

—Collegian Photo by Don Coleman

FORESHADOWING? The technique—so popular in early literature—seems also to apply to this picture of the Armory. The University has announced it plans to tear down the campus relic soon to make room for an addition to Willard.

The Daily Collegian

FOR A BETTER PENN STATE

VOL. 63, No. 41 UNIVERSITY PARK, PA., THURSDAY MORNING, NOV. 15, 1962 FIVE CENTS

Thant Puts Aside New Cuban Plans

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Acting Secretary-General U Thant was reported yesterday to have shelved temporarily new Soviet-Cuban proposals for settling the Cuban crisis.

A U.N. spokesman said Thant acted at the request of the two countries.

SECRECY SURROUNDED the exact nature of the proposals, but they were described as based on previous demands by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro for U.S. withdrawal of the naval base at Guantanamo and an end to U.S. economic and political pressures against Castro.

In Washington a State Department spokesman denied that such proposals had been made to Thant. Informed of this, a U.N. spokesman reiterated that they had been delivered to Thant Tuesday by Cuba and the Soviet Union, and that the secretary-general was told by the two countries not to forward them to the United States yet.

Diplomats speculated that Thant had felt that the proposals in their original form were bound to be unacceptable to the United States. They said that in the event the Soviet Union and Cuba persisted he would have no other choice than to forward them.

These developments came as the United States stressed to Thant its desire for a speedy settlement of the crisis. The spokesman for Thant reported some progress, but basic U.S. and Soviet positions appeared unchanged.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson conferred with Thant for an hour and 45 minutes and later told newsmen: "I am hopeful that we can solve this problem, but this would be a triumph of hope over experience."

The word in Washington and here was that the United States was still insisting upon three immediate objectives—removal of more than 24 Soviet jet bombers from Cuba, adequate verification of removal of all offensive weapons, and arrangements for keeping new weapons from arriving in Cuba.

SOVIET SOURCES said they regarded the removal of 42 Soviet missiles under U.S. naval inspection as the major concession and it is up to President Kennedy to pledge that the United States will not invade Cuba.

The firm U.S. attitude in the crisis was demonstrated further in Washington with the statement by a spokesman for the U.S. State Department that any buildup of offensive naval facilities in Cuba would be regarded as a threat to the Western Hemisphere.

Baer Resigns USG Seat; Congress Passes 9 Bills

By JOAN HARTMAN and MEL AXILBUND

Barbara Baer (Simmons-McElwain) resigned her seat on the Undergraduate Student Government Congress last night.

In a letter to USG President Dean Wharton, Miss Baer said she was withdrawing from the University for personal reasons. This, she continued, necessarily terminated her membership on Congress.

WHARTON SAID Congress would miss the services of an "able congresswoman" and that he accepted her resignation with the "deepest regret."

A special election to fill Miss

Baer's seat will be held within the next two weeks.

At its meeting, Congress established a committee to study and evaluate the Senate Rules and Regulations. Six congressmen were immediately appointed to the committee by USG Vice President Morris Baker.

Harry Grace (town), the bill's sponsor, was named temporary chairman.

After the meeting, Grace said the committee would look at the regulations individually, considering their merits and implications.

Another of the nine bills passed by Congress asks that the Artists Series Committee require persons presenting student tickets to show matriculation cards also for admission to the programs.

In one of two bills adopted concerning The Daily Collegian, Michael Dzvoni (fraternity) proposed that USG strongly recommend that congressmen be permitted to write articles interpreting USG action for the paper. The bill further recommended that a periodic column be established for this purpose.

Ann Palmer, editor of The Daily Collegian, said last night the question of a column for USG had been considered earlier in the year by the paper's Board of Editors.

AT THAT TIME, it was felt there is now adequate opportunity on the newspaper and in the Letters to the Editor section for congressmen to express their views on any bill or issue, she said.

The other bill concerning The Daily Collegian asked the paper to devote a periodic feature column to the University's outstanding alumni.

Miss Palmer felt that a feature of this type is a fine idea and said that she would be happy to accept any information collected by USG on the subject.

Warm, Sunny Weather Expected in Area Today

Much warmer weather is expected under mostly sunny skies today as Pennsylvania comes under the influence of a southerly flow of unseasonably mild air.

The mercury is expected to reach 55 degrees this afternoon. A high of 56 is forecast for tomorrow.

A minimum temperature of 35 degrees is expected tonight.

Six to Represent Town Area on USG

Town area will have six representatives on the Undergraduate Student Government Congress this year, George Jackson, Elections Commission chairman, said yesterday.

Official Department of Housing figures show town area, which includes commuting students and students living in trailers and private off-campus residences, has a population of 3,209. The area is entitled to one congressman for each 500 students.

Bert Kapinus and Allan Wolf, write-in candidates in the fall congressional election, would have been the seventh and eighth congressmen if the area was entitled to additional representatives.

Kapinus and Wolf have been participating in congressional meetings since the election. They have not voted, however.

