JFK Plans Action On Cuban Shipping

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has ordered a four-point U.S. economic-political offensive against shipping between Communist-bloc countries and Cuba.

Administration officials said yesterday the campaign, designed to increase substantially the cost of delivery of Soviet goods to Cuba, will be put into force in 10 days or two weeks.

A SPECIAL interdepartmental task force has been set up to work out the necessary legal orders and determine exactly what steps to take. It is headed by Abram Chayes, legal adviser of the State Department.

Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk have been under heavy political pressure to take further action against Fidel Castro's Cuba. It was obvious that the administration feels the forthcoming steps will be welcomed in Congress and across the country.

The planned action, on which the basic policy decision has already been made, will not affect shipping between Cuba and non-Communist countries which are major suppliers of the Soviet-supported Castro regime.

AN ATTACK on that aspect of the problem could come at a later stage with efforts to persuade countries like Britain, West Germany and Canada to discourage all kinds of sales to Cuba.

One effect of the program, officials conceded, will be to bar Soviet ships from U.S. ports. A vessel flying the Soviet flag seldom puts into an American harbor anyway, but the symbolic nature may impress other countries with the seriousness with which the United States regards the Soviet massing of arms in Cuba.

Complications would arise if Soviet Premier Khrushchev wanted to visit the United States on a Soviet ship, perhaps to attend the United Nations in November. But administration advisers said President Kennedy could always make a special exception in that or any other unusual occasion.

THE FOUR MAJOR policy lines worked out in the effort to crack down on Castro's supply line are these, as outlined by official sources which insisted on remaining anonymous:

1. Close all U.S. ports to all ships of any country "if any ship under the flag of that country hereafter carries arms to Cuba." Officials said this would strike only at Soviet shipping since only Soviet-flag vessels carry arms to Cuba so far as they knew.

2. Deny U.S. government cargoes or cargoes financed by the government to any foreign flag ship, the owners of which have any ship in the trade between the Communist bloc and Cuba.

3. BAR U.S. FLAG ships and U.S.-owned ships from carrying goods to or from Cuba. Officials said there may be a few U.S.-owned vessels operated in the Cuban trade under Communist-bloc charter.

4. Close all U.S. ports to any ship which "on the same continuous voyage was used or is being used in bloc-Cuban trade."

60 Petition for Elections

The candidates for the Undergraduate Student Government Congress and the freshman and sophomore class presidencies were announced last night by George Jackson, Elections Commission chairman.

The 60 contenders for the various offices were self-nominated by petitions signed by members of their prospective constituencies. Only the town area for the USG Congress did not submit enough nominating petitions to fill their allotted seats in Congress.

JACKSON SAID that if there are write-in candidates, those who receive the most votes will be able to fill the vacant seats. He asked that students living in the town area consider writing in names so that they will not lack representation on Congress.

He added that other areas could also write-in candidates since some persons are now running unopposed for their seats.

Candidates from the congressional areas are:

Town: Alan White, George Gordon, Walter Pilof, Harry Grace and Harry McHenry.

Fraternity: Thomas Kiley, Fred Good, William Titus, Jon Geiger, Mike Stoll, Curtis Davis, Michael Dzvoniak and Peter Lockhart.

North Halls women: Jerilyn Donahoe and Nancy Lee Grace.

NORTH HALLS MEN: Eric Bloom, Gary Jones and Joseph Bent Atherton; Gretchen Taubenberg and Carolyn Driscoll Simmons-McElwain; Ethel Gardner, Paula Narbut and Barbara Baer. Pollock-South Halls men: Mark Saltzman, Jeffrey McFarlan, Jay Levy and Thomas Musumeci.

Pollock women: Kathleen Rene, Janet Jeffries, Margaret McDowell, Susan Hackman, Margaret Murphy and Karen Fay.

West Halls women: Barbara Babb, West Halls men: Robert Arthur Luhnann, Theodore Wilks, J. Begdoll and Harry Dugan. South Halls women: Katherine Johnson, Jeanne Alexander, Patricia Field, Beverly Klevan, Ilean Rosenbaum, Carol McFadden and Susan Rose.

EAST HALLS WOMEN: Mary Dubin and Marjorie Levy. East Halls men: John Gorman, Nitany Halls; Daniel Schmick.

Candidates for freshman class president are Ronald Sinoway, Perry Ikin, Walter Wiewiora, Richard Davis and Leonard Pasquini.

Running for sophomore class president are Bruce Miller, Martin Munitz, Samuel Gellis, Robert Lockhardt and Paul Gray.

