

Soviets Reject Inspection Again

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union offered yesterday to halt all nuclear weapons tests by the end of the year but rejected the international inspection arrangements demanded by the West.

The East-West impasse developed at the resumption of the 17-nation disarmament conference which heard a message from President Kennedy expressing hope that the new round of negotiations will end "the upward spiral of weapons competition."

"IT IS CLEAR that a renewed and immediate effort must be made to halt the constantly increasing tempo of the arms race if there is to be assurance of a lessening of the danger of war," said the Kennedy statement, read by U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean.

Among initial measures, the President said, "We believe high priority should be given to the conclusion of an effective agreement which would end once and for all tests of nuclear weapons."

"THE UNITED STATES has completed its recent series of atmospheric tests," Kennedy said.

"There is hope that the Soviet Union evidently will soon conclude its series of atmospheric tests. This suggests that a moment may be at hand to initiate the beginning of the end of the upward spiral of weapons competition. If so, the opportunity must not be lost."

Apparently with the Cuban crisis primarily in mind, Kennedy said, "The crucial developments within recent weeks have served to confirm both the need and the urgency of the task" before the conference.

Dean himself said the talks reopened under more hopeful auspices than the deadlock in which they adjourned 11 weeks ago.

"We have a moment in history favorable to a real beginning in the fulfillment of our responsibility," Dean said.
