

Eichmann Hanged On Israeli Gallows

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — The Gestapo's Adolph Eichmann was hanged by the state of Israel 40 minutes before midnight yesterday for his role in the Nazi extermination of six million European Jews.

Eichmann was taken to his death less than an hour after President Izhav Ben-Zvi rejected the final possible appeal for mercy and sealed his doom.

SOURCES SAID he pleaded with his counsel, West German lawyer Robert Servatius, to petition both the United Nations and Bonn to intervene in his behalf.

Eichmann, who insisted he was not to blame for the horrors of Hitler's death camps and torture chambers, died on the gallows in Ramleh Prison outside Tel Aviv. The Gestapo officer went to his death hailing Germany, Austria and Argentina and declaring, "I had to obey the rules of war and my flag. I am ready."

He was the first person executed by this predominantly Jewish nation in its 14-year history.

Death for the 56-year-old Eichmann came 2 years and 21 days after Israeli agents captured him in Argentina and smuggled him to Israel by air, ending a worldwide search by Jewish agents that began in the smoldering ruins of the Nazi empire at the end of World War II.

A government statement issued after the hanging said:

"Adolph Eichmann was executed by hanging today in accordance with the sentence of death passed by the Jerusalem District Court on Dec. 15, 1961.

"The appeal having been dismissed by the Supreme Court on May 29, 1962, and the minister of justice having certified that the president has decided not to exercise his prerogative of clemency, the hanging was carried out.

"The execution was witnessed by the superintendent of prisons, a government physician, an officer of the Tel Aviv district administration, two police officers who were presented in court when the death sentence was pronounced to identify Eichmann as the person who was condemned to death, and a clergyman of the Protestant faith. Two representatives of the local press and two representatives of the foreign press were also present."

THE FINAL DEFEAT of Eichmann's long struggle to save his life came with sudden swiftness.

Eichmann had sent the president his plea for clemency only Wednesday after the Israeli Supreme Court brushed aside an earlier appeal and upheld the death verdict rendered by the court that tried Eichmann last year in Jerusalem.

Congress Approves Bill On Appointment Process

By ROCHELLE MICHAELS and WINNIE BOYLE

The Undergraduate Student Government last night passed a bill that requires a three-fourths vote of Congress to approve appointments which do not appear on the agenda.

All other appointments will continue to follow regular procedure in requiring a simple majority for approval.

The appointment of Albert Sharp, sophomore in arts and letters from Pittsburgh, to chair the Grading System Investigation committee was brought up without appearing on the agenda last week and was postponed until last night's meeting of the Congress.

Last night Sharp's appointment was rejected after heated debate.

Sandra Katinsky, junior in education from Philadelphia, was approved for the position after Sharp's rejection.

Sharp was appointed by USG President Dean Wharton at last week's meeting but Congress postponed voting on the appointment so that two members could document their charges against him.

SUPPORTING her charges of last week, Anne Morris, North, charged that Sharp had once been willing to sacrifice the principles of Liberal party for his own interests, and that he could possibly do the same thing with Congress' interests.

Specifically, Miss Morris said Sharp had packed the party's steering committee while serving as party chairman in order to obtain a merger with another campus political party.

She further charged that the merger was not supported by a majority of the party members.

Sharp answered Miss Morris' accusations saying that she was not a member of the party when the incident took place and that the only facts she had were second-hand.

Discussing his personal qualifications, George Gordon, North, said Sharp was a "controversial person" and therefore was not the one he felt should represent the Congress to the administration.

JOHN WITMER, fraternity area, refuted the validity of Gordon's argument saying that Sharp was controversial within his own party, and not within USG.

A summer term government bill, sponsored by Anne Mahoney, Pollock, was passed. The bill provides that the Congressmen on campus during the summer term will act as advisers to Wharton and meet with him every other week.

IFC to Hold Contest For Lawn Displays

By PEGGY RUSH

The Interfraternity Council will again sponsor its annual lawn display contest on Homecoming Weekend, Oct. 19, due to a lack of interest shown by fraternities in participating in the Homecoming float parade, Emil Sos, IFC president, said last night.