Late Permission Granted For Thanksgiving Eve

By PEGGY RUSH

Women students will have 1 a.m. permissions on Nov. 21, the night before Thanksgiving, but will not have traveling 1 a.m. permissions on Thanksgiving Day.

THE ASSOCIATION of Women Students Senate voted against 1 a.m. permissions for both Wednesday and Thursday nights because it would necessitate that the residence hall staffs be on duty until 1 a.m. five nights in succession.

Coeds will have regular weekend hours and traveling permissions on Sunday night.

In other business, the Senate voted to recommend to Peter Lockhart, Undergraduate Student Government Spring Week chairman, that Spring Week events for this year include a music festival under the sponsorship of the Interfraternity Council and the Panhellenic Council and a float parade under the co-ordination of all participating groups.

Groups participating in the float parade, tentatively, would include IFC, Panhel, AWS, Men's Residence Council and Town Independent Men's Council.

A meeting was held Monday night for representatives of IFC, Panhel, USG, TIM, MRC and AWS at which possibilities for Spring Week events were discussed. At this meeting, there was a question on whether a music festival would be sponsored by USG as part of Spring Week or held during Spring Week under the sponsorship of IFC and Panhel.

REPRESENTATIVES at this meeting were asked to ascertain the feelings of their groups as to the events they would like for Spring Week, when each should be held and under whose sponsorship.

In appointments, Linda Mulliken (7th-physical education-Pelham, N.Y.) was named AWS Library chairman and Barbara Faris (7th-journalism-Boalsburg) was named commuting students' chairman with Margaret Umberger (1st-liberal arts-State College) assistant chairman.

'Core' College Plan Outlined by Rackley

By SANDY REABUCK

A proposal for a core college with an academic outlook was outlined by John R. Rackley, vice president for resident education, last night.

Rackley's talk was sponsored by the East Halls Men's Residence Council and the area Association of Women Student's Council.

THE CORE COLLEGE would make the arts and sciences equal with the professional and vocational colleges which have been stressed at the University, Rackley said.

The core college will contain three colleges, the College of Arts and Architecture, the College of Humanities and Social Sciences, and the College of Biological and Physical Sciences, Rackley explained.

One change, the College of Arts and Architecture, has already been completed, the rest are in the discussion stage now, he said.

Rackley said the other three proposals have been approved by President Eric A. Walker to be submitted for the faculty's approval. Once the plans have been approved by the faculty, the administration will then make a recommendation for the change to the Board of Trustees.

The new College of Arts and Architecture will officially go into effect at the beginning of the winter term.

The College of Humanities and Social Sciences would include all the departments in the present liberal arts college, with the exception of mathematics, he said.

However, economics, psychology and geography would be added to the proposed college, Rackley said.

Mathematics, zoology and botany would be included in the College of Biological and Physical Sciences as well as subjects related to this area.

With the removal of zoology and botany, the College of Agriculture would become stronger in the agricultural fields, he pointed out.

RACKLEY SAID this plan was being proposed as the University needs a simplicity of organization which can accommodate students from the freshman to the graduate level.

With the new plan, a better organization will exist at the University that will be needed by 1970 when 25,000 students will be on campus whereas there are now 15,000 plus here, he said.

Pitt Announces Campus Plans In Johnstown

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—The University of Pittsburgh announced last night plans to build a new $8 million campus for its Johnstown center.

Chancellor Edward H. Litchfield told a dinner meeting the campus will be built on a 136-acre tract between Johnstown and Windber.

He said plans call for the erection of a large classroom and laboratory building, dormitories, a library, facilities for faculty members and athletic fields.

A fund drive, Litchfield said, will soon begin to raise the first $1.2 million. The University, he said, has applied for a $2.2 million federal loan to build dormitories.

Construction will be spread over a three-year period, Litchfield said, and the initial fund drive will be to raise money for the classroom and laboratory building.

The present Johnstown center is located in a rented school building and offers undergraduate classes in the liberal arts and engineering fields.

LA Profs Get Thanksgiving Memo

A memo issued to the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts reads, "No classes may be dismissed on the Wednesday, Friday and Saturday preceding and following Thanksgiving."

The statement was approved as policy by the Administrative Committee of the College of the Liberal Arts early this month. The memo was issued by Richard C. Maloney, associate dean of the college.

THE MEMO went on to explain that this is a very strict University and College policy. The faculty members were requested to report the number of absences that occur during those particular days.

The memo said that, "If only a few instructors are lax about this, a general uneasy rebelliousness is easily generated across campus." Instructors were also told that under no circumstances should they, themselves miss the classes. In case of a sudden illness, they were told to be sure to inform their department head so that arrangements could be made for a substitute instructor.

THEY WERE ALSO advised to "arrange for a kind of work to be done in classes those days that would provide a special incentive for all students to be present."

The memo said instructors may find it helpful to remind their students that this is a University regulation, not their's personally and that in one week they will be going home for a month.