

THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS

Today Applications

Applications for the Undergraduate Student Government's Alumni and Faculty Recognition Committee will be available at the Hetzel Union desk.

Caps and Gowns

Graduating seniors should order their caps and gowns at the Athletic Store by Wednesday. A $10 deposit fee is required when the gowns are ordered.

Drama

"The Tender Trap" by Max Shulman and Robert Paul Smith continues at Boal Barn Playhouse in Boalsburg. Curtain is 8:30 p.m. The play is a comedy about the problems of an eligible bachelor who believes in safety in numbers. The play will run through Aug. 18.

Performances will be given Wednesday through Saturday. Reservations may be obtained by calling AD 7-7867.

"Send Me No Flowers" by Norman Barasch and Carroll Moore continues at Mateer Playhouse at Standing Stone. Curtain time is 8:40 p.m.

The whimsical comedy revolves around George Kimball, the typical suburbanite—solid commuter, citizen and husband—who has the untypical hobby of hypochondria.

A 50-cent discount is given to students at performances Tuesday through Thursday.

The play will run through Aug. 18. Reservations may be made by calling UN 5-7586 or stopping at 204 Schwab between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. daily except Sunday.

"The Coming of Christ," a play by John Masefield with incidental music by Gustav Holst, will be presented at 8:30 p.m. in the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Chapel.

The dramatic production is under the direction of Warren S. Smith, associate professor of theatre arts, collaborating with the summer term choir conducted by James W. Beach.

Softball

Summer softball teams will play at 6:30 p.m. on both the golf course and Wagner fields. They will also play at 6:30 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the same fields.

Sunday Chapel

The Hon. R. Paul Campbell, president judge, Court of Common Pleas, will be the speaker at the 9 a.m. service at the Eisenhower Chapel. His topic will be "The Unreasonable Man."

A native of Ferguson Township, Centre County, Campbell received a bachelor's degree in arts and letters and a masters degree in political science from the University. He earned a bachelor of laws degree from the University of Pennsylvania in 1934 and was admitted to the practice of law at the Centre County Bar in 1935.

In 1957 he was nominated by both political parties and elected judge of the court of common pleas. He is presently serving his fifth year of a ten-year term.

The summer term choir conducted by James W. Beach will sing "Lord, open Thou my heart" by John Dressier.

Leonard Raver, Chapel Organist, will play "Prelude in A minor," by George Frederick Handel, and "Hymn: Ecce tempus idoneum" by Thomas Tallis.

Newman Club

The Newman Club will hold a swim party at Greenwood Furnace. The group will leave from the HUB parking lot at 1:30 p.m.

Arthur R. Reede, professor of economics, will speak to the Graduate Newman Club at 7:45 p.m. in the Eisenhower Chapel lounge. His topic will be "The Golden Rule in Business."

Cows Donated For Research

Ninety-two pedigreed Polled Hereford cows have been presented to the Department of Animal Industry and Nutrition to establish a beef breeding research program.

The cattle, valued at about $50,000, are the gift of the Leon Falk Family Trust of Pittsburgh. The trust also donated $15,000 to initiate this beef breeding program at the University. The cows came from the farm of Leon Falk Jr., of Falklands Farm in Schellsburg.

The new research program will be under the direction of Russell C. Miller, head of the department, and Herman R. Purdy, who is in charge of purebred livestock.

Miller said that the gift will make possible studies of genetic characters producing both desirable and undesirable traits in beef cattle. He added that there is a great need in current beef research for studies in view of the demands for more detailed information on the genetic constitution of breeding animals.
