

Council Roundup

AGRICULTURE Student Council sponsored a high school counseling program throughout the state during the Christmas vacation break. Members of the council carried out this program, which explained the College of Agriculture at the University.

Early in the year the council sponsored an "Ag Howdy" night to welcome the new students in the agriculture college. The council is presently working on a professor evaluation form.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION Student Council activities hit a high point with the appearance of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson at the college's Career Day, April 10.

Other activities of the council included the establishment of a business trainee exchange program with European students. Two seniors will work in industries abroad and two European students will train at firms in the State College area this summer.

CHEMISTRY-PHYSICS Student Council sponsored a faculty-student banquet and tours of the University's nuclear reactor this year.

During the summer term, council members will be preparing a handbook for freshmen entering college. The College of Chemistry and Physics, in the fall. A mixer for freshmen is also being planned, and the council will operate a booth at the activities exposition to be held during Orientation Week in the Hetzel Union Building.

DIVISION OF COUNSELING Student Council sponsored the three banquets given this year for the students on the dean's list.

The council participated in the Career Day held by Inter-College Council Board. Henry A. Finch, professor of philosophy, sponsored by the DOC Student Council, won the World University Service Prof. Snarf Contest.

EDUCATION Student Council held its first open house this year for high school seniors who are interested in a career in the field of education.

The council revised its representation system in November and reduced the number of members from 60 to 44 with a representative from each residence hall.

In February, ten classrooms were opened for evening studying due to the effort of the council.

ENGINEERING - Architecture Student Council instituted several new policies for the benefit of the students this year, Ervin Hill, Council president, said.

The first publication of an Engineering-Architecture handbook will be distributed to students in the fall.

The council also sponsored the first faculty-student mixer for the college. Plans are being made to hold one mixer each term at the home of a faculty member in hopes of improving student-faculty relations.

HOME ECONOMICS Student Council activities were highlighted this year by the Home Economics Spring Weekend, April 14 and 15. The event featured professionals in all fields of home economics and a program with the theme "Around the World."

Among its other activities, the council sponsored an orientation mixer with the College of Engineering and Architecture at the skating pavilion and an awards banquet to honor outstanding students.

LIBERAL ARTS Student Council sponsored six speakers this year through the council's Lecture Series.

During the winter term, the council held a banquet honoring the 10 outstanding seniors in the college. Council members and liberal arts faculty members attended the banquet.

An organizing committee is currently working to set up a Model United Nations, which will operate winter term 1962-63.

MINERAL INDUSTRIES Student Council climaxed a year of service to the college with a Career Day, May 1, in the Hetzel Union game room.

During the year, the council sponsored to promote better faculty-student relations within the college.

Other events of the year included an Awards Banquet, held May 9 in the HUB dining room. Richard H. Jahns, assistant dean of the college spoke on "Man and the Problems He Will Face in Outer Space."

PHYSICAL EDUCATION Student Council participated in the ICCB Career Day for the first time this year. They were in charge of the Career Day Banquet.

At the council's Awards Convocation the Outstanding Senior Woman Award was presented to Sheila Allison. John Phillips was awarded the Outstanding Senior Man, and Bud Smitley was named the Outstanding Senior in Recreation.

Summer Activity Planned

By JOAN HARTMAN

The summer term will not be all work and no play since many programs have been scheduled to keep the "activities majors" happy during their sojourn this summer.

The Hetzel Union Building will be the "hub" of many of the activities. Movies are scheduled in the assembly room every Wednesday night from June 27 through Aug. 27 with the exception of July 4.

FOR THOSE who prefer seeing their movies under the stars, films are scheduled every Friday night on the HUB lawn from June 22 to Aug. 17.

All rooms and services in the HUB will be available during the summer. However, the Lion's Den will only serve food from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m. It will be open after that time, but food must then be bought from the vending machines.

The Book Exchange and the Student Check Cashing Agency will also be open this summer. However, the Used Book Agency will not operate.

Saturday evening dances have also been scheduled in the HUB ballroom. The first two will be ballroom dances and the next five will be square dances.

The Curtis String Quartet will perform this summer. They will hold a lecture and concert on July 5, 12, 17 and 26 in the HUB assembly room.

A chamber music concert is scheduled for 8 p.m., July 15 in the Schwab. The next week, a student singing is slated for 8 p.m. in Schwab. An organ recital will be held on July 29 in Schwab.

THE ALPHA FIRE Company will hold its traditional street carnival July 2-4, on Allen Street.

Since summer days bring thoughts of swimming, both Glennland and White Hall will be open. Glennland will have coed swimming from 4 to 5 p.m. every afternoon and from 8 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays. White Hall pool will be open to women only from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Monday through Thursdays. No coed recreation nights have as yet been scheduled. However, any group which is interested in scheduling one is able to do so.

The more culturally-minded persons may attend the Mateer Playhouse, which will put on a new play every week. The Boal Barn Playhouse will also be in operation this summer.

An orchestra, band and chorus school will be open to students, faculty members and high school students. Concerts have been scheduled by each of the three groups.

Since most students will be living in the Pollock residence halls, the Pollock Men's Residence Council and the Association of Women Students will be in operation during the summer term. The council plans to sponsor record hops from 8 to 12:30 Friday nights.

THE WOMEN'S TENNIS Club will meet from 4 to 5 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays and the Golf Club will hold its meetings from 2:30 to 3 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays.

For those interested in less strenuous sports, the Bridge and Chess Clubs will meet weekly. The Bridge Club will hold its meetings 7 p.m. Mondays and the Chess Club will meet 7 p.m. Wednesdays in the HUB cardroom.

Protestant services will be held every Sunday at the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Chapel and mass will be held at Schwab.

Library Exhibits New Picture Of University's First President

A new photograph of Evan Pugh, the first and youngest president of the University, was recently obtained by the University library from the Chester County Historical Society and goes on exhibition today at Pattee.

Also on display are papers of George Atherton, president of the University from 1882 until 1906, among which are copies of letters exchanged between Atherton and Justin S. Morrill, author of the Land-Grant Act; copies of the Land-Grant Act; and color photographs of the Land-Grant Fresco now placed in Old Main.

THE DISPLAY commemorates the signing into law of the Land-Grant Act on June 2, 1862, by President Abraham Lincoln. It also honors the legislation signed on April 1, 1863, by Andrew G. Curtin, governor of Pennsylvania.

This act designated the Agricultural College of Pennsylvania, as the University was then known, as the Land-Grant institution of the Commonwealth. This year has been earmarked the Land-Grant Centennial.

A similar exhibit was on display at the University library from October 1961 through December, 1961.

THE EXHIBIT, with several additions, has been placed in the foyer of Pattee for the benefit of commencement visitors and alumni returning to the University, Margaret T. Riley, of the Penn State Room at Pattee, said.

The exhibit was arranged by the staff of the Penn State Room with the cooperation of the Department of Public Information and the Land-Grant Centennial Committee.
