

NITTANY QUARTERBACK Pete Liske looks downfield for a pass receiver as he rolls out with fullback Buddy Torris (32) as an escort. Glenn Ressler (52) and Jim Williams provide protection in the background. Liske kept the ball and gained eight yards on the play as State tripped the Mounties, 34-6.

Lions Trample Mounties With Strong Second Half

(Continued from page one) the game was halfback Junior Powell's return to pass catching form. The 160-pound junior grabbed seven passes for 73 yards and now is only four receptions short of a State record. Jesse Arnel set the mark with 33 catches in 1952.

State took the opening kickoff and marched quickly down to the West Virginia four-yard line, but the Mounties stiffened and took over on downs.

The Mountaineers moved the ball out to their own 42-yard line before the Nittanians held and forced a punt.

That's when State's Reddy unit took control. With Liske at the helm, the Nittanians roared 75 yards for the touchdown. The payoff came on a 17-yard jump pass from Liske to Powell, who had gotten behind defender John Burnison in the end zone. Ron Coates added the first of four extra points and the score was 7-0.

IT STAYED that way for the rest of the first half despite several Lion scoring chances.

Reddy unit end Bud Yost recovered a fumble by Mountie quarterback Jerry Yost on the West Virginia 16-yard line, but a fake field goal pass attempt by Don Caum was ruled incomplete when the Lion quarterback crossed the line of scrimmage before throwing.

The Nittanians got the ball back on Al Gursky's pass interception four plays later, but again failed to score when West Virginia linebacker Keith Melenzyer intercepted a Liske aerial on the Mountie 31.

The Nittanians flubbed two more scoring chances on a missed field goal and another intercepted pass, but left the field with a 7-0 halftime lead.

State scored the first time it had the ball in the second half, marching 59 yards in eight plays with All-American halfback candidate Roger Kochman and fullback Dave Hayes doing most of the damage on the ground. Hayes boomed over left tackle for the score and Coates again added the extra point.

WEST VIRGINIA took the ensuing kickoff and rolled down to the Lions' 10-yard line, but four plays gained only six yards and the Nittanians took over.

Starting a drive from its own four-yard stripe, State covered 96 yards in 19 plays for the touchdown on a 13-yard pass from Liske to end Bill Bowes.

It took West Virginia just three plays to score after the kickoff. Yost hooked up on a 54-yard pass play with Tom Woodeshick for the score, but Yost was stopped short on the two-point conversion attempt.

State stormed back for a touchdown, a Liske to Powell pass completion covering the last seven yards. Coates' fourth conversion made the score 28-6.

The Lions added one for good measure with the third team doing the honors. Gary Klingensmith, carrying the ball for the third time this season, scored from the four-yard line. Coates missed the extra point, but by that time it didn't really matter. The game ended with State's fourth team, including two players who weren't even listed in the program, driving toward the West Virginia goal.

Two on Injury List As IC4A's Draw Near

By JOE GRATA

With six days remaining until the Lions seek to capture the IC4A Cross-country championship, State's undefeated distance runners are keeping their fingers crossed.

Seven harriers will represent the Nittany varsity squad, but right now sophomore running sensations Colin Grant and Dick Lampman are nursing injuries which could keep them from submerging opponents at "full speed ahead."

Over the past weekend, Grant came up with an injury that coach John Lucas calls "tendonitis." Lampman suffered a broken nose in an automobile accident.

UNLESS THE inflammation can be worked out of Grant's legs by Monday, the speedster from England "may just have to take it a little slower," according to coach Lucas.

Lampman's injury shouldn't have much effect on his running, but he'll have to do the majority of his breathing through his mouth. Lucas points out that both will compete in the IC4A's, despite their injuries.

Other State harriers making the trip will be captain Howie Deardorff, Joe Nichols, Ted Inswiler, Lionel Bassett and Dick Tuft. Inswiler, a letterman, and Tuft finished consistently in top-ranking positions to help the Nittany harriers post their 4-0 dual-meet record.

The runners will blast off on their five-mile trek around the scenic Van Cortlandt Park course in the Brooklyn sector of New York City at 2.15 p.m. Monday.

Among the thirty-one IC4A member colleges competing in the University Division will be defending title holder Michigan State, winner of the championship five times in the last six years.

The Spartans' only loss during the span occurred in 1960 when the Lions notched a victory after recording an unbeaten 26-0 mark. Last year the Lion harriers trailed the Spartans by eight points.

ANOTHER STRONG threat, besides perennial powerhouses Villanova, Manhattan, Cornell and Army, will be a Navy squad which captured the 20th Annual Heptagonal cross-country race at Van Cortlandt Park Saturday.

The Nittanians easily bested the Midshipmen, 15-41, on the University course earlier this year, but Navy now gains a slight advantage by participating in the Heptagonals. The New York course should be "old stuff" to the Middies during the IC4A run.

Yesterday coach Lucas was in New York on business so the harriers held their own practice session on the cinder track at Beaver Field.

The team of Deardorff and freshman Geoffrey Webb combined to finish first in a two-man 10-mile relay with a time of 44:27 minutes. In all, seven pairs of harriers ran the relay event, with each man alternating with the other for a total of forty 440-yard laps.

The results were recorded and will be compared with times of other runners throughout the country in the next issue of Track and Field magazine.

Alabama Leads AP Football Poll

By The Associated Press

The Crimson Tide of Alabama rolled into first place in the ever-changing weekly college football rankings yesterday with Southern California a strong second in a photo finish.

Northwestern, last week's leader, dropped all the way down to ninth place after losing to Wisconsin 37-6.

Alabama drew 22 of the 51 first place votes to 17 for Southern California. Mississippi, No. 3, had three firsts and Wisconsin, No. 4, had eight firsts. The other first place vote was cast for Penn State, which was not among the leaders.

Texas placed No. 5, Missouri No. 6, Arkansas No. 7, Minnesota

No. 8, Northwestern No. 9 and Louisiana State No. 10, rounding out the top ten.

THE TOP TEN

	W	L	T	Pts.
1. Alabama (22)	8	0	0	455
2. S. Calif. (17)	7	0	0	443
3. Mississippi (10)	7	0	0	375
4. Wisconsin (8)	6	1	0	328
5. Texas	7	0	1	301
6. Missouri	5	0	1	224
7. Arkansas	7	1	0	196
8. Minnesota	5	1	1	152
9. Northwestern	6	1	0	119
10. Louisiana State	6	1	1	77

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically, first place vote in parentheses: Arizona State, Auburn, Dartmouth, Georgia Tech, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Oregon, Oregon State, Penn State (1), Purdue, Washington.
