

Cadets' Second Half Scores Beat Nittany Soccermen, 3-1

By IRA MILLER

Saturday was Bill Jeffrey Day but someone apparently forgot to tell the Army soccer team.

The Cadets handed State's booters their sixth loss in seven games, 3-1, breaking the contest open with two second half goals.

Jeffrey was honored at half-time ceremonies in which he was presented with a large trophy by Dick Packer, ex-Lion All-American. Packer headed the committee which put the Bill Jeffrey Award into competition for the first time this season.

The trophy was to have been awarded to State's outstanding player Saturday, but the committee decided to wait until the end of the season before naming a winner.

With many former Lion soccer players on hand in Saturday morning's rain, the Nittanians made a game of it for more than a half before running out of gas in the third quarter.

DAN BANOVICH, who had entered the game as a substitute, scored what proved to be the winning goal when he booted in a 30-yarder from his halfback position at 17:00 of the third period. The shot broke a 1-1 tie.

Army stunned the Lions with a goal by Ed Lee in the first minute of the game but the Lions then took control and dominated play for the rest of the first half.

They gained a tie on Val Djurdjevic's goal at 13:15 of the second quarter. Djurdjevic scored from just in front of the net after getting the ball out of a scramble.

Lee, who also scored an insurance goal in the fourth quarter, tallied both times on head shots. His first score, coming on Army's first offensive penetration, came on a pass from Jose Gonzales, all alone on the left wing. He "headed in" his second marker two minutes into the fourth quarter.

Lion captain Jay Stormer was off the field for both of Army's second-half goals. Stormer, playing left wing, was kicked in the stomach in the last half-minute of the first half. He returned to action in the game's closing minutes.

State missed a couple of opportunities to get back in the game after Banovich's tally. Both times it was right wing John Katona shooting, but to no avail. One shot, climaxing a solo dash, sailed far wide of the net. Another time he hit the left upright.

Army outshot the Lions, 18-15, but few of the Nittany shots were on target. State goalie Jay Robbins had to make eleven saves, while Ken Eklund stopped only four shots in the Army goal.

THE VICTORY was Army's sixth in eight games. The Cadets lost to Fairleigh-Dickinson and were tied by Drexel. It was also their fifth straight win over the Lions in a series which State leads 12-11 with three ties.

Lion coach Ken Hosterman felt that Saturday's game was one of the Lions' best, although he remains somewhat disheartened by the continuing string of setbacks.

State's goal-scoring ability has been severely hampered this year by a constant reshuffling of the forward line. Injuries and the loss of three regulars who quit the team necessitated several switches.

"IT WAS our game Saturday until Army put through that second goal," Hosterman said. "We just seemed to lose in the second half." "We controlled the ball better than we did against either Navy or Temple, but the forward line still must make some of their opportunities count," he concluded. The Lions have scored just eleven goals in seven games.

State closes out the home portion of its schedule this Saturday against Gettysburg. The Nittany booters complete their season next week against undefeated Pitt.

Hoover Earns Place In Lion Cage Lineup

By JIM BUKATA

(This is the sixth in a series on members of the 1962-63 Penn State basketball team. Next is Ron Avillion.)

Terry Hoover, a 6-7, 215-pound forward from Monterrey, Ind., stands a good chance to start against Maryland in the Lions' cage opener despite the fact that he is only a sophomore.

The southpaw shooter looked good in State's two scrimmages against American University and Mansfield State and coach John Egli hopes this is a sign of things to come.

"Finding a steady performer for that one forward position was one of my worries before the season started," Egli said. "However, off Hoover's two performances, I would say that he might be the answer."

Hoover was one of the first basketball players to enter State from outside the normal recruiting area of Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey.

He was the star for Monterrey and led his team to the Indiana playoffs in 1960.

Snowy Simpson, the Lions' assistant coach, had just taken his new position here after giving up a similar post at Utah.

He had scouted Hoover and was responsible for talking him into coming to State.

HOOVER WAS also one of the five freshmen ineligible last season. He became a member of the IBM all-stars.

One of Hoover's big problems has been making the change from the post position he played in high school to that of a corner man.

Egli made the change after inserting Ulo Kart in the pivot for the Lions.

One problem that Hoover must overcome is excessive fouling, but this may come with experience.

He has shown in practice that much of the fouling comes from over-anxiousness on his part.

With Hoover, Kart and Earl Hoffman in the game, Egli has a starting front line that will match almost any team in the country in height.

Hoover will face the same situation that confronts Bob Weiss. A lack of experience in his first few varsity games will bring about mistakes on his part.

However, Egli plans to stick with the sophomore, hoping that he will develop quickly into a polished starter.

Oiler Owner After Tribe

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The owner of the Tulsa Oilers and a former owner of that club were identified yesterday as members of a syndicate which reportedly will buy the Cleveland Indians of the American Baseball League.

A. Ray Smith, now owner of the Texas League team here, was not available for comment, but an associate said both Smith and Grayle Howlett, who owned the Class AA team before Smith, are in the Indian group.
