IS BROTHERHOOD DANGEROUS?

On reading Arnold's Toward World Brotherhood, which suggested an inclusive Brotherhood Religion, a Kentucky hunter warned that it was as dangerous as a loaded shotgun and needed just as careful handling. Comments ranged all the way from "I agree with every word in the book" by Carl C. Taylor, former president of the American Sociological Society, to "There is not a page in the book with which I can say that I agree" by Charles R. Andrews of the Colgate Rochester Divinity School. John Dewey wrote the Author: "You have stuck a very important note in the problem of world organization and unity. In fact, I think the most important one as well as most neglected and most needed."

Surely, it is no more dangerous for people of various religious backgrounds to unite in an inclusive Brotherhood than to remain divided because they happened to be born into different sects — sectarian preferences and prejudices spill over into politics, international relations and other nonreligious fields.

The immediate problem for those who prefer inclusive Brotherhood Religion is to find one another. If they will get in touch with me, I shall serve as a kind of clearing house and try to put them in touch with one another.

Probably I should introduce myself:

I was educated at Centre College (A.B.), Columbia (A.M.), Harvard University (Ph.D.) and other schools. I was teacher in the principal of several high schools in the South, then taught at the State Teachers College, Bridgewater, Massachusetts for thirty years. Since leaving Bridgewater, I have revised several of my textbooks and am now devoting the greater part of my time to the promotion of the Brotherhood Movement.

Joseph L. Arnold, 1737 Cambridge Street, Cambridge 38, Massachusetts.

New Song Chosen for Greek Sing

"Til There Was You" will replace "September Song" as the required song for groups participating in the Interfraternity Council-Panhellenic Sing. Chairman Leon Klingensmith said recently.

Fraternities and sororities may rearrange the required music to adjust to the needs of the group without incurring loss of points in the judging.

The groups must, however, purchase the required music from the sing committee, Klingensmith said. Fraternity and sorority groups may purchase the songs for 25 cents a copy at Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity and 210 Haller, respectively.
