

Discipline Subcommittee Suspends Two Students

Two students have been temporarily suspended and two others placed on disciplinary probation by the Senate Subcommittee on Discipline, Daniel R. Leasure, assistant dean of men, said recently.

A SEVENTH term student in the College of Agriculture has been suspended until the beginning of the fall term 1963 for unethical and dishonest behavior, Leasure said.

Suspension involves temporary removal of a student from the University for a specified length of time.

The student, while employed by the Department of Forestry as a survey taker, had fabricated answers to questionnaires, Leasure explained.

The student was supposed to complete the questionnaires only through personal interviews with officials of certain business establishments, he said.

Disciplinary action has also been taken against two students who stole a sign from a local business concern, Leasure said.

One of those students, a ninth term student in the College of Engineering, has been suspended until the end of the fall term 1962.

The other student, seventh term in the Division of Counseling has been placed on disciplinary probation until the end of the winter term 1963. Disciplinary probation includes an official notice on the student's transcript and limitation of his extracurricular activities.

The engineering student's penalty was more severe, Leasure said, since he had received disciplinary action from the dean of men's office on several previous occasions.

THE STUDENTS, both minors, had been drinking alcoholic beverages, Leasure added.

In other action, a second term student in the College of Business Administration, has been placed on disciplinary probation until the end of the fall term 1962 for creating a disturbance.

Leasure said the student broadcast amplified messages from a sound truck at various campus locations.

Froth Hearing--

"A solution should be found so that the magazine can continue publishing," Pockrass said. "If the publication of the magazine is suppressed, the University will receive more adverse publicity."

In a letter concerning the situation to Ed Urie, Froth co-editor, JSG President Dean Wharton wrote, "As far as I can determine, the students feel that Froth must revamp its format and re-evaluate its thinking. The editors of Froth should approach this next meeting knowing that students strongly support the retention of a vehicle for humor on campus, but that there is strong disapproval of the present Froth."

Sunday night the undergraduate charter of Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalism society, unanimously passed a resolution condemning the University for its action in seeking the suppression of Froth.

THE RESOLUTION also stated that the society did not approve of the kind of journalism presented in recent issues of the magazine but supported its right to publish.

Dean Lipp and Simes refused to comment on any questions concerning the humor magazine.

Coed Voted TIM Special Assistant With All Privileges Except Voting

The Town Independent Men's Council voted last night to reject the membership application from Margaret Umberger (1st-liberal arts-State College), but approved her appointment as special assistant to the council.

As special assistant, Miss Umberger will hold all the privileges of a regular member except that of voting. She plans to use her experience on TIM as a basis for organizing the town independent women, who she said lack representation on the Association of Women Students at the present.

Her application for full membership was rejected on the grounds that the TIM constitution rules out female council members and that her acceptance would make necessary a complete reorganization of the council, a name change and constitutional revisions, Michael Thomson, chairman of the committee investigating her application, said.

In other business, Harry McHenry (10th-metallurgy-Devon) was elected vice president and Bert Kapinus (10th-accounting-Boston) was elected treasurer.

Why, here's just an example: Campus Cleaners always puts SIZING in your clothing when cleaned. Sizing is actually a food to material. It keeps it looking better, longer.