Women Students to Vote In AWS Primary Today

Women students will go to the polls today in the first of two elections to choose 80 members of Association of Women Students community councils.

The polls will be open in each of the women's residence hall areas between 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. and between 4:30 and 7 p.m. Women must present their matriculation cards and meal tickets in order to vote.

The purpose of today's primary election is to reduce the number of candidates before the final election to be held Wednesday.

WEST HALLS women will choose six freshmen and ten upperclassmen to run for the council, which will include five upperclassmen and three freshmen.

East Halls residents will elect 11 upperclassmen and 8 freshmen to compete for a council of 11 members.

Residents of Simmons and McElwain will elect 11 upperclassmen and 10 freshmen in each residence hall today. Separate councils of seven upperclassmen and five freshmen will be elected Wednesday.

Atherton's council will be composed of eight upperclassmen and three freshmen. Eleven upperclassmen and six freshmen will be chosen today to run in the final election.

EACH POLLOCK residence hall will elect two sorority women, two independents and two freshmen today. Nominees from each hall will compete Wednesday for positions on the Pollock council, which will be composed of 16 members.

South Halls residents will elect 18 finalists, whose names will appear on the ballot Wednesday when a council of ten members will be chosen.

Polls will be located in the lounges of Atherton, Simmons, McElwain and West Halls, as well as in the dining areas of East, South and Pollock Halls.

EACH VOTER must sign for the ballot she receives and the ballots will be numbered to guard against their being misplaced. All incomplete ballots will be counted, but write-in votes will be disregarded.

Concert Tickets

All of the student tickets for the concert to be presented at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow in Schwab by Paul Browning, pianist, have been distributed.

Artists Series officials said yesterday that if any non-student tickets allocated for sale remain at 8 a.m. tomorrow, they will be made available to students without charge at the Hatzel Union desk.

Second Rainstorm Pounds State; Gradual Clearing Seen for Today

The second heavy rainstorm within a week pounded Pennsylvania yesterday leaving one to three inches of rain in most sections.

The rain resulted from a weak-looking rain area that drifted into Western Pennsylvania Wednesday night.

THIS AREA of precipitation had shown a marked decrease in intensity Wednesday and no important precipitation was forecast for the local area as it moved through.

Unexpectedly, the precipitation area rapidly gained strength early yesterday and stalled over central and eastern Pennsylvania.

Nearly two inches of rain were measured in the local area, which together with last week's 2.18 inch fall boosted the seven day total to more than four inches.

Gradual clearing should begin today although skies should continue mostly cloudy with a few showers possible. The high temperature will be about 66 degrees.

PARTLY CLOUDY skies and mild weather are seen for tonight and a low temperature of 50 is likely.

Tomorrow should be sunny and warmer. The high will be about 72 degrees.

Much of the rain of the past week has been absorbed by the relatively dry soil, so the threat of any serious flooding is rather small.

TROPICAL STORM—Daisy reached hurricane intensity yesterday morning as it maintained its steady course toward the southeast coast of the United States.

Daisy is forecast to continue increasing in size and intensity as it approaches the coast. Late last night the storm was pinpointed by aircraft radar some 650 miles east of Miami.

Departments to File Requests For Final Exam Dates Today

Today is the deadline for departments to file with the Scheduling Office, final examination requests, John E. Miller, University scheduling officer, said recently.

After the requests have been received, Miller said, the three-day exam schedule will be set up and published later in the month. The final exam period will begin at 8 a.m., Dec. 4 and end at 9:55 p.m., Dec. 6.

COURSES FOR which final exams are not scheduled during the exam period will have the equivalent of a final exam during a regularly scheduled class period before Dec. 4, he said.

Students with two exams at the same time or with more than three exams on the same day may file conflict examination requests between Oct. 29 and Nov. 2 in 2 Willard.

STUDENTS with three exams scheduled on the same day but without a direct conflict among them will be permitted to file for a conflict exam during the same period, Miller said.

These students, however, will only be granted conflict exams where it has been necessary to establish them because of direct conflicts, he added.

Miller said the conflict exam schedule would be made public about Nov. 21.

YOU DON'T SAY! Wilbur, who has suffered one too many strokes, leans at his sister-in-law in last night's Curtain Raiser presented by the University Theater. Wilbur, right, was played by Warren Burns, instructor in theater arts, and the sister-in-law, left, by Laurie Stepanian, (graduate—theater arts—State College).