IFC held a special meeting Wednesday night to hear the views of Robert Polishook, Homecoming and float parade chairman, members of the Panhellenic Council executive committee and IFC members concerning fraternity participation in the float parade.

THE COUNCIL had voted May 21 against supporting a float parade on Homecoming Weekend. However, in view of support shown by Panhel, the Association of Women Students and some individual fraternities, the Undergraduate Student Government Congress voted last week to sponsor a float parade on Friday night of Homecoming Weekend.

After hearing arguments concerning participation in the float parade, the council moved into a closed meeting where it decided to sponsor the lawn displays contest.

Before closing the open meeting, a show of hands was called for by Joseph Wells, IFC vice-president, to determine fraternity interest in the parade. At this time, five houses indicated they would participate in the parade. In the closed meeting, a roll call vote was taken to determine whether the individual fraternities would participate in the parade, Sos said. In this vote, only two houses, said they would enter, he added.

The vote was not binding and no record was kept on how the individual fraternities voted, Sos said.

THE MAIN ARGUMENT given by the fraternities against participating in a float parade at Homecoming was that the members would not have enough time to prepare adequately for their alumni who will be returning that weekend.

David Whitsett, Phi Kappa Psi president, said that few alumni would be back in time to see the parade. Those who would return in time would probably not be able to find any place to stay overnight if they have not made reservations by now, he added.

Cool Weather Due

The oppressively warm and humid air that has persisted in this area for the past several days will be replaced by cooler and less humid air this afternoon.

Showers and thunderstorms are possible this morning, and mostly cloudy skies are indicated for this afternoon. Today's high will be near 78 degrees.

Partly cloudy skies, cooler and less humid weather are indicated for tonight and tomorrow. A low of 54 is seen for tonight and a high of only 72 is predicted for tomorrow.

The cooler air that is forecast to reach this area today brought chilly weather to the north-central states yesterday and last night. Afternoon readings there were in the 40's and 50's, and frost was expected this morning.

IFC-Panhel to Hold Greek Week Feb. 10-19 After 2 Date Changes

Greek Week has definitely been scheduled for the week of Feb. 10-19, Jean Kennedy, Greek Week co-chairman, said yesterday.

THE WEEK'S EVENTS had tentatively been scheduled for Oct. 21-27, but due to the lack of preparation time at the beginning of the year and the possibility of a Homecoming float parade the previous weekend, the Panhellenic Council voted May 22 to recommend the date be changed to the winter term, suggesting Feb. 22 to 29.

The Interfraternity Council supported holding Greek Week in October. At a special meeting Wednesday night, however, IFC voted to authorize Fred Good, its Greek Week chairman, to act as he felt necessary in scheduling Greek Week.

The present dates were chosen because of the conflict with other events scheduled during the week of Feb. 22-29, Miss Kennedy said.

The main event of the week, the IFC-Panhel Sing Finals, are planned for Feb. 15 in Schwab. Preliminaries will be held Feb. 10 and 11.

Greek Sunday, Feb. 10, will kick off the week's events. The outstanding pledge banquet is planned for Feb. 12, and the bridge tournament will be held Feb. 13.

The fraternity-sorority exchange dinners are scheduled for Feb. 14. Work sessions are planned for Feb. 16. Awards and the over-all Greek Week trophy will be given at the IFC-Panhel banquet on Feb. 19.

Miss Kennedy said that the committee will meet Sunday to select music for the sing. The committee also plans to investigate the possibilities of televising the sing finals, she added.

THE GREEK WEEK committee is also considering adding events such as a chess tournament or similar games and an intellectual game similar to the College Bowl television quiz. These events would be scheduled at the same time as the bridge tournament, she added.

There is also a possibility that the winners will not be announced for any event except the sing until the awards banquet, Miss Kennedy said.

FIRING A VOLLEY as part of Wednesday's Memorial Day ceremony are seven members of Company "A" of the ROTC Ranger battalion. The ceremony was held near the grave of former president George W. Atherton. Following the ceremony, the Army ROTC band marched down Pollock Road playing the "National Emblem March" to an audience of students on their way to and from classes.
