

Sounds of Jazz Fill Schwab

By CLAUDIA LEVY

The beat of basanova and modern jazz filled Schwab Sunday night when Lambert, Hendricks and Bavan appeared in a Jazz Club-sponsored concert that featured trio standards as well as original composition.

Dubbed "the hottest vocal group in jazz" by critic Ralph Gleason of the San Francisco Chronicle, the trio presented a program which included some of its more well-known numbers such as "Cloudburst" and "Gimmie That Wine" plus recent compositions of John Hendricks, one of the members of the group.

"Slightly Out of Tune," a Hendricks solo and original, combined the basanova rhythm improved last year from Brazil with English lyrics. The end product was a love song in a blues style. Another notable blues number was "Melba Blues."

THE TRIO, which has appeared at almost every major jazz festival held this year, made its first appearance on campus Sunday night. Praised highly at every turn, at the 1961 Monterey Jazz Festival, California jazz critic, Herb Caen said of the group's performance: "This remarkable trio all but stole the show."

Formerly known as Lambert Hendricks and Ross, the group added Yolande Bavan last year when Annie Ross decided to renew her stage career in England.

Miss Bavan, a native of Ceylon, adds a different element to the trio's act by her singing as well as stage presence. Her hands move during each number in the manner of the Balinese dancer and her English, which she has spoken since the age of three, is clear and easily understood.

HER FIRST exposure to jazz came through American jazz broadcasts, particularly through those of The Voice of America's Willis Conover. Miss Bavan later toured with Conover and has drawn rave notices for her appearances with the trio at college concerts and clubs such as the Sutherland Lounge in Chicago and the Jazz Gallery in New York.

John Hendricks, in addition to being a singer and lyricist, is an expert drummer, short-story writer and poet. Hendricks is credited with many of the trio's lyrics.

Application Deadline Set

The deadline for filing applications for Christmas employment through the office of student aid, 218 Willard, is Nov. 28. Ralph N. Krecker, director of student aid, announced yesterday.

Subcommittee Disciplines Two For Shoplifting, Illegal Entry

One student was dismissed from the University and another placed on disciplinary probation by the Senate Subcommittee on Discipline at its meeting last week, Daniel R. Leasure, assistant dean of men, said yesterday.

Leasure said a second term student in the College of Liberal Arts was dismissed after he was found guilty of shoplifting items from several State College stores.

DISMISSAL involves indefinite suspension of a student from the University. In addition, a notation is made on the student's transcript and a letter is sent to his parents concerning the action. Readmission must be approved by President Eric A. Walker upon recommendation of the dean of the student's college.

The student's penalty was severe, Leasure said, because he had previously been suspended for drinking and disorderly conduct in the borough. He was reinstated from that suspension this fall, Leasure said.

Suspension involves temporary removal from the University for a specific length of time, usually a term, Leasure said.

IN THE SECOND case, Leasure said a first term student in the College of Home Economics was placed on disciplinary probation until the end of the winter term, 1963, for illegally entering an automobile on campus. The automobile did not belong to the student, Leasure said.
