Chem student still at it!

Undaunted by recent explosions, Marylan Hiccupheimerslow is still trying to perfect a new cleaning fluid. Expenses for the massive research study have recently passed the $5000 mark, with $4,876.54 going to replace ruined clothing. The standard for the study is Campus Cleaners. Marylan feels that if she can match their clean clothing, she will have made a product that can be marketed with success. Well, we wish the best of luck to Marylan, but until she perfects her new fluid, why not bring your clothing to Campus Cleaners, where the professionals have already perfected the art of cleaning. It's at one ten east beaver avenue, next to the post office. Incidentally, Marylan never experiments on her own wardrobe, so beware. Bring all your clothing to Campus Cleaners.
