a 35-minute meeting with Rusk that it is necessary to put into effect last June's Kennedy - Khrushchev agreement in Vienna on the importance of a cease-fire and forming a neutral independent Laos government.

WASHINGTON OPTIMISM stemmed too from reports that the Reds have ceased fighting in Laos and that the feuding chiefs at last are on their way to the negotiating table.

Kennedy outlined his orders in a White House statement issued at noon as Marines from the U.S. 7th Fleet stood by outside Bangkok and Premier Sarit Thanarat announced his country has invited American forces to land because of the Red threat.

The President termed this a defensive act fulfilling our obligations under the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization Collective self-defense pact.

SECRETARY OF DEFENSE Robert S. McNamara said the 1,000-man Army battle group now in Thailand, a U.S. ally, will be augmented by these units under command of Gen. Paul D. Harkin, top U.S. military adviser in South Viet Nam.

The additional U.S. forces will include:

• An 1,800-man 7th Fleet Marine battalion with its own tactical air units.

• Some 1,200 additional Army forces from the Pacific area.

• Tactical units to provide cover for the Army ground troops.

Transportation Agency Will Begin Bus Service to 5 Cities in June

Buses to New York City, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Scranton and possibly Erie will leave campus this June as the USG Transportation Agency begins its low-cost service to students, David Wasson, agency co-chairman, said recently.

The Undergraduate Student Government Congress established the agency several weeks ago to aid students in getting home for vacations.

Wasson has received applications from those who would like to work on the agency. After selecting the committee members, Wasson said he will ask students interested in taking the buses in June to sign up.

BY ASKING the students to sign up early, Wasson said he will be able to determine the number of buses necessary to make this first trip. He said he thought that fewer students will take advantage of the agency's buses in June than over normal vacations because they will have so much more luggage to take home.

Wasson said, however, that there will be no limit on the amount of luggage or packages a student may bring with him on the bus.

Student bus tickets will probably offer a 10 to 35 per cent discount on regular commercial fares, Wasson said, depending upon the distance of the destination from campus and the company from which the buses are hired.

WASSON EXPLAINED that this June's service will be only a "trial run."

"Next year we hope to be fully organized to make trips to all major cities for which there is a student demand; and to run buses to special events like away football games," he said.

One student on each bus will be able to earn his fare by serving as a "supervisor" of the trip, Wasson said. He said he thought this student would be chosen from the agency's committee workers, but others could apply if there were not enough qualified persons in the agency.

Students to Register June 19

Over 2000 undergraduates have submitted advanced registration schedules for the summer term, Warren R. Haffner, assistant registrar, said yesterday. Students who have not pre-registered may register for the summer term Tuesday, June 19.

Haffner said the students who submitted advanced schedules have been given priority in the assignment of courses for the term, but indications are that any qualified student who wishes to attend summer term can be accommodated.

Planning and scheduling of courses, Haffner said, took into consideration last year's experience with the summer term when 5,671 students attended at University Park and 458 were enrolled at the commonwealth campuses.

ROBERT G. BERNREUTER, dean of admissions and registrar, said yesterday he expected that about 6,000 students would attend summer term this year.

No special publicity or effort has been expended, Bernreuter said, to encourage students to attend the summer term. Students who reside in the vicinity of the Ogontz campus, however, have in some instances received letters describing the summer program and course offerings.

Haffner said students who may want to attend summer term on one of the commonwealth campuses would assist the University in its planning if they were to also fill out advanced schedules, number 2 cards, and submit them to Samuel W. Haggerty, assistant registrar, in 4 Willard.

STUDENTS WHO do not submit an advance schedule, Haffner said, but who wish to attend summer term either at University Park or one of the commonwealth campuses will follow similar procedures in registering.

Both groups, he said, will have to see their advisors before going to the appropriate place on the day of registration. Haffner said the students should prepare a schedule in consultation with their advisor according to the course offering listed in the timetable for the summer term.

They will need this schedule and a bursar's receipt in order to register, he said.

AT UNIVERSITY PARK students will register according to the alphabetical schedule printed in the time table. For the commonwealth campuses, students will follow the instructions of the campus director.

Temperature Nears Record; Heat Wave Should Continue

The mercury came within one degree of the highest temperature ever recorded in May in State College yesterday afternoon when it touched the 92 degree mark.

A temperature of 93 degrees was reached once in May 1895.

The intense solar heating of the lower levels of the atmosphere yesterday produced instability, and showers and thunderstorms developed in the early afternoon.

A thundershower began in the local area at about 3:30 p.m. and continued for nearly an hour.

A SHARP DROP in temperature, 17 degrees, accompanied the shower, but a corresponding increase in relative humidity caused conditions to remain oppressive and uncomfortable.

There is little hope for a real break in the heat wave before the weekend.

The stationary high pressure cell that is responsible for the hot humid weather in the eastern states has shown no indications of moving from its position in the Carolinas. Consequently, abnormally warm and humid weather should continue in Pennsylvania and surrounding states for several days, and possibly a week or longer.

THE HEAT WAVE began abruptly Monday when the mercury soared to 90 degrees, which was 32 degrees above the high temperature reached Sunday.

Today, tomorrow and Friday should be partly cloudy, hot and humid with afternoon temperatures near 90 degrees. There is a chance of a thundershower this afternoon or evening, and a slight chance of a thunderstorm tomorrow afternoon.

Warm and humid weather is expected, each night, and overnight low readings will be in the upper 60's.
