FOR A BETTER PENN STATE

VOL. 63, No. 34

UNIVERSITY PARK, PA., TUESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 6, 1962

FIVE CENTS

STATE'S ED STUCKRATH (35) eyes Maryland halfback Murnis Banner for a possible loss during Saturday's Terp-Lion contest. Banner had other ideas, however, and escaped for a first down as Stuckrath fell on the wet turf. State won the snow-laden contest, 23-7.

State Trips Terps, 23-7

Old Man Winter and Pete Laske combined to steal the spotlight from Dick Shiner Saturday.

Many of the 40,500 Beaver Field faithful who braved a blizzard to see Penn State play Maryland had come to see Shiner, the Terps' heralded passer, throw the ball all over the lot.

But when the slipping and sliding was done and Penn State had safely tucked away victory number six, 23-7, the people weren't talking about Shiner.

Laske and the area's first substantial snowfall had stolen the show from Shiner with what Lion coach Rip Engle hints may have been only a preview of things to come.

LISKE IS getting better every game," Engle enthused in the welcome warmth of the Penn State dressing room. "He is going to be a very good quarterback."

Maryland coach Tom Nugent also heaped praise on the Lion quarterback.

"He is a very fine quarterback," Nugent said. "He is not fast, but he is quick and has tremendous balance."

Liske, who had his best day passing against California last week, turned in the best running performance of his career against the Terps.

HE GAINED 80 yards on 15 carries and scored two touchdowns on runs of 11 and 13 yards.

Most of his yardage came on a quarterback keeper play that offensive backfield coach Joe Paterno designed especially for this game.

While Liske was shining on offense, little Don Caum was brilliant defensively.

Caum plucked two Shiner passes out of the frigid air in the last quarter to set up the Nittanies' final two scores.

And All American end candidate Dave Robinson played his usual outstanding defensive game, recovered three fumbles and threatening to mutilate Shiner every time the Maryland star dropped back to pass.

It is doubtful that Shiner could have made the difference between winning and losing. As Engle put it, "We were really hitting out there."

	P.S.	Md.
First downs	13	12
Yards rushing	201	123
Yards passing	22	67
Passes completed	4 of 12	7 of 18
Passes had intercepted	1	3
Punts	6	7
Punting average	40.3	34
Fumbles lost	0	3
Yards penalized	25	20

Ralph Baker, Harrison Rosdahl, tackle Chuck Sieminski, Caum and Robinson all drew praise from the Lion mentor for their defensive work.

The combination of State's defensive play and the sloppy conditions limited Shiner to the worst day of his career. The leading passer in the nation before the game, Shiner completed only five of 13 passes for 33 yards. Three of his aeriels were intercepted by the Lions' alert backs.

ROBINSON recovered a Shiner fumble on the Maryland seven-yard line and Ron Coates kicked a 28-yard field goal four plays later to give the Lions a 3-0 lead.

Borough Council Passes Housing Standards Code

By CAROL RITCH

A housing code providing minimum standards for the maintenance and use of buildings for public housing facilities in State College was adopted by the Borough Council at its meeting last night.

The approved housing code will become effective Jan. 1. Its provisions will be enforced by June 1, allowing time for property owners to elevate their housing facilities to the standards established in the code.

A limited supply of copies of the housing code is now available in the main hall of the State College Borough building on S. Frazier Street.

At that time, housing inspectors will examine town dwellings. Any person violating the provisions of the code will, upon conviction, be subject to a fine of not less than $10 or more than $100 and costs of suit. If the fine is not paid, the violator will be sentenced to the Centre County jail for not more than 30 days.

Arthur Pergam, Town Independent Men's Council president, said last night "The TIM Council is very pleased that the Borough Council has passed this housing code. We feel that it will definitely improve the standards of housing facilities in State College for all students."

Pergam also said that while TIM did not play a major role in the passage of the housing code, he feels that it helped to make the borough council aware of its own responsibility for providing such standards.

