USG to Consider 3 Bills On NSA Investigations

By ROCHELLE MICHAELS

Three bills which would enable the Undergraduate Student Government to use the facilities of the National Student Association will be presented to the USG Congress tonight.

A bill to investigate the International Student Cooperative Union book ordering service, handled through NSA, will be sponsored by Murray Winderman, West.

Winderman's bill provides that USG establish a committee to finance 20 students who would join and use the services of ISCU. In return, those students will be expected to report on the success of their membership.

INCLUDED IN that report should be statements on the availability of a University textbook list and the accuracy of the list. The cost and speed of ISCU book service and the comparative prices of these books with those purchased downtown should also be included.

If the report is favorable, Winderman asks that the committee present Congress with a plan to establish a permanent USG book ordering service through ISCU.

Another of Winderman's bills on NSA asks that the Congress pay to send seven delegates to NSA's convention, the National Student Congress, from August 19 to 30 at Ohio State University.

The University is entitled to seven delegates at NSA's Congress. Winderman proposes that one representative be a member of the USG executive, three be members of the Congress elected by the Congress and three be appointed by the USG president with the consent of Congress.

ALLISON WOODALL, South, will present a third bill about NSA providing that USG form a committee, to investigate bringing "big name entertainment" to campus during the coming academic year through the booking services of NSA.

At last night's Town Independent Men's executive meeting, Robert Stillman, town area, was instructed to make two recommendations to the USG Congress.

The first is that USG investigate building a new auditorium and an addition to the Hetzel Union Building. Earlier this week, USG President Dean Wharton said he would propose, a bill to night forming an investigation committee on a new auditorium.

The second recommendation is that USG act to improve its housing list. The proposal states that some landlords do not know the list exists, and others cannot contact USG to have their names placed on it. TIM recommended that the housing committee revise the housing list before next fall and increase the size of the housing committee to remedy these situations.

ALSO INCLUDED under new business is a proposal by Fred Good, fraternity area, that USG form a committee to investigate changing the University's present grading system to a five-point system with direct equivalence to the numerical system.

Winderman is scheduled to present a third bill tonight proposing that next year's Congress receive a full report of USG activities and administrative committees relating to USG.

Anne Morris, North, will give a report on the NSA regional conference. (Continued on page five)

Troops Land In Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — About 1,800 American Leathernecks begin landing four miles from the heart of Bangkok today to put teeth into President Kennedy's pledge to defend Thailand from the Communist threat in Laos.

The first wave of Marines was to come ashore at Klong Toey and board Thai army trucks for Don Muang Airport at once. They will be flown by U.S. C130 Hercules transports to bases in northern Thailand near the sensitive northeast border with Communist-ruled Laos.

THREE WARSHIPS from the U.S. 7th Fleet steamed into the Gulf of Siam last night.

While the Valley Forge anchored off shore, the landing ship Point Defiance and the attack transport Navarro steamed up Chao Phya River to dock at Klong Toey and discharge Marines and equipment.

U.S. Supersabre jets already were deployed to TA Khli Airbase 60 miles north of Bangkok.

ALREADY THAILAND has moved crack Thai units with U.S. military advisers to the border. There they and the Marines may be joined before long by at least token units from other Southeast Asia Treaty Organization members, whose officials are in consultation on the crisis in Laos.

The first of about 45 U.S. Air Force jet fighter-bomber and attack planes streaked to a landing at Bangkok's airport yesterday, only a few hours after President Kennedy and the Pentagon had announced plans to build up a 5,000-man Southeast Asian combat command on Laos' border.

The first arrivals were 12 F100 Supersabres, each packing four 20-mm. cannon and capable of carrying heavy packages of conventional or nuclear bombs at 1,000-mile-per-hour speeds. They flew from the 13th Air Force Squadron base at Clark Field in the Philippines.

A SQUADRON of slower but mighty A4D Skyhawks, which can carry up to three tons of bombs, also was included in the buildup. They also are capable of carrying nuclear weapons.

The Marines reinforce a 1,000-man Army combat group that remained in Thailand after SEATO maneuvers two weeks ago. Additional Army men from the Pacific command will arrive later.

THE ENTIRE FORCE is under the command of Lt. Gen. James I. Richardson, 52, an expert in jungle and guerrilla warfare. He will act under the over-all direction of Gen. Paul D. Harkins, chief of the U.S. military assistance command in South Viet Nam.

Military sources said big C124 and C130 transports would be flown to Bangkok to ferry the Marines immediately to positions in northeast Thailand.

