

Fall, Winter Sports Flashback

KOCHMAN ON THE MOVE: Halfback Roger Kochman ran through the opposition like this all fall as the Lions rolled up a 7-3 regular season log. He is shown here driving for a touchdown against Holy Cross.

ANOTHER TWO FOR HARRIS: Gene Harris displays his jumping ability by going high over two Pitt defenders for two points. The Lion captain led the team in scoring and rebounding as the Nittanies finished with a 12-11 record.

PIGGY BACK STYLE: Bill Polacek tries to force his opponent to the mat by riding his back. The grapplers had a record of 6-3-1 and finished fourth in the EIWA Tournament held in Rec Hall.

Lions Score 82 Victories During Year

All but two of Penn State's fall and winter athletic teams turned in winning records in a year highlighted by the 30-15 victory over Georgia Tech in the Gator Bowl Dec. 30.

State's gridders turned in an 8-3 record including their post-season triumph. The Nittany soccer team was 3-6 while the cross-country harriers had a 4-1 mark to round out the fall season.

The Lions' gymnastics squad showed the way during the winter with a 5-1 mark. The cagers had a 12-11 record with three of the setbacks coming in the Quaker City Tourney in Philadelphia in December. The Lion wrestlers were 6-3-1, the rifle team 10-3. Fencing was re-instated at State after an 11-year lapse with the Lion swordmen winning one of three dual meets.

Overall, Lion teams won 82 events this year, lost 48, and tied one. The fall squads were 15-10, winter 34-20-1, and spring 33-18.

CHAMPIONSHIP FORM: Tommy Seward displays his championship form as he does a one-handed hand stand in the floor exercise routine during the Syracuse meet.