"THE CHANGES incorporated into the code were for clarification and represented no major reversal of policy. Lawrence Perez, Borough Council president, said. An example of one of the changes is that shower and toilet facilities are required for every eight persons living in any building. Before the change, the code stated that these facilities were to be provided for every 12 persons after the first eight living in the building.

The code also includes standards of proper lighting and ventilation in the living units. Proper heating and repair of the structure and premises are also outlined.

THE POLICY on fire protection is not mentioned in detail since all buildings covered by the code are also subject to the provisions of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry. These regulations include protection from fire.

USG Rules Committee Named

The appointment of four members to the Undergraduate Student Government Rules Committee was made last night by Katherine Johnson, committee chairman.

THE APPOINTMENTS were made primarily on the basis of residence area, Miss Johnson said. Interest, background and experience were also considered, she added.

Barbara Baer (Simmons-McElwain), Harry Dugan (West),

Fred Good (fraternity) and Harry Grace (town) were named to the committee.

These appointments are subject to the approval of the USG Congress tomorrow night.

The Rules Committee draws up the agenda for Congress meetings and rules on excuses submitted by congressmen absent from the meetings.

"As far as political parties go," Miss Johnson said, "I didn't have them in mind when I chose the committee. However, it appears that there is a representative from each party on the committee."

Miss Baer was chosen because she has had experience in personal relations through her work in the Association of Women Students, Miss Johnson explained.

Dugan had expressed interest in the committee, and Miss Johnson said she felt that he would gain valuable experience for future years in student government in this type of committee work.

Grace has had experience and background through his chairmanship of the Public Relations Committee, Miss Johnson said.

Good was a member of the Rules Committee last year and his experience will be invaluable to this year's committee, she added.

MISS JOHNSON and USG President Dean Wharton drew up the agenda for the Congress meeting tomorrow night.

The Rules Committee will meet regularly at 8:30 p.m. on Mondays beginning next week, Miss Johnson said. All bills must be submitted to the committee by that time, she said.

Miss Johnson also said that she plans to discuss with her committee the establishment of policy on tardiness to USG meetings.

Pergam to Investigate Suspension Of 4 Students by Discipline Group

An investigation of the suspension of two coeds and two town men by the Senate Subcommittee on Discipline will be conducted by Arthur Pergam, Town Independent Men's president.

Pergam said at last night's TIM meeting that he would report to the group next week on his findings.

Bert Kapinus, TIM treasurer, proposed that the council write a letter to The Daily Collegian denouncing the subcommittee's action. However, he withdrew this proposal when Pergam agreed to investigate the matter.

KAPINUS SAID his facts on the case were limited but that he thinks the subcommittee acted unfairly.

He said he had heard that the subcommittee was about to expel one student and put the other three on disciplinary probation for a term when the subcommittee decided to suspend them all for the sake of equality.

In other business, Kapinus reported that proceeds from Las Vegas Night were $1,216.70.

The money was derived from the sale of 1,250 tickets and from fake money bought during the evening, he said.

Pergam said the council expected to make a profit of between $700 and $800 on the "mock gambling."

Pergam said the success of this venture shows what TIM is capable of doing.

Joseph Tellup (7th - business administration - Carbondale) was elected to the council last night following a report given by screening committee chairman Harry McHenry.

RICHARD TRIGILIO, council member, and Kapinus will both run for the one vacant town seat on the Undergraduate Student Government Congress, Pergam said after the meeting.

In other business, the council allocated $35 for a mixer with Atherton Hall on Nov. 13 and $150 for a jammy in the Hetzel Union ballroom on Nov. 17.

University Senate
The University Senate will meet at 4 p.m. today in 121 Sparks.

LAS VEGAS NIGHT: At one of the dice tables in the Hetzel Union ballroom, which was turned into a casino Saturday night, Joyce MacDowell, (4th-elementary and kindergarten education-Springfield) rolls a "natural" (a seven).

Cold Weather to Remain

The last arctic air mass in a series that has dominated the state's weather pattern for several days is expected to pass off the east coast tonight.

A warming trend should become evident tomorrow.

Today should be mostly cloudy and cold with some afternoon sunshine. The high will be about 42. Clear, cold weather is forecast for tonight and a low of 27.