Primary Results Support Parties

By AL BUTKUS

Tuesday's primary election results supported party-backed gubernatorial candidates and nominated State College precinct officers.

Democrat Richardson Dilworth and Republican William Scranton won easy victories in the primary elections and a chance to face each other for the governor's post in the Nov. 8 elections.

SCRANTON, businessman and industrialist, won by more than a seven-to-two margin over his only competitor, J. Collins McSparran of Lancaster County.

Dilworth, ex-mayor of Philadelphia, was better than a 4-to-1 winner over his two competitors, Harvey F. Johnson from McKees Rocks and Charles J. Schmitt from Girard.

Johnson, a real estate dealer, plans to continue campaigning for governor as an independent.

In State College, four University professors were elected to Democratic party officers in four of the six precincts.

The professors will represent their party as committeemen in their respective precincts for two year terms. Their jobs will consist of organizing the party in their precincts so that the residents know when and where they can register and vote.

Arthur H. Reede, professor of economics, was re-elected for a fifth term as committeeman for the East Central precinct.

Reede also ran for state senator in 1950 and was defeated by the incumbent, James E. Van Zandt.

Eugene A. Myers, associate professor of economics, was re-elected as committeeman for the South precinct. This is his fourth term in this office.

"EVERYONE OUGHT to participate in some kind of civic duty, and as committeeman you are able to see concrete evidence of how democracy works," Myers said.

The Collegiate Digest will be distributed with today's copy of The Daily Collegian.

Robert H. McCormick, associate research professor in chemical engineering, was re-elected for a fourth term as committeeman in the North precinct.

Harold J. O'Brien, assistant dean of liberal arts, was elected committeeman of the West precinct.

O'Brien said he feels that every citizen in a free society should give some time to civic duty.

The Republicans in Centre County elect only the county party chairman and he in turn picks the precinct committeemen and committeewomen.

H. B. CHARMBURY, head of the Department of Mineral Preparation, was re-elected for a second term of office as Republican county chairman.

Sauer Resigns Physics Position

John A. Sauer, professor and head of the Department of Physics, has resigned his post as department head effective July 1. Wilmer E. Kenworthy, executive assistant to the President, said yesterday.

Richard G. Stoner, professor of physics, said last night a committee has been appointed by President Eric A. Walker at the request of the department's faculty to investigate the resignation.

Howard A. Cutler, assistant to the vice president for academic affairs, John C. Griffiths, head of the Department of Mineralogy, and Henry W. Sams, professor of English, make up the committee, Kenworthy said.

Ferdinand Brickwedde, dean of the College of Chemistry and Physics, and Sauer have been known to have had differences of opinion in the past, Kenworthy added.

Sauer's resignation, he said, affected only his position as head of the department.

Sauer was attending an out-of-town conference last night and could not be reached for comment.

Offices in Old Main Reshuffled

To secure more efficient utilization of available workspace, some assignments of administrative office space in Old Main will be reshuffled in the coming months, Stanley H. Campbell, vice president for business, said yesterday.

By September, Campbell said, the changes which are planned for the first and second floors should be completed.

THE DEAN OF MEN and his staff will occupy part of the quarters formerly used by the Division of Counseling on the first floor of Old Main, in addition to the offices they now occupy, he said.

Campbell said this would enable the dean of men to have all his assistant deans at the same location.

The area now used by the Placement Service for offices and interview-rooms will be given over to the dean of women and her staff, he said.

The Alumni Association will keep the major part of its present area and in addition will occupy the area now used by the dean of women.

THE ROOMS VACATED by the Alumni Association—101, 102 and 103—will be taken over by the Penn State Foundation, Campbell said. The foundation's old offices will become the quarters of the Office of Student Affairs Research.

The portion of the Division of Counseling offices not taken over by the Dean of Men will be given to the Office of Student Affairs for the commonwealth campuses.

On the second floor, the area formerly used by the Department of Purchases, 207 Old Main, will become the offices of the vice president for research and his staff, Campbell said.

The offices of the vice presidents for business and for finance, along with the office of the coordinator of commonwealth campuses, will remain unchanged, he added.

The President's office will undergo only slight modification, Campbell said.

The office of the former special assistant to the President, Christian K. Arnold, and part of the office of the vice president for resident instruction will become the location of the President's files, Campbell said.

THE VICE PRESIDENT for development and his staff, Campbell said, will be located in the area adjacent to the board room, now occupied in part by Howard A. Cutler, assistant to the vice president for academic affairs.

Cutler's office will be moved to 205 Old Main and 204 will be occupied by Arnold's replacement.
