U.N. Troops Gain Control of Katanga; Rules Committee Central Regime Rules Civil Affairs Fight Seen Won

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) - The United Nations' military takeover of Katanga rolled on yesterday and the Congo central government set up civil control over the secessionist province.

It was the first time Katanga President Moise Tshombe has been superseded politically in the capital of his mineral-rich do-

Swedish U.N. troops seized the railroad town of Kaniama, 360 miles northwest of Elizabethville, and neutralized its airfields without a fight, the United Nations announced.

THE ACTION tightened the U.N. grip on north Katanga and further boxed up Tshombe's bat-tered forces at Kolwezi, his emergency headquarters 150 miles northwest of Elizabethville.

propaganda broadside, the Soviet West Berlin just now. Communist party demanded vesterday that Red China and Albania stop attacking the Kremlin's policy of so-called peaceful coexistence.

An editorial covering nearly 21/2 pages of Pravda ended, however. with what sounded like a plea for an ideological peace conference.

"The Communist parties," said the party newspaper, "have a tested method of settling contentious issues by way of collective discussion. Our party has always advocated this method."

It came only a week before the leaders of the Communist world assemble in East Berlin for the sixth congress of the East German Communist party.

U.S. experts said yesterday they expect the growing Moscow-Peking rift to be a central issue at the Berlin Communist meeting.

Buttressing the assessment that the Moscow-Peking row will be a principal order of business at the East German party convention opening in East Berlin Jan. 15 is the rising tempo in the bloc-dividing public dispute.

Soviet and Red Chinese propaganda organs accused each other of betraying the Communist cause and playing into the hands of imperialism.

Although neither the Moscow newspaper Prayda nor the Chi-nese "Red Flag" magazine men-tioned the other side by name directly, in their rival editorials, it was clear who they were strik-

Strategists Feel Taxes May Be Cut by June

WASHINGTON (AP)-A tax cut on part of 1963 income is possible if the House can vote on the issue by June, highly placed strategists calculated yesterday.

The chances for a reduction involving 1963 income, which President Kennedy is expected to ask, were not rated exceptionally high by congressional sources closest Katanga to secure economic and political victories for the central Congolese government.

There seemed little choice for Tshombe but to accept defeat and console himself with a measure of power as a provincial leader or to fight a guerrilla war that few believe he could win.

DIPLOMATIC informants told AP correspondent Dennis Neeld in Elizabethville, the Katanga capital, that the United Nations probably will present Tshombe an ultimatum demanding that he surrender Kolwczi without a fight. Secretary General U Thant has made clear through a New York spokesman that he now wants action, not words, from Tshombe toward making effective Thant's plans for reunification.

Robena Miner Blasts Conditions

CARMICHAELS, Pa. (AP) - A mine worker, in a dramatic out-burst yesterday, told investigators of a coal mine explosion which killed 37 men that safety conditions at the stricken Robena No. 3 mine were neglected except when inspectors were due to visit.

Testifying in the fourth day of a public hearing at nearby Garards Fort, Joseph Baron, a shuttle-car operator in the U.S. Steel Corp.'s nearby Robena coal-mine complex, said the only time Shuttle-car roadways are spiked to hold down coal dust is "when the inspectors are coming."

IN ANSWER to questions, Baron said that when it is known that inspectors are coming "they rockdust thoroughly, sprinkle the roadways with water, and make sure all the proper seals are on the machinery.

Safety control by supervisory personnel inside the mine was 'nothing but a big joke," he said in answer to questions.

Baron also added some support to the testimony of miners who said earlier that methane gas was found in the Robena No. 3 mine the day before the Dec. 6 blast, contradicting testimony by an assistant foreman.

Fred Spoljarich, operator of a continuous mining machine, testifying Saturday and again yesterday, said he had detected gas and reported it.

Air Defense Penefration Denied

LONDON (AP)—Strong denials | shield II in October of 1961. in London and Washington of published reports that British bombers pierced North American de-fenses in mock H-bomb attacks, two months ago raised some questions yesterday.

Did Britain's high-flying, swift Vulcan bombers actually break through in the big North American defense drills of 1961, whose results remain secret?

And were the stories of the Vulcan's reputed successes, splashed in four London newspapers designed to bolster the argument that the Skybolt missile, abandoned by the United States, might still be a weapon in the nuclear arsenal?

The Vulcan was to carry the Skybolt in Britain's nuclear deterrent force before the United States decided to drop development of the air-to-ground missile.

ALONG WITH the Defense Department, the British Air Ministry denied the newspaper reports that four of the delta-winged Vulcan bombers slipped through the North American defenses two months ago and flew over New York, Washington, Chicago and Los Angeles,

However, an Air Ministry spokesman did say that the Vulcans took part in Operation SkyU.S. and Canadian planes also participated in Skyshield II, an exercise designed to test the defensive system of the North American continent, including the radar network.

ITS RESULTS never have been made public. Informants pointed out that detailed results of such war games constitute important defense secrets.

If British planes made a major penetration in 1961 their action would tend to bolster two controversial strategic concepts, it was said. These are:

That there are many years of useful life ahead for the manned jet bombers as a delivery vehicle for the nuclear deterrent.

 And that Skybolt also has a future if its guidance and other problems could be worked out. U.S. sources rejected the suggestion that rethinking might be necessary on the manned bomber and Skybolt questions.
